Answer to Previous Puzzle

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Passengers on the United Airlines' flight from Denver to Cheyenne have noticed a train far below them winking its big headlights in the night. Passengers on the 8:15 p. m. Colorado and Southern between the same two towns have on more than one occasion spotted the huge airplane flying parallel to the track, systematically blinking the lights on its wings. This has been going on for three years now.

The engineer of the train and the pilot of the plane are father and son. The blink-blink of the lights is 64-year-old Clarence Chapman's way of saying "How're you, boy?" to his airborne son, 31-year-old Capt. Leroy Chapman.

Occasionally the senior Chapman fancies-up his nocturnal hello by lighting a red railroad flare and holding it out the window of his cab. "I'm right proud of my boy," Clarence says. "And I just like him to know the old man's still up and around and on the job."

An annual output of 1,500,000 bicycles is credited to British cycle manufacturers in normal times.

Cat Knows Best When Weather Hot

CHICAGO (AP)—During a heat wave a kitten squirmed into a narrow space between two buildings in suburban Glen Ellyn. Its cries attracted a crowd. When all else failed, a fireman extricated the cat with a hook attached to a long pole. Two days later the kitten was back in the same trap. A police man, using the same tool, fished it out again. But within 48 hours it was in the tight spot again. Chief of Police Lee Brereton made a personal survey of the situation. He peered in the small opening, felt a cool breeze on his face and called off rescue work. The kitten, he decided, was in the most comfortable place in the neighborhood.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Polio Symptoms Differ

The most important step in combating poliomyelitis is to make the diagnosis as soon as possible so that treatment can be begun promptly. This is particularly difficult because the first symptoms often resemble those of an ordinary cold or mild infection. Paralysis does not set in for several days as a rule.

No two patients who contract polio show exactly the same symptoms. The best results from treatment, therefore, require judgment, skill and experience in order to choose those methods best suited to the particular victim. Not only is medical care important, but good nursing, physical therapy and other treatments are necessary to get the best results.

Hospitals Well Equipped Many hospitals are now well equipped to handle patients with polio. Much of this has been made possible by the funds made available to them through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to which so many generous-hearted citizens throughout the country have contributed.

The muscular paralysis which comes on after the first few days of the disease is accompanied by painful muscle spasms. These can be greatly relieved by hot wet packs, properly applied and by nursing care. The skin tenderness which is also so common is also helped by such treatments.

At the time when the disease is acute every effort has to be made to keep the muscles in the best possible condition so that they will respond to the later treatments and training. Bed rest is, needless to say, important as are the other measures like plenty of fluids, which are used for any infectious disease.

Medical science is constantly investigating the methods of treatment used for polio and trying to devise better ones. Several drugs and many other methods have a place in the treatment of the acute illness. As yet, however, a sure cure

Baird has been without a county health doctor for some time. The new district will share a doctor and have headquarters in both Baker and LaGrande, Judge Baird said.

These telephone men will soon make a damaged long distance cable carry calls again. Come along and see how it's done.

THEY GET GOING FAST WHEN TROUBLE STRIKES Telephone repairmen's big job is keeping your calls moving

1. When someone's ditch-digger bites a chunk out of a long distance cable—and it happens now and then—repairmen get on the job fast to fix it. Back at a test center, sensitive instruments located the break and splicers hit the road. Almost simultaneously, many long distance calls carried by the cable were routed around through other cities, over different cables, to get them through with as little delay as possible.

2. Service restored... the hundreds of tiny severed wires have been spliced temporarily and, even as the workmen stow their tools, calls are again speeding through the cable. Later it will be permanently spliced without interrupting service. Such fast repairs are made possible by planning ahead for emergencies, so trained people can be pulled from other jobs on short notice... part of furnishing reliable service to you.

3. A warm "hello" from the folks back East means a lot—and we make sure you can talk to them whenever you wish. Keeping service reliable makes your telephone a more valuable servant—just as keeping rates as low as possible makes service a bargain today. A local call still costs just a few pennies... and you can call New York or anywhere on the East Coast at day station rates for only $2.50 plus Federal tax.
