

Specialties and Sidelines

MUSIC AND WASPS — Music makes up a large part of the activity side of school and Betty Sterritt, left, and Connie Loy in picture No. 1 are just two of the many students who take part in musical activities. Poking his finger in a wasp's nest in No. 5 is Tommy Rhodes, who starts early to develop a keen interest in science.

DRUMS AND WOODWORK — Future musicians begin their careers early, and Edmund Hake in picture No. 2 might well be the uniformed drummer in a big parade someday. Picture 4 is a typical scene from a wood-working class with Pat Kittredge putting the finishing touches on his woodwork project.
