

County Road Resurfacing Work Pushed

Between 12 and 13 miles of road in the southeast suburban area have been resurfaced this summer by the county road department and more work is planned for completion before snow flies.

Bulk of the work done in the area so far, according to Roadmaster Ed Propst, has been on portions of Airways drive, Summers lane, Harlan drive, Homedale, Hope, Shasta way and Eberlein.

Rock is now being put on Homedale between South Sixth and Shasta way preparatory to oiling. A strip of Johns road and the Pelican City road are on the list for work this fall.

A recent stretch surfaced was on the Lindley heights road from Carl Frit's store to the top of the hill and residents of the Lindley heights area went before the county court yesterday to demand that the oiling be continued down the slope to where the road connects with the highway into town.

Before road crews and the rock crusher were moved into the suburban area, several miles of road in Langell valley was surfaced this spring, and about 30 miles of seal coat put on work done last year.

Chemistry, as a science, originated in Egypt, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
