Jo Anne Kandra Wed Sunday

MERRILL—Members of two well-known Merrill families were united in marriage Sunday afternoon when Jo Anne Kandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Kandra, became the bride of Ursal Grant Snapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan C. Snapp, at ceremonies performed at the home of the bride's parents.

A large bay window, intertwined with ivy, and set off with white silk rope, large baskets of gladioli at either side, and lighted tapers in tiered candelabra formed a lovely setting for the single ring services read by the Reverend P. C. Anderson of Klamath Falls.

Preceding the ceremony candles were lighted by Wilbur Snapp, brother of the groom. Mrs. William Falvey sang "Because" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone" and Helen Lacey presented "Love," a poem. Both were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lillian Thomason, who also played the wedding march.

Jo Anne, who entered on the arm of her father, was gowned in white lace, fashioned with a long fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves with lace ruffles flowing over the wrists. The finger-tip length veil was of marquisette and fell from a Juliet cap beaded with pearls and with white roses across the top. The veil was worn by her sister, Ida Mae, (Mrs. L. C. Fleck) at her wedding several years ago. She carried a fluffy arm bouquet of white roses, centered with a white orchid. The bride had the traditional blue garter, and a penny in her shoe.

The bride's only attendant was her sister Lois Lea Kandra who wore a floor length gown of pink marquisette with matching stole. To complete the ensemble Lois Lea wore a wide-brimmed pink crocheted hat with a halo of pink and white carnations, and carried a colonial bouquet of the same flowers.

Best man for his brother was Lowell Snapp, and another brother Wilbur, served as usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kandra chose a tan silk dress with black accessories. A gladioli corsage was pinned at her shoulder. Mrs. Snapp wore a grey suit with matching hat and black accessories, and a gladioli corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Kandra, east of Merrill, where the young couple with their parents, greeted the guests.

The bride and groom cut the first slice of their beautifully decorated four-tiered wedding cake. Eleanor Hunnicutt, Irma Liptak, and Bertha McCoy served the confection and ice cream. Presiding at the punch bowls were Dolores Steele and Janet Ruth Dixon. Helen Lacey was in charge of the guest book.

For going away Jo Anne wore a powder blue wool dress with black accessories. The white orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned at the shoulder.

The two will live in Eugene where Ursal will begin his third year in physical education at the University of Oregon, and Jo Anne will enter her third year in education.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Bernice Dixon, Janet and Richard, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Boera, Gary, Roger and Mark, all of San Anselmo, California, and Mr. Wayne McCorkle from Berkeley, California. Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Boera are sisters of the bride.

IN A GOWN OF WHITE LACE Jo Anne Kandra became the bride of Ursal Snapp. After the wedding a garden reception was held for the young couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Kandra, brother of the bride. Many Klamath people attended the Sunday afternoon wedding reception held August 28.

THE WEDDING SCENE is the outstanding event for a bride, but it is almost as thrilling for the little flower girl. Shown above are little Joan Kay Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hamilton, who was flower girl at the wedding of Beverly Zamsky and Richard Smart, and the bride, Beverly.
