

Scientists Express Belief Many 'Polio' Cases May Be New, Non-Crippling Virus

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 16 (AP)—Yale scientists expressed belief today that a large number of cases diagnosed as poliomyelitis may actually be attributable to a new and apparently non-crippling virus.

Existence of the virus, first reported by the New York state department of health, was confirmed by the Yale researchers after a year's study.

Isolated during last summer's polio outbreak in Southern New England, North Carolina and Texas, the origin of the virus still is unknown and its means of transmission are obscure. But the Yale scientists reported that all infected persons who have come to their attention have recovered with no harmful after-effects.

A report of the Yale research was published today in the proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. Commenting on the report, Joseph L. Melnick, associate professor of microbiology, declared:

"It is believed this new virus was the cause of widespread illness last year during the poliomyelitis season. Last year there were about 25,000 cases in the United States which were reported as poliomyelitis, the largest number since 1916.

"On the basis of this research at Yale, it is believed a sizeable percentage of these cases may have been falsely diagnosed as poliomyelitis and were actually attributable to this new virus.

"We have reason to think this may be a fairly common disease, and with this new information, physicians, working in conjunction with virologists in various areas, may have available a valuable new tool for specific diagnosis."

Two New York scientists published the first description of the virus. They were Gilbert Dalldorf and Grace Sickles of the state health department at Albany.

Subsequent investigations showed patients with the virus had some of the symptoms usually associated with polio. The average length of illness runs about 10 days, and the disease is prevalent during the usual polio season. But it leaves no permanent injury.

During their investigations here two Yale men were accidentally infected. Both recovered.

New Fashions May Bring Us 'Wild' Women

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 16 (AP)—The wilds of Africa have invaded fashions.

Inspired by his recent trip to the dark continent, Adrian has designed a series of fashions that look like everything from costumes of native chieftains to cold, sleek cobras.

Tiger stripes and leopard spots dazzled the eye at Adrian's fall fashion showing yesterday.

One outfit, a sleek hooded suit of cobra-like material, with long tapering gloves, is startlingly reminiscent of the venomous reptile.

Another costume, dressed up with braid and tassels, looks like a funny-wuzzy native. Long fringe and braids make another look like an Indian princess' garb.

Unusual and tricky sleeves are used in Adrian's more conservative numbers. Cut-out shoulders, sleeves like angel's wings, sleeves like fans, and cape-effect sleeves are distinctive.

Deputy Sheriff Leaves For Reno

Deputy Sheriff Marion Barnes left for Reno at noon today to take into custody A. H. Steiner, charged here with larceny by bailer.

The deputy is traveling to Reno by bus and will return tomorrow, bringing back Steiner and also the U-drive car he is accused of taking. Steiner has waived extradition.

He reportedly rented the car last Thursday and when he had not returned the vehicle Monday the charge was placed against him by V. J. (Whitey) Goodwin, owner of the car and rental agency.

IOOF Slates Big Picnic Next Sunday

The Independent Order of Odd-fellows will hold a seven day picnic at the Sprague river recreation area, Sunday, August 21. Lakeview IOOF Lodge has invited Paisley, Merrill, Bonanza, and Klamath Falls, of Southern Oregon district, and Alturas and Cedarville of Northern California to participate in the all day affair.

This will be the second IOOF all day picnic held this year, the first one being held at Collier state park July 9 when Bonanza was the guest of the Merrill and Klamath Falls lodges.

Sprague river recreation area is located four miles east of Bly on the Lakeview highway. Oddfellows wives and Rebekahs are asked to bring their favorite potluck dish, and table service, and each lodge will furnish ice cream, pop and coffee for their members, and will pool the treats together at the picnic grounds.

It is understood from Herbert Munsell, secretary of Klamath lodge, each lodge is planning a surprise entertainment, and games are being planned for the youngsters. Since this is the first time in years the lodges from this district have combined efforts for an all day get-together, it is hoped a big turn out will be accounted for when they gather at the picnic table at 12:30 p. m.

Bus Workers Reject Last Pay Offer

SEATTLE, Aug. 16 (AP)—The nine-week-old strike against North Coast Greyhound Lines continued today as union headquarters announced logging of ten million feet of the company's latest offer.

Striking employees rejected the offer, submitted last week, by a vote of 349 to 19, the announcement said. Balloting was conducted by AFL Motor Coach Employers' union, local 1384, in Bellingham, Seattle, Auburn, Chehalis and Portland.

William G. Hsieh of the federal conciliation service scheduled another meeting today between company and union representatives. But union officials said that inasmuch as the company offer had been submitted to members at the request of acting Seattle Mayor David Levine, they would report back to him before holding further meetings.

Major concession in the company offer was a higher rate for most terminal workers, a union spokesman said. The deadlock on payment of drivers still continues, he said. The company wants to pay drivers by the mile, the union insists on continuing payment by the hour.

Senate Slows Debate Over Public Power

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The senate temporarily put aside its controversy over public power policy today.

Debate probably will be resumed Thursday, after the senate acts on resolutions disapproving two government reorganization plans proposed by President Truman.

Senators listened all day yesterday to pros and cons of the question whether public funds should be spent to build transmission lines for the distribution of public power.

The issue is presented in the $509,000,000 appropriations bill for the interior department. The senate appropriations committee recommended deletion of house-approved funds for certain transmission lines in the West, Southwest and Northwest.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okl.) addressed the senate nearly four hours in support of the committee amendments. He said consumers would get lower rates if the power is distributed by private utility companies.

Dissenters included Senators Kerr (D-Okl.), Hill (D-Ala.) and Murray (D-Mont.) All said failure to build government transmission lines would give private power companies a monopoly.

Thomas and Kerr spoke specifically on committee amendments reducing funds for the southwestern power administration from $9,000,000 approved by the house to $3,874,020.

Emil's Sixth Street To Open Friday

The opening of Emil's modern, streamlined food store, 4710 S. Sixth, is scheduled for Friday, owner Emil Albrecht announced today.

The store replaces Emil's Food store number 3, formerly located at 2220 S. Sixth.

The building is primarily of tile and stucco construction. The very latest equipment has been installed, Albrecht said.

A large parking lot, covering three sides of the store, will aid customers.

Store hours will be from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. weekdays and from 9 till 9 Sundays.

The structure is 80 feet by 125 feet. Construction was started late in April.

Czech Chamber Has Trouble

PRAGUE (AP)—A meeting of the Czechoslovak-British chamber of commerce decided to change its name from the Original Czechoslovak-British chamber of commerce to the British-Czechoslovak chamber of commerce.

That was the text of an announcement by the government press agency and there was no explanation why it took a month to come through government channels to be cleared for publication. In the interim, however, the nation's consular officials reported that, while various foreign chambers of commerce were maintained here for the promotion of foreign trade, the internal chambers of commerce had been liquidated as "enemies of the working class."

Copco Sells First Mortgage Bonds

A. C. Cummins, president of The Columbia Oregon Power company, announced today that the company has sold $7,000,000 in first mortgage bonds.

The bonds, series due August 1, 1979, were purchased to yield 2 1/2 per cent at $100.42 per bond by a group headed by Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc. The issue will be offered for sale this Wednesday at $101, to yield 2.82 per cent.

Proceeds from the sale, together with those from the recent sale of 250,000 shares of common stock, will be used to refund bank indebtedness and partially finance the company's construction program.

"NO DEPRESSION"

TORONTO, Canada, Aug. 16 (AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor said yesterday there was no depression in the United States.

It blamed "a good deal of the talk" of a business recession on a "deliberate propaganda campaign to clamp the brakes on wages."

The council, holding its quarterly meeting in this Ontario capital, urged however that congress prepare a backlog of public works to use in stemming regional depressions.

Seven Mile Timber Area Cutting Set

PORT KLAMATH, Aug. 16 (AP)—George Cleveland, local representative of the U. S. forest service started marking timber Monday afternoon on the Seven Mile division stand of timber owned by the Modoc Lumber company of Klamath Falls, in preparation for a crew of four sets of fallers to commence cutting this morning.

Harry Lewis, formerly with the Finney Logging company, incorporated, in its Seven Mile division operations, is in charge of the fallers.

Logging of ten million feet of timber has been contracted from the Modoc Lumber company by J. W. Fisher of Klamath Falls, who is at present finishing up a logging contract on the Greensprings, and expects to move his equipment here soon in order to start hauling about August 27.

Early this spring, the Finney Logging company sold out to the Modoc Lumber company and since that time there has been no logging in the Seven Mile area until this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Erickson have been staying at the logging camp, where Erickson has been employed as camp watchman and also in piling brush in the woods. Houses at the camp are being rented by the Modoc Lumber company to employees of J. W. Fisher.

Fisher and his brothers, Carl, Leonard and Thomas, are well-known in logging circles in this area and logged in this vicinity previously.

Tooth Added To Clues In Murder Case

A tooth and an X-ray dental chart have been added to a grisly collection of items being gathered by Sheriff Jack Franey in connection with the torso murder of Mrs. Jennie Morrison Rice.

The collection also contains a charred human skull found at the city dump last Friday and several bits of bone gleaned from the dump area where the skull was located.

Sheriff Franey said the skull and other items, including samples of Mrs. Rice's hair, will be sent to the state police crime laboratory in Portland for examination.

The headless and limbless body of Mrs. Rice was found in the Klamath river May 27 and her husband, William Howard Rice went to the penitentiary to start serving a life sentence without disclosing any details of his wife's slaying or the disposal of her body except to say that the head and limbs "should be found" in the river vicinity.

The tooth and X-ray chart were turned over to the sheriff yesterday by relatives of the dead woman.

From those items the crime laboratory will be asked to determine if possible whether the skull is that of a man or woman, the approximate age at death, date of death and whether the skull is that of Mrs. Rice.

If it's not Mrs. Rice's skull, the sheriff said, then the macabre find probably represents another hitherto undisclosed slaying.

The skull found at the dump has a few strands of red hair clinging to it and Mrs. Rice's hair had a reddish tinge.
