Fads & Fancies

Pantomime smile expressions go fine at the seashore for Louise Snyder and Mara Lynn as they frolic in their latest of beach costumes. Some of you this probably do not believe that they can sound like really menacing aggressors when they play their roles on the MBS Sunday afternoon "House of Mystery" broadcasts. But listen people—they do.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton (For Hugh Fullerton Jr.) NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—From the looks of things you'd expect Uncle Sam to be worried about his tennis-playing nephews. Our international white pants brigade is beginning to show frays around the edges.

The country's best amateur, Ted Schroeder, indicates he'll quit chasing the pellet after this year to tend his west coast refrigeration business.

Gardnar Mulloy is 34. Frank Parker is 33. Billy Talbert is 30. These principal defenders of the Davis cup are "old men" as job and drop-shot specialists go.

The national champion, 21-year-old Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, has been something short of a ball-of-fire since he surprised by wading through the field a year ago at Forest Hills.

But don't worry about the Davis cup getting away anytime soon, comforts Alrich Man, non-playing captain of the U.S. team.

"We would miss Schroeder, naturally, or any of the other old re-labes," Man said, "but our tennis future is far from bleak.

"These are future cup material, so you see our assembly line hasn't been idle."

While reporting the U. S. won't lack for talent, Man did not underestimate the opposition. "Australia and South Africa are going to be particularly tough in the next few years," he predicted.

Ed Danforth, Atlanta Journal: "Clark Griffith, 79-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, says his farm system will have the senators in the pennant race by 1951.

Cleveland Pilot Lou Boudreau is booming Casey Stengel of the Yankees for "manager of the year."

Jaroslav Drobný, the Czech without a country, has written tennis friends he will arrive here August 11. . . . Frank Stoughtness, president of the International League, explains the success of Jackie Robinson, Larry Doby and other Negro stars in baseball this way: They recognize the challenge and are trying a bit harder than the rest. . . . Gambling on baseball has reached such proportions that now the diamond addict demands more than the names and Big Bargain The entire town of Burnhaven, Scotland, with 33 buildings and the land on which they stand, was offered for sale in 1932 for only $300.

Bottom Of List NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The $2,500,000 anti-trust suits of Max Lanier and Fred Martin against organized baseball were placed at the foot of the November calendar by Federal Judge William Bondy yesterday.

Mansey said he had raised the dog from a pup at Adak, in the Aleutians, and wanted it with him on his 60-day leave.

Ray H. Hines, director of the pound, said Massey retrieved his pet today by apologizing for his invasion of the pens, paying its board bill and buying a collar and license.

Mansey told Hines there was only one remaining hurdle to his departure for good of Brooklyn: He had an appointment with his commanding officer to talk over the whole escapade.

HEAP BIG INJUN—Four-year-old Alvin "Ompaw" Ray, complete with sour expression and war paint, puts the finishing touches on an ice cream bar at the Indian village exhibition at the Chicago Railroad fair. Alvin is hot, tired of visitors staring at him—and besides, the ice cream man won't be around again for quite a while.

TAKING OVER TOKYO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Vice Adm. Charles T. Joy is expected in Japan late this month to take over command of U. S. naval forces in the Far East.

American Legion Teams Scuffle

PORTLAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—American Legion junior baseball champions from four states and Hawaii converge on Portland today for tomorrow's opening of the regional diamond meet.

The title winners include Bremerton, Wash.; Lewiston, Idaho; Butte, Mont.; Hillsboro, Ore., and Wapahu, T. H.

The winner at Portland will enter the western region meet at Yakima.

Jessie Totton Smacks Homer

Three games of the girls softball league are scheduled for tonight.

At Merrill the VPW squad takes on the Teen-Agers, at Altamont while Chloquain plays the Heabins and at Roosevelt the Sparkies play the Patriots.

Tuesday night the Sparkies, with Dorothy Biggan pitching, defeated Merrill VPW 18-3. Jessie Totton homered for the winners. On Sunday a previous tie game between the Sparkies and VPW will be played off.

German Girl Arrives In US

PORTLAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—An eight-year-old met her German born mother here yesterday after two years separation with "Mommie, don't speak German!"

Mrs. Russel Sturgis, married to an Oregon serviceman while he was stationed in Germany, came to the U. S. hurriedly—when the army had a plane seat for her—before she could get her daughter out of the Russian zone. The youngster has been learning to speak English in a New York school the past winter and then flew here to be reunited with the mother and stepfather.
