

Junior Livestock Show In Tule 'In The Bag' Says Hagelstein; September 24

TULELAKE, Aug. 19.—Tulelake's first annual 4-H club and Future Farmers of America junior livestock show and sale is definitely in the bag, according to an announcement made today by W. G. Hagelstein, president of the Rotary club, which will sponsor the undertaking. September 24 has been set as the date.

The first show, which will combine a garden produce and canning exhibit, will be held at the high school grounds and in the auditorium. About 30 head of fat beef animals are being readied by boys and girls of the community, and there will be several hogs and some lambs.

Hagelstein explained that because plans were indefinite until the present time, fewer animals have been groomed than will be in future years.

Land in the new addition has been obtained under a 10-year lease from the U. S. bureau of reclamation and it is planned to put up buildings on that site to be used in the future.

The sale will start at 8 o'clock with Charles K. Wiese, local auctioneer, in the stand.

Young stock growers in the past have had no opportunity to exhibit animals produced here except at the Modoc and Siskiyou county fairs at Alturas and Yreka and at the state fair at Sacramento.

A film, "Green Pastures," with Walter Brennan, Academy Award winner playing the lead, will be featured September 22-23 in connection with the livestock show through the courtesy of Vac Kallins, manager of the Marcha theater.

Youngsters from Tulelake, the Butte valley area, Merrill, Malin, Bonanza or Henley will get in free of charge. Oldsters must pay the regular charge. The Tulelake Growers will foot the bill for the children.

President Hagelstein has announced the following committees for the show: Chester J. Main, general chairman; John B. Edmonds, publicity; Ivan Rose, Dan Crawford, St. G. Osborne, grounds committee; Charles K. Wiese, auctioneer; Burton J. Hoyle, associate.

King Carol, Mme. Lupescu Wed Thursday

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 19 (AP)—Former King Carol of Romania and Mme. Elena Lupescu were married in a religious ceremony last night at the ex-monarch's Estoril residence.

The Rev. Hartianin Ivinovitch, head of the Romanian (Greek Orthodox) church in Paris, came here to officiate at the ceremony.

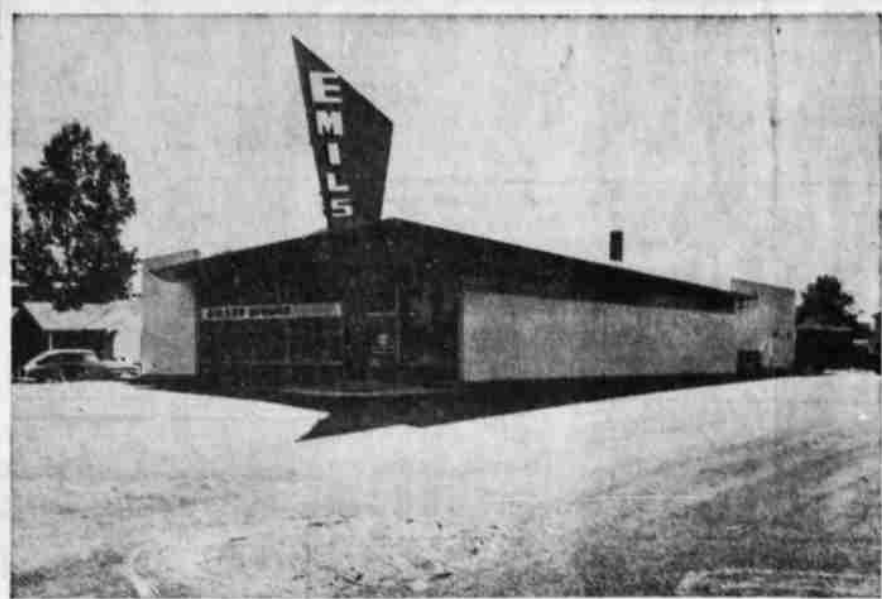

The ceremony took place in strict privacy in Carol's villa. Only the former monarch's chamberlain, Ernest Durdarianu, other members of the royal household, and a few close friends were present.

Uranianu said it was impossible to hold the ceremony before because no Romanian church representative was in Portugal. He said special arrangements had been made to bring the Rev. Ivinovitch from Paris.

"This scotches once and for all ridiculous rumors recently circulated about the king being on bad terms with his wife," said the marshal. He added that heretofore Mme. Lupescu's title will be Princess Elena.

Carol and Elena whose romance flourished more than two decades despite family objections and political upheavals were married in Rio De Janeiro in an "extremis" civil ceremony in July, 1941, when Elena was believed at the point of death.

Admiral Peary's daughter, Marie, who was born in the Arctic Circle, received the nickname of "Snow Baby."

Smith Trial Postponed

The federal court trial of Raymond Smith, 18-year-old Klamath Indian, has been indefinitely postponed from August 23 because of the illness of Dr. George H. Adler, Klamath county coroner.

Smith is accused of second degree murder in the stabbing death of Elms Lobert, 22, at Pine Ridge early in June.

Dr. Adler is scheduled to be a government witness in the trial. Smith is held in jail at Portland and his trial will be held in Portland.

The young Indian is represented by Klamath Falls Attorney J. C. O'Neill.

Gloom Clouds Outlook For Hawaii Strike

HONOLULU, Aug. 19 (AP)—Negotiations to end 111 days of a strike on Hawaii's waterfront wobbled ahead today in a cloud of gloom.

"Another extremely discouraging session," said an employer spokesman of yesterday's meeting. The CIO Longshoremen's union didn't have anything to say.

Unless some agreement is reached by tomorrow, the dispute is to be thrown to the lap of Cyrus Ching, head of the U. S. conciliation service. And Ching doesn't even know whether he can come to Honolulu.

The employer spokesman said that in yesterday's session the talks reached the wage issue.

Harry Bridges, head of the International Longshoremen's A. B. Warehousemen's union, said the 2000 longshoremen who walked out May 1 would settle for substantially less than the 32-cent hourly increase originally demanded. He refused to say how much less. The longshoremen now draw $1.40 an hour.

Meanwhile, government stevedores worked four ships. Furthermore, Hawaii's Stevedores, Ltd., announced its non-union stevedores would go to work for the government today. A stockholders' meeting was called to discuss dissolution of the firm. It was organized at the start of the dock strike and hired non-union workers.

Rainwater Jones Is Tooting Again

ONTARIO, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—Rainwater Jones is blowing the town's whistle again, but he isn't sure for how long.

The whistle, installed on Jones' laundry and traditional in Ontario as the dinner signal, has blown up two months of controversy here.

Albert Fuchs, who lives near the laundry, said it "jarred his nerves." He and 78 other residents petitioned the city council to silence the thing.

But other residents contended they loved the whistle. Moreover, said some, their children wouldn't come home to dinner unless they heard it. The council decided it could blow.

At that point someone took matters into his own hands and stole the thing.

The city was silent for a week until Rainwater Jones got another whistle and installed it.

The bureau also estimated that in April this year there were 38,337,000 families in the U. S., as compared with 32,169,000 in 1940.

The plane was en route from the Azores to Westover field, Mass. It was to refuel at Harmon field.

The plane ditched in the bay and the men scrambled into dinghies and onto rafts and reached shore. No one was reported missing.

Mother Takes Life Of Baby Daughter

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—A young mother from Astoria, Ore., who first told police that her six-day-old daughter was strangled by a Negro prowler was quoted by police early today as saying "I killed her."

Police Capt. John Enright said the woman, Mrs. Dorothy Skeoch, 22, admitted killing the child only a few hours after they arrived home from the hospital, where the baby was born.

The baby, Susan, was found dead in bed with a plastic diaper knotted tightly around her neck.

Mrs. Skeoch, a former payroll clerk at the University of Chicago, was quoted by Enright as saying she had been depressed because her husband, Thomas, 21, had been unemployed since he lost his job as a dockworker two weeks ago.

"There was no money coming in and I couldn't stand seeing the baby go through what I have gone through," Enright said the woman told him.

She related, Enright added, that while she was pondering the family's plight the baby began whimpering and that she then tied the diaper around the child's neck.

After the child died, Mrs. Skeoch said her first thought was to attribute the strangling to a Negro prowler. On that impulse, she told police, she ran through their side apartment screaming and finally to the apartment of a neighbor, Mrs. Viola Venkus, 22.

"Something happened to my baby. A colored man did it," Mrs. Venkus said the mother cried.

Together Mrs. Skeoch and Mrs. Venkus returned to the apartment where Mrs. Venkus unravelled the diaper and summoned a fire department rescue squad. After failing to revive the child, the firemen called police.

High Temperatures To Continue

High temperatures in the 80's will continue for the week-end, the weatherman said today, although there is a possibility of thunder showers in nearby mountains.

The low predicted for tonight is from 42 to 47. Estimated high Saturday is 81. Friday's top temperature was 79.

Burglars Grab Saddle, Clothing

Burglars entered the barn and house of the Dixon canyon ranch, owned by Glen Dehlinger, Wednesday night, stealing a saddle, clothing and other articles.

Deputy Sheriff Marion Barnes said the loot included a woman's black two-piece gahardine suit, dish towels and a red and white checkered tablecloth.

The saddle was round-skirted and double-rigged, with "Dave" stamped on the cantle and lurch and a half hearts stamped around the border.

AND there was that Eastern senator back in the middle 1800's who arose in his place in congress and allowed vehemently that the whole --- (1) Western part of our continent, which a few starry-eyed enthusiasts were then wanting to take away from the Indians, consisted of nothing more valuable than sagebrush and jackrabbits and the whole of it wasn't worth two measly dollars.

(I wouldn't know for sure, but I suspect that his descendants are now living in Los Angeles and wondering where the heck they could find an open space big enough to have a picnic if they could only force their way through the congested freeway and boulevard traffic and get there without losing all their fenders.)

I SOMETIMES think that if we could chloroform all the statisticians, administer twilight sleep to all the economists and incarcerate in deep dungeons all the prophets and prognosticators, thus isolating ourselves from the dangerous future and forcing ourselves to concentrate on the never-loo-terrible problems of the immediate present, we might get somewhere.

Farm Land Tax Talk To Be Held

A meeting of ranchers, bankers and businessmen is scheduled for August 31 at Henley high school for a discussion of taxation appraisals on farm lands.

The county assessor's office has contacted representative persons in each community in the county to take part in the discussions, but extends an invitation to any persons interested in the subject to attend and take part.

The office is now working on a reappraisal of Klamath county farm lands and has gotten to the point where some sort of yardstick is necessary for determining equitable appraised values. Assessor Otis Metsker said.

Purpose of the meeting is to get a cross-section of opinion on land values for future guidance in appraisals for tax purposes.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. Sugar fixed in green leaves of plants annually is estimated to represent energy equal to 300 billion tons of coal.
