Dairy

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Butts of Dairy are the proud grandparents of a baby girl, Cheryl Lynn Brown, born in Klamath Falls, August 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brown. The Melvin Prestons of east Dairy are parents of their second daughter and third child. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of Bonanza.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Arant and Martha McCumber of Dairy were recent visitors at the Albert Burgdorf home.

Sharon Lee Adams of Raymond's Camp, spent last week at the V. W. Schmoe home with her cousins, Louise and Virgie Schmoe.

Many of the local children have been ill the past couple of weeks.

Clyde Schmidt, son of Herbert Schmidt, and Patty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sewald, have returned home from Hillside hospital where both have spent several days recovering from illnesses.

Friends were sorry to learn that Mrs. Francis Savage of Kellogg park, Portland, has been ill for some time and underwent major surgery August 15 at Permanente hospital, Vancouver, Wash.

The Savages are former Klamath county teachers, having taught several years in Dairy.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hall of Klamath Falls and E. B. Schmoe of Klamath Falls spent Sunday at the Virgil Schmoe home.

The Bud Lee children have been ill at their home in west Dairy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fulton and family of The Dalles vicinity spent several days in Dairy with her parents, the John Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jill Adams and Bud Kolb of Raymond's Camp spent last Friday night at the Virgil Schmoe home.

Rockefeller Guest House, Threat To Family Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no more peace in our time.

John D. Rockefeller 3rd has seen to that. He has carried his family's generous tradition of philanthropy right out the window.

John D. Sr. did wonders for world health with his millions. John D. Jr. made a hopeful bid for world order by donating a fine site for the United Nations to build its echo chambers.

Hal Boyle

And John D. Three? What is he doing? Why, he's building a guest house for visiting relatives. There is no doubt he and his wife probably need it. They hardly have room in their east side apartment to entertain the 95 relatives who showed up for their wedding in 1932.

But young Rockefeller has put some 3,000,000 other New York families on the spot. Because—you know how relatives are — their hinterland kin are going to expect the same kind of treatment.

"Rockefeller built a house for his relatives," they'll sneer. "Why don't you? Getting too big for us, eh?"

And this will be difficult to answer, because most out-of-town visitors are sure that everybody here lives like Rockefeller — or Tommy Manville. Maybe they do, but it is often on a smaller scale.

The trouble with John D. 3rd's adventure in family goodwill is that he built his guest house as if he r-e-a-l-l-y w-a-n-t-e-d all his obscure relatives to visit him.

It has a living room with a fireplace, three bedrooms and three baths. It has a sunlit patio complete with a goldfish pond and a live tree. Wonderful place for a city picnic.

And it would be a fine gesture of good will if young John D. Three would rent the joint out occasionally when his own folks weren't having a clambake. A lot of fellow citizens here could use it to show their relatives a hot time.

But, like me, they would probably want to make some modifications. I have in mind entertaining my fourth cousin, flap-eared Roscoe ("Squeegee") Boyle. Cousin Squeegee lives in Corton, Iowa, and earned his nickname as a boy by winning a dime bet he could wash a department store window with one ear without using a ladder.

Squeegee still has the dime—also a wife, pet parrot, and eight flap-eared children. Everybody else in our family regards Squeegee as a worse plague than the locust, which appears only once in 17 years. The squeegee tribe is an annual blight.

It would be necessary, as I say, to fix up the Rockefeller guest house a bit for the Squeegees. First, I'd slap up the fireplace flue with concrete and get a good smudgy fire going. Then I'd put a garter snake in every bureau drawer, and five famished rats in each kitchen cabinet.

A wild falcon would be perched on the tree to take care of the parrot; the pond would be full of snapping turtles instead of goldfish. I'd put two live grizzly bears in the master's bedroom to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Squeegee. There'd be four wildcats in each of the other two bedrooms to play with Squeegee's eight little monsters.

As I left I'd scatter tacks and cut glass on the living room rug, as the Squeegees usually arrive barefooted—"It feels so cool, Cousin Hal, and you know what they want these days for shoe leather."

When the Squeegees arrived, I'd usher them in, back out fast, lock the door and throw the key down the nearest manhole.

Lots of people have relatives like Squeegee. If young Rockefeller would rent out his guest house, he not only would go down as a benefactor of mankind—he'd make a profit.

Don't miss a good bet — shop the want Ads every day! It pays!
