Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY
THERE is a disturbing indefiniteness in that we have heard about the plans for major improvements on the highway on the west side of Upper Klamath lake...

didn't at times criticize the things that deserve such treatment in its own jurisdiction. A lot of that has appeared here. Bu a newspaper that isn't sold on its own area wouldn't be much of a paper, would it? It's easy to be sold on the Klamath country.

These Days

By GEORGE K. SOKOLSKY

THE more I think of the case of Hester McCullough, the more I realize that there is a pattern in these things. Hester McCullough complained to the Greenwich Community Concert association that when she subscribed to their series of concerts, she did not know that they would put on shows in which there would be those who belonged to organizations that the attorney general of the United States and the house committee on un-American activities had declared to be subversive.

Talk But No Money

THE assumption was that when the conservatives would see what could be done by earnest and competent journalism, it would attract circulation, advertising, financial support, stock-ownership, something. I can say that there were lots of meetings and lots of talk but very little money.

Zeal For Klamath

SEVERAL of my fellow newspaper men, writing about my forthcoming departure from Klamath, have made reference in their papers to the things I have said and done as a so-called "booster" for the Klamath country. Modesty forbids re-printing much that has been said; newspaper guys have to be nice to each other because nobody else is likely to be.

Sponsor Trouble

IT is the same on the radio. The conservative commentators nearly all have sponsor troubles. Businessmen love what they say, but shy away from being associated with what they say. They are willing to get the advantages of having a voice on the air that speaks what they also believe, but they fear the consequences of any responsibility for keeping that voice on radio, then they blame the networks for putting on radicals, whom their advertising agencies do not fear to sponsor because it looks good to be broadminded.

Minimum Hourly Wage Of 75 Cents Seen Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—An increase in the minimum wage from 60 to 75 cents an hour was virtually assured today. The senate voted for it yesterday; the house did so earlier. All that remains to do is for the two branches to compromise on the points in the bills each passed to revise the 1938 wage-hour law.

Watchmaking Test Passed By Trio

Three Oregon Tech graduates have passed certified watchmaking tests given by the Horological Institute of America, Winston Purvine, OTI director, said today. The test was given last spring before the three were graduated and the results made known from Washington, D. C. Certification was given by Robert Stapleton, Leland Hall, and John Hoglen.

We are likely to see a fresh burst of activity shortly in the interests of the Pacific union which has been proposed by President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines as a far eastern counterpart of the Atlantic Pact.

Farm Program Compromise, Solons' Aim

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Senators of both parties plugged today for passage of a compromise farm program, apparently with President Truman's backing.

Aussie Beauties Dazzle Slavs

MELBOURNE (AP)—Visiting Yugoslav soccer players are dazzled by Australian girls. They are the most beautiful and best dressed in the world, the Yugoslavs say.

The Cal Hostesses of Arizona were visitors at the George Stevenson home recently. Mrs. Hostess is a sister of Stevenson, and many old friends remember her as Agnes Stevenson.

DYAR RETIRES

SPOKANE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Ralph E. Dyar, veteran employe of the Spokesman-Review, retired yesterday after 41 years with the paper.

Here's the tuis that will win the jackpot for you on the "Surprise Package" program, a Monday-through-Friday KFLW regular.

The story goes that a little child returned from Sunday school and informed her mother that her teacher taught her that Solomon had 300 wives and 7000 cucumber vines.

These jokes always bring chain reaction. The above funny reminds me of the fellow who sent his wife to the store to do some shopping.

A tip to the wives: If you have a tough time getting money from your husband, just tell him you're going back to mother.

Ge. I almost forgot... this is a radio column. We'll squeeze the fat man in anyway. The corpulent criminologist finds himself at sea, shot at and face-to-face with a gang of diamond smugglers all on one program.

The Cost Of War Is Still High After Despot's Death

NEW YORK, (AP)—It is ten years ago today since Adolf Hitler plunged the world into its first trillion-dollar war.

Hal Boyle

Millions of people heard the broadcast of the fateful speech to the Reichstag in which Hitler told the German people their troops had marched into Poland.

Exactly 2074 days later the returns from Adolf's speech were in. His reich and many other countries were in ruins. Some 2,000,000 men, women and children had been killed, including Fushier Hitler and his arch-buddy, Benito Mussolini, who ended the war hanging by his heels beside his mistress, dead and bleeding. Some 34,400,000 had been wounded.

It was the biggest jackpot of all time for Brother Mars. He had rung up $1,116,991,463.084 on his cash register and about $230,900,000,000 in property damage. This doesn't even include the cost in money and damage of the long war in China, which is still in flower.

The United States picked up the biggest part of the check—$330,030,463.084—and it is still picking up the checks.

Well, the Germans are still sorting bricks from the rubble of their cities, and will be for years. They are bystanders now. But the chief issue raised by Hitler is still undecided—freedom or tyranny, the oldest issue on earth and never settled.

War didn't even dent the global population. Wars never do that so well as a good long plague. It is a tremendous tribute to the imperish-

Red Says America Fears Depression

MOSCOW (AP)—Peter Boriso, who visited the USA as a guest of the All-American Congress in Defense of Peace has summed up his impressions of the country in "Znamya."

"The American people," he said, "sense that they are on the eve of an economic depression by comparison with which the 1931 catastrophe will seem utterly trivial."
