

Varied Interests Keep Folks Busy

A lucky draw in several meanings of the word for these hunters, Dr. Ralph Stearns, Bill Meade and Victor O'Neil with Harry Utley of Lakeview scouted off to the hinterlands recently to do some antelope hunting.

They were lucky to be among those hunters drawn to obtain antelope licenses and good shots to each secure one of those fabled-footed animals. They got their game on the first of their trip which lead them to Lakeview, Hart mountain, Roaring springs, French glen, and Burns. More trophies for the mantle!

The flower show given at Fremont school yesterday was a lovely affair which featured many interesting flower species and arrangements—and incidentally a good deal of hard work on both the part of those entering the show and the committee. Congratulations for the success of the show go to Mrs. Hugh O'Connor and her committee which worked weeks in advance and all day of the show preparing for it.

Members of the Klamath Art Workshop at OTI had quite an outing last Sunday. First they had a horseback ride, then a breakfast at the Charlie Read ranch, then they were guests at the Chet Barton "Black and White" ranch, after which Mrs. Sheldon Brumbaugh held an open house for them!

Aside for the social gatherings, many of the students in Klamath were found at their homes over the week-end covered with paint, silk screening.

Recent visitors in this city were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCulloch who spent 10 days here with Mrs. McCulloch's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin. The McCullochs, former residents of this city, now live in San Carlos.

Back to their home in Klamath again after a year in Redding, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Betty and Susanne, and friends here are happy to welcome them back.

The Shaws have purchased the home of Dr. Charles Rugh on Washington street and plan to remain here.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg and daughters, Jean Rae and Diane, have just returned from a 12,000 mile trip which took them to Halifax, Nova Scotia. On their all summer trip they stopped in Colorado, Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls and Montreal, Canada, where they remained one month while Jean Rae recovered from surgery.

In that city, Dr. Oldenburg visited the surgeries of the Royal Victoria hospital and the well-known Neurological Institute, and in Halifax he spent some time visiting the new Victoria General hospital.

While in Nova Scotia they were the guests of Mrs. Oldenburg's mother, Mrs. George Banks, and her sisters, for three weeks. On the trip back they viewed the South Dakota Bad Lands, the Black Hills and the Rushmore Memorial and then they went to Wausau, Wis., where they visited several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller Babcock, who was chief of construction at the Marine Barracks here during the war.

Another former resident who has returned for a visit is Mrs. Lyn Zimmerman. Mrs. Zimmerman, with a friend, Miss Opal Hayes, is visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Porter. At present the guests and their hostess are at the Lake of the Woods.

The latest trend in social notes seems to be the activities of grandmothers! A former Klamath resident, Mrs. T. W. O'Brien, has written a book entitled, "Whisp of Straw," which describes the life of a Swedish community in Minnesota. According to reports the book concerns "family album" type life in the early days.

Mrs. O'Brien is the mother of Mrs. H. R. Burritt of this city and the grandmother of Carol and Bill Burritt.

By the way, the book is due for publication early in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Owens and family are busy taking a vacation at present. They are on their way now to Ocean Park and Portland for a brief outing before school starts. Son Jim plans to leave next month for the University of Oregon.

Home for a few days is Mrs. C. F. Alexander (Nan Goeller). Nan and friends are vacationing at the Lake of the Woods. Present plans scheduled a return trip to Panama the fifth of September.

Others who have returned to Klamath for a vacation are Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Alexander and son, Derruelle, who are now at their Rock creek ranch home. The Alexanders are former residents of this city. They now make their home in Napa, Calif.

Friends in Klamath Falls have been receiving letters from Mrs. Buford Boyd, a former resident of this city. Mrs. Boyd, with their seven-year-old son, Gary, joined Buford in Turkey in June.

Buford is an army instructor in a Turkish military school in Cankiri. The Boyds, according to reports, are enjoying life in Turkey, which they find is a land of contrast between the new and the old.

The Boyds are receiving their mail in care of Chief T.U.S.A.G. 243 Ataturk, Bulvarl, Ankara, Turkey.

August Rites

Betty Ann Nelson, daughter of J. W. Nelson of Wisbeck, N. Dak., and the late Mrs. Myrtle Winkko of this city, became the bride of Patrick Clifton Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Wilkins of this city at an 11 a.m. ceremony August 13 in the Central Baptist church in El Paso, Texas.

Rev. Willie Hazel officiated at the double ring rite.

Given in marriage by the groom's brother, Graham Wilkins, the bride wore a white marquisette ankle length dress made with a princess style design. Her hat was of pale orchid marquisette. Roses were matched those of her bouquet were woven in the brim of her hat. The tulle of the hat fell into a shoulder length veil.

The bride carried a white prayer book, a gift of the groom. The six-pence she wore in her shoe is dated 1781, and has been worn in 78 weddings. She wore an amber hand-carved necklace made in 1734, which belonged to the matron-of-honor, Mrs. Ralph Peters, of Wainstead, England. For something blue the bride carried a handkerchief crocheted with blue trim.

Mrs. Peters' gown was also ankle length. It was made of French marquisette. She wore a blue hat and a white carnation corsage to complete her ensemble. Her husband was best man.

After a short honeymoon the couple are at home in El Paso.
