Shaky Far West League May Bounce Back; Gems Consider WI Franchise

Where is the Far West league heading? Will it fold after this season or will the troubles that have beset the circuit for two years be ironed out somehow and the operation continue? Some important decisions along those lines will have to be made by League President Jerry Donovan and Far West backers immediately after the current season closes.

With Vallejo and Santa Rosa out, the wheel has just six spokes and undoubtedly will finish the season with the six teams now running. Finances—or lack of them—put out Vallejo and Santa Rosa, lack of finances and the fact that the California bay area is already too overloaded with baseball of one sort or another to permit a class D league to operate successfully.

Pittsburg, with the best club in the league, draws medium well at home but that city probably would not support a so-so club. Mayor Vince Davi poured plenty of money into the Diamonds to get a winner this year and try to establish the Far West league in his town.

Marysville's Braves, with the twin cities of Marysville and Yuba City to draw from, have had a tough time, but things have been looking up down there recently. The turning point came when the Braves defeated a strong semi-pro team 10-0 to demonstrate to fans which breed played the best ball. Since that game about a months ago the Braves have drawn better and played better ball themselves.

Willows, with very little population, is a hot baseball town but all the enthusiasm doesn't make up for the deficiency in numbers. The Cardinals have been purchased by townspeople and apparently intend to stay in the circuit.

The three strongest points in the league are Klamath Falls—strongest in attendance by all odds—Medford and Redding. The latter city supports a winner well and is a cinch to remain in the league if the league itself stays in operation. Medford, even with this year's last place club, is drawing well enough to be hopeful. Klamath Falls, with over 45,000 attendance already through the turnstiles, actually is the backbone of the circuit and consequently will hold most of the aces in any reorganization.

Donovan hopes to return the circuit to eight clubs for next season, mentioning Bend, Roseburg and Grants Pass in Oregon and Reno in Nevada as possible members. Reno reportedly has made overtures to pull out of the Sunset league because of travel distances and move into the Far West. Crescent City and Eureka on the California coast are also mentioned as possible Far West sites.

* * * *

ANOTHER FACET OF THE EVER-CHANGING picture is that Klamath Falls has some chance of going into the class B Western International league.

A franchise (Bremerton) in the WI is on the market and that league has been favorably impressed by the crowds and baseball enthusiasm here. The catch, of course, is the fact that the franchise and player contracts going with it may cost $35,000 or more. Can that amount of money be raised here on short notice?

One way or another, professional baseball is made in Klamath Falls so long as there is a league around to play in. But if the Far West league keeps operating, it would hardly be fair for Klamath Falls to pull out and upset baseball investments in other towns without finding a suitable replacement.

* * * *

THE PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES ARE coming to realize they are hooked up with the best small baseball town on the Pacific slope in Klamath Falls and no doubt will be happy enough to renew their working agreement with the Gems next year and as long as the Gems want it. The agreement, in effect, gives Klamath Falls the services of Don McShane to scout out rookies, sends others on season-long option and in return gives the Phils first crack at buying up to five Gems at the end of the season.

The Phils at present have Niles Jordan, Johnny Lopeman, Ralph Mohler and Morrie Nordell here on option and probably will purchase Pinky Hesse, Butch Faller and another player or two when the season is over. Bob Cassell, sure to go up, belongs to the Boston Red Sox system. Gordon Hernandez probably will move up also, and with those players gone the Gems will have to start from scratch again next year.

Sacs Could Close Gap

Suds Bounce Twinks Twice; Solons Meet Anemic Los Angeles

By The Associated Press

Sacramento has a chance to close the gap on Hollywood tonight at the expense of the dismantled Los Angeles Angels in Monday's only Pacific coast league attraction.

For the Solons, currently tied with Oakland for second place, this is a tailored-to-measure opportunity. The Angels, for some unexplained reason, have sold most of their better talent, until now they're as vulnerable as pie on the window sill.

The Seraphs left for Sacramento last night after dropping both games of a Sunday doubleheader to San Diego, 6 to 4 and 7 to 4. They booted the first one on errors, then dropped the abbreviated nightcap when San Diego's Orestes Minoso homered with two on in the extra inning. The Padres took the series, 5 to 2.

Sacramento, meanwhile, split with San Francisco, winning the opener, 2 to 1, but losing the finale, 3 to 2. The Seals took the series, 6 to 2, but the split enabled the Sacs to gain a full game on Hollywood, which lost two to Seattle. Sacramento and Oakland are six games behind Hollywood.

The Rainiers, who show signs of getting hot again, cut through the league leaders like a blowtorch in the second game, winning it by the sepuchral margin of 14 to 2. Home runs by Jackie Albright and Bill Schuster, Los Angeles castoff, featured the assault. Seattle took the seven inning opener, 3 to 1, and the series, 6 to 1.

Like Sacramento, Oakland also split its Sunday twin bill. Portland iced the opener on a masterful 1 to 0 shutout by Hal Saltzman. The Acorns bounced back for a 3 to 1 victory in the afterpiece and a 5 to 4 edge in the series.

On Monday it's Bob Gillespie on the mound for Sacramento with Bob Kelly probably starting for Los Angeles. And the Angels will probably play without the services of Infielder Bobby Rhawn, dealt to them by the White Sox in the Johnny Ostrowski deal. Rhawn failed to show up yesterday as advertised.

The other clubs resume action Tuesday.

Suspension

One Round Tank Job?

PORTLAND Aug 8 (AP)—Al Moore, Oakland, Calif., lightweight, was under an indefinite suspension today for a boxing match in which he went down for the count in the first round.

The Portland boxing commission ordered the suspension after hearing testimony from Moore's opponent and the referee in last Tuesday's fight.

Don Rogers, Portland, testified that he thought he had hit Moore hard enough to drop him, but was not sure that the blow had been stiff enough for a knockout.

Referee Eddie Volk seconded the statement and added that Moore seemed frightened from the opening of the scheduled 10-round event.

The boxing commission permitted Moore, however, to take his share of the purse, which had been ordered held up immediately after the lackluster fight.

Hillsboro In Finals

ALBANY, Aug. 8 (AP)—Hillsboro lined up today in a final berth for the Oregon American Legion junior baseball title while one-time losers Vale and Byerly's of Portland play for the other berth.

Hillsboro came from behind last night to defeat the Byerly's, 7 to 6, after winning an opening round game over Vale, 4 to 2, Saturday night. Drain, after losing a first game to the Byerly's, 3 to 2, succumbed to Vale, 4 to 3, last night and dropped from the playoff.

The final will be Tuesday with a second game that night if necessary to determine the state entry in the regional tourney slated to open Friday in Portland.

NW Champ Inks For Marino Bout

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 8 (CP) Stan Almond, hard punching Pacific Northwest bantamweight champion, signed last week for a 10-round bout with Dado Marino, colorful Honolulu flyweight.

The Vancouver kayo artist will meet the ranking contender for Rinty Monaghan's flyweight crown August 18 in the forum here.

Marino won his first Vancouver start Thursday night by giving veteran Jackie Turner, recently dethroned Pacific Northwest bantamweight king, a 10-round lacing.

Brooks Blast Reds Twice To Tie Loop Lead

Bum Homers Turn Twin Trick; N. Y. St. Louis Victim

By The Associated Press

Here they come down the stretch with St. Louis and Brooklyn neck and neck in the National league race and 52 games to go.

Brooklyn, which moved into a first place tie by twice dumping Cincinnati while St. Louis was winning a single from New York, may have a slight edge in the schedule. The Brooks have 28 home games left while the Cards must play 28 on the road.

In the easy pickin' department, St. Louis has all the better of it. The Cards have 30 games with Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Chicago, the last three teams in the standings, although the Pirates have been tough for them all year. Brooklyn plays a total of 16 with the sixth, seventh and eighth place clubs.

The six big games between the Cards and Brooks may decide the issue but it's more likely that it will go down to the wire in late September.

Cincinnati, loser 14 of 18 starts against Brooklyn, was the stepping stone for Burt Shotton's men to regain a piece of first place. Joe Hatten shut out the Reds in the opener 7-0 and came on to work the last 1 2/3 innings of the 2-1 second game when Rex Barney got into trouble.

CIRCUIT CLOUTS

Homers by Bruce Edwards and Jackie Robinson in the first game and by Spider Jorgensen in the second drove in eight of the nine Dodger runs. Edwards bashed his with the bases loaded in the sixth.

George (Red) Munger got the Cards back on the win path as he stopped New York with seven hits, 9-2.

Boston broke a five-game losing streak by trampling Chicago, 11-0 on Bill Voiselle's seven-hitter but fell back into its tailspin in losing the second game in 10 innings, 4-3.

Dick Sisler helped the Phillies to a double triumph over Pittsburgh with a three-run pinch homer in the ninth inning to take the second game, 5-4, after the Phils won the opener, 7-3.

The New York Yankees continued to fatten their American league lead at the expense of the St. Louis Browns although they had to be satisfied with a 2-2 tie in the second game. They smothered the cellar club, 20-2, in the opener. When darkness halted the finale at the end of 10 innings, the Yanks had only two hits off Al Papai.

YANKS HOLD LEAD

The Yanks now lead by 5½ games. They are 6½ games out front of Boston whose seven game winning streak was broken by Detroit, 6-4.

Cleveland's hopes took a double jolt from the A's with Elmer Valo and Mike Guerra dealing out the stiffest punches. Guerra's three-run homer and fine relief pitching by Charley Harris saved Lou Brissie's 11th win, 5-4, in the first game. Guerra's two-run single enabled Joe Coleman to grab victory No. 10 from Al Benton in the second 4-2.

Art Houtteman celebrated his 22nd birthday by pitching Detroit to a 6-4 edge over the Red Sox, defeating Maurice McDermott, the sensational rookie southpaw. The Sox nicked Houtteman for 12 hits, including the 27th home runs by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens.

Dom DiMaggio bunted safely in the first inning, running his hitting streak to 34 consecutive games.

Chicago split a pair with Washington, the White Sox taking the opener, 4-1 on Randy Gumpert's eight-hit pitching, and the Senators breaking a seven-game losing string to cop the second, 1-0 behind Rookie Lloyd Hittle.

Softball Clincher

The county league softball champion will be decided tonight—and it will take two games to tell the story.

Merrill Billiards and the Eagles, knotted for first place in league standings, figure in the deciding tilts.

The Bills must play in both games. They meet Calhoun's, a tough test, in the 7:30 opener at Merrill and clash with the Eagles in the nightcap.

The Eagles boast a 8-0 won-lost record, while the Billiards have won seven against no defeats.

Banks Goes Into Finals

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP)— The surprising team from Banks vaulted to Wednesday's state semi-pro baseball tournament final by posting a fifth consecutive victory last night.

Banks' Manager Lenore Lyda allowed but one hit in hurling his team to a 4 to 2 win over previously unbeaten Reedsport.

Fighting it out for the other berth tonight and tomorrow will be the defending champions of Albany and the Portland reliance and Albina fuel teams.

Albany got a five run inning off Chuck Sauvain to start the rout of Silverton, winning 7 to 3 and edging the losers from the play. Reliance dumped Verboort, 3 to 1, and Albina did the same to Willamette by winning, 3 to 2, in eight innings.

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP) — A baseball traffic jam has switched the locale of the Washington-Oregon semi-pro baseball title playoff from Portland to Bellingham.

Ray Brooks, Oregon semi-pro commissioner, said a conflict with the Northwest American Legion junior baseball tournament was responsible for the shift.

The two state champions will meet in the Northwest Washington city Aug. 13-14 in the best-of-three series. The winner goes to the national tournament. Bellingham is the Washington titleholder; Oregon's will be determined Wednesday.

Doris Hart Story

Plucky Florida Gal Ready To Do Own Operating At Nets

NEW YORK — (NEA) — They've been operating on Doris Hart ever since she was two years old, but at last she's ready to start operating on her own.

For the first time she can remember, the Florida tennis star is launching a grass-court singles campaign with nothing to worry about except her opponents.

Three operations on her right eye, the last one a complete success, have given her normal vision, fresh confidence and high hopes of ending the Brough-duPont regime now in its third straight year.

The story of Miss Hart, who eliminated National Champion Margaret duPont, 6-2, 6-3, in the semi-finals of the Maidstone invitation tournament at Easthampton, L. I., only to lose to Miss Louise Brough, 6-1, 7-5, in the final, is one of a constant and winning fight against physical handicaps.

Her troubles began when she was just learning to walk in Miami. She banged her knee into a clothes pole and ensuing infection almost cost her the use of her right leg. A major operation and a year of massaging were necessary before she walked again.

When she was 10 she underwent an operation for double hernia.

Her hospital room overlooked some tennis courts, so she decided to take up the game to strengthen her semi-crippled leg.

Her brother Bud presented her with her first racquet when she left the hospital.

That was the beginning of Doris' astonishing career on the courts.

But her hoodoo wasn't licked yet.

Her eyes began to bother her, forcing her to play with glasses.

It was no use. The eyes became red and puffy, and finally a growth developed in the right eye, putting a film across it.

Doris cancelled her 1949 European plans and wearily returned to the hospital.

"But that's all over now," she said.

"I don't know what can happen next, but being able to see without strain will help me. I'll play the complete circuit from here on."

Despite her many ailments, Doris has been a first-tenner seven years in a row.

At the moment she's number three behind Mrs. Margaret duPont and Louise Brough, a spot she held twice before. She gained her ranking although upset by Gussie Moran in the national quarter-finals last year.

Now 24, Miss Hart makes her home in Jacksonville where her father bosses the dog track mutuels. The whole state of Florida is solidly behind her.

If she comes through in the women's national singles at Forest Hills, August 29-September 5, it will be the most popular victory in racquet history.

Gems Nab First Of Card Series

WILLOWS, Aug. 8 (Special) — The Klamath Falls Gems pounced on Pitcher Lonnie Ford for five runs in the top of the first inning here last night and went on to defeat the Willows Cardinals 11-8 in the first of a two-game series.

The Cardinals made five runs in their half of the second but Ken Jensen had homered with nobody on in the Gems' part of the second so the Willows outburst still left them trailing 6-5. The Gems picked up a couple more runs for margin in the fourth and each club scored three times in the waning frames.

Chuck Schildmeyer started on the hill for the Gems but was the victim of the five-run splash in the second, giving up a walk and five baseshits. The latter included a homer by Bill Bryant with one on. Johnny Lopeman relieved at that moment and was credited with his 14th win of the season.

Over the week-end the Pittsburg Diamonds added more padding to their Far West league lead. The Diamonds topped Marysville 6-4 and 1-0 in a Saturday night twin bill, then drubbed Redding 10-5 Sunday. The Klamath Falls club clouted Medford 14-6 Saturday night but still lost half a game to the Diamonds over the week-end.

Saturday Willows beat Redding 10-5 and yesterday Marysville took Medford 6-2.
