SPORTS ROUNDUP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—One of the boxing world's truly great champions, Batamweight King Manuel Ortiz, says he's had about enough.

The 33-year-old Mexican-American says he'll probably defend his title once or twice more — in Europe. Although nothing is set yet, Manuel thinks he'll meet Ireland's Danny O'Sullivan in London and someone else in France or Italy.

His last stateside fight in the U. S. comes off Monday. He faces Washington's Jimmy Cooper in a 10-round non-title bout.

Manuel heads for Europe September 3. He plans to fight a few exhibition bouts, defend his crown and then hang up his gloves.

Unlike most fighters who wind up punchy and penniless, the fiery Californian has a home to return to. He has a wife, three daughters, a 100-acre farm, six houses, a billiard parlor and a bar in El Centro, Calif.

"I think I'll be kept busy at home," said Ortiz after a workout yesterday. "I think I've found the secret of this game. The secret is knowing how to spend and save your money and knowing when to quit.

"I don't want to go on fighting forever. After the European tour is as good a time as any to quit."

If Monday's fight with Cooper is Manuel's American farewell, the fight game is going to lose one of its most brilliant performers in recent years.

Manuel has really been a fighting champ. Since winning the crown from Lou Salica in 1942, he's defended it 19 times. Only Joe Louis ever laid a boxing title at stake more often.

Ortiz even lost his title once. That was in 1947, when he dropped a decision to Harold Dade. But he got the diadem back eight weeks later on a return match.

Manuel Ortiz has been a world champ in the true sense of the word. He's defended his crown in more cities and countries than any other puncher in the business today.

A last title fight in Europe would be fitting finish to a career like that one.

THE MEMORY OF Colorado's great grid star Whizzer White still lingers on at Yale.

In fact, his memories have a cash value at the New Haven school. They're more valuable to some people than Herbert Hoover's, Winston Churchill's or Franklin Roosevelt's.

When White — probably the only Rhodes scholar in history to play pro football — completed post-grad courses there he left behind his notes.

Those same course notes are eagerly sought today. It's said they are so informative they practically guarantee a 90-average for any course concerned. They're sold by the lucky owners from year to year.

Low Tires Brought His Car Back

POTSDAM, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP) Gerald Smith got back his stolen automobile the easy way.

One hour after the car disappeared from a parking lot, a man drove it to a garage where Smith was working and asked him to put some air in the tires.

The thief beat it when Smith started firing questions.

Yreka Homers Beat Pioneers In Play-Offs

Vince Pisani Circuits in 4th To Break Deadlock

Yreka Indians smacked enough home runs yesterday afternoon to whip the Klamath Pioneers in the first round of their Shaughnessy playoff match in the Northern California baseball circuit.

The score was 4-1. The winning run was scored in the fourth frame when Vince Pisani, Yreka catcher and St. Mary's student, clouted a 365-foot left field fence homer at Gems stadium. The count was 1-1 until then.

In the first frame for Yreka, George McNeill doubled and Pisani batted him home with a single to open the scoring and in the Pioneers' half of the second Fran Miller doubled and counted on two errors.

That was all for the Pioneers, although they made several later threats. In the eighth they had the bags loaded and couldn't push a run across.

Jack Pickert, also a St. Mary's boy and ace pitcher of the NoCal circuit, got stronger as the game wore on. He finally totaled 10 strikeouts and just two walks. Pat Williams of the Pioneers fanned seven.

Yreka scored its third run in the fifth and the final tally in the eighth, the latter being on Ernie True's homer over the left field boards with none on.

Fran Miller's double was the only extra-base hit allowed by Pickert. Er Deja had two singles, Earl Brooks, Bart Goldbar and Mario Pisan one single each.

In the other playoff game yesterday, Dunsmuir defeated Hilt 2-1 in a game played at Dunsmuir, with Pitcher Lyle Turpin limiting the Jets to four hits.

Steel Report Date Extended

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—The fact-finding board in the steel industry dispute announced today that President Truman had extended the time for submission of its report to September 10.

The original deadline was tomorrow, but the board had to ask for the extension because submission of the evidence took longer than was at first expected.

Chairman Carroll R. Daughterty made no announcement about extension of the 60-day truce deadline, which is September 14, but board members said earlier they did not believe this would be changed.

They said the CIO Steelworkers union and companies probably would decide in a short time whether they would accept the panel's recommendations.

KF NETMEN SPANK REDDING, ASHLAND

Klamath Falls netmen were rude hosts to two teams Sunday at Moore park, doling out convincing spankings to both Ashland and Redding.

Redding was dealt an 8 to 2 loss while Ashland fell to Klamath's forces, 9 to 3.

The Klamath Falls shotmakers won five of the seven single matches against Redding and emerged with three victories in four doubles encounters.

Ashland managed to win only two of the ten singles clashes and split even in two doubles contests.

In the only women's singles match, Mary Love won in straight sets over Ashland's Ruth Seitz, 6-4, 7-5.

Klamath also whitewashed Ashland in the mixed doubles. Mary Love and Bud Case teamed up to wallop Miss Seitz and George Phife of Ashland, 6-3, 6-1; Ken and Virginia Karns outclassed Dorthy Morris and Dick Joy, Ashland's mixed pair, 6-4, 6-4.

TWINKS WALLOP ANGELS TWICE

By The Associated Press

Hollywood's old Sunday punch still kept it three games ahead in the Pacific Coast league stretch race.

The Stars, who do most of their slipping during the week, took two from the last-place Los Angeles Angels Sunday. In the opener, the Stars won 7 to 4 when Jim Baxes smacked his 22nd homer to start off a three-run ninth inning. In the seven inning nightcap, Willie Ramsdell knuckleballed a two-hit shutout 4 to 0.

There was not a split bill in the loop Sunday. Oakland rallied twice in the ninth to take two from San Francisco. The Seals had a 2 to 1 lead in the ninth in the morning opener but the Oaks scored four in their half to win 5 to 2. San Francisco led 5 to 1 in the second game going into the ninth. Earl Rapp singled in two runs, Jackie Jensen flied in the tying run plus three more singles and the game ended 7 to 5.

Sacramento, in third place a half-game behind Ookland, beat Portland 3 to 2 and 6 to 4. Jim Tabor's 14th homer in the sixth frame of the opener won that one. In the nightcap, Tabor batted in two runs, scored two more and started a triple play.

Buster Adams banged out three of San Diego's six home runs as the Padres battered Seattle 15 to 2 and 3 to 0. Max West, the league's top home run belter, added No. 42 in the first game.

Only game on tap for Monday night in the league is Portland at Sacramento, rained out Saturday. Roy Helser (16-10) will be the probable mound choice for the Beavers against the Solons' ace, Ken Holcombe (18-6).
