

Jailed Man Faces Return To Prison

Jimmie Anderson, 26-year-old half Indian, was brought to the county jail yesterday afternoon at the request of state parole authorities and probably will be returned to prison at Salem to finish out a 10-year manslaughter sentence.

He was taken into custody by state police at the Anderson ranch above Beatty.

Police said Anderson was jailed in Lakeview during the Lakeview roundup for intoxication and had been in fights with members of his family, breaking the terms of his parole from prison.

He was convicted of manslaughter in 1941 when he was 17 years old and sent to prison for 10 years. According to records at the district attorney's office, Anderson escaped from prison once and was later recaptured.

He was paroled in December, 1945, but returned to prison soon afterward, and was paroled again in August, 1948.

Anderson was convicted for slaying a 31-year-old ranch worker, Jerry Zukoski, January 23, 1941. Zukoski was killed by a rifle bullet while he and the Indian youth were riding in a truck toward Beatty and his body was rolled off to the side of the highway.

Congressman Welch Dead

NEEDLES, Calif., Sept. 10 (AP)—Congressman Richard J. Welch (R-Calif.) died in a hospital today after suffering a heart attack while en route east by train with his wife.

He was removed from a Santa Fe train last night and brought to the hospital here. Physicians said he showed improvement early this morning.

Welch was elected to the 69th congress to fill an unexpired term, and reelected 11 times.

Former Resident's Death Reported

Word has been received of the death of a former long-time Klamath resident, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Owen, formerly of Bly, who died in Orland, Calif., at 8 p. m., Friday.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the E. D. Sweet mortuary, Orland.

Mrs. Owen had lived most of her life in Malin and Bly. She and her husband moved to Orland where they purchased a restaurant about nine months ago. Survivors include several relatives in the Bly and Malin sections.

Final Frolics Trials Sunday

The last audition for casting for the Lions Fun Frolic will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday, in the Klamath Union high school auditorium.

Sunday's audition is for the benefit of those who were not able to appear at last Wednesday's talent party. Dale Jennings director, said that dancers are particularly needed, including tap numbers, exotic or classical dancing. For one number, an oriental dance is needed.

So far the production is shaping up well, Jennings said. Tickets for the show, to be held September 27, 28 and 29, at the Pelican theater, will go on sale Monday between 12 noon and 5 p. m. at the Pine Tree box office.

Mrs. Reed Dies After Fall

Mrs. Naomi Elizabeth Reed, 90, mother of Mrs. Walter Robinson of Mt. Hebron, died in a Klamath Falls hospital early Friday evening. The elderly matron fell Friday at her daughter's home and suffered a hip fracture.

She was a native of Mechanicsburg, Pa., and made her home in the Klamath basin for the past 29 years. Two other daughters and a son, residing elsewhere, also survive as do five grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Delois Mills, 1201 Eldorado.

Final rites will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from Ward's chapel of the First Baptist church officiating. Interment will be Tuesday at Vancouver, Wash.

The United States retained the Wrightman tennis cup for another year as Miss Doris Hart, of Jacksonville, Fla., defeated Mrs. Betty Hilton of England, 6-1, 6-3, in the opening match of the final day's program today.

Fog Blinded Ship Ripped Into Rock

POINT ARENA, Calif., Sept. 10 (AP)—A veteran British skipper whose ship grounded in a dense fog here yesterday, still clung to hopes it might be refloated today.

Other marine experts who studied the ship—Pacific Enterprise, a 6766 gross ton motorship, pinned on a submerged rock 100 yards off shore—doubted that it ever would come free again.

The veteran skipper, Captain M. E. Cogie of Harwich, England, still clung to hope that his ship might go free at high tide later today.

Passengers Removed

The Pacific Enterprise struck in a fog so dense that only after the crash and passengers were being taken ashore was the coast line visible.

The five passengers, who were taken to San Francisco last night, said they had presumed the ship was 20 miles offshore.

There was no immediate explanation of the circumstances which led the captain, a veteran of 50 years at sea, into the Point Arena graveyard of ships. The Point Arena horn normally can be heard for 18 miles.

The captain, a recipient of the Order of the British Empire, was making his last trip at sea.

He was to have been presented with a gold watch in Los Angeles to commemorate his long and spotless record at sea.

The captain and 53 members of the motorship crew remained aboard the vessel.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To The Editor):

Dear Friends: The Southern Oregon Art association should have highest praise for the splendid project undertaken and completed during the month of August. I refer to the Arts and Craft Workshop held at Oregon Tech, August 1-31.

Often when things go smoothly without obvious regimentation, we are unaware of the fact that that very smoothness reflects most careful preparation and the earnest cooperation of each and every person involved in the effort.

I am one of 87 registered students. I thoroughly enjoyed the 32 Klamath Falls folks in attendance and especially the KUHS students who added wholesome zest and gaiety to our intensive training course.

Sixteen folks came from other parts of Oregon. We had 10 from neighboring California, two from Texas, two from Illinois, and two from Yale school of art and design. Eleven states were represented.

Our visiting instructors, internationally famous and rightfully recognized as outstanding, were all that pre-work shop literature promised they would be. Professor Zweybruck and her daughter, Nora, are a marvelous combination, translating the best in European design to modern American art. I didn't get to take the water color course but interest in it held up to the very last day.

Behind the good work and in advance of it are all the local members of your art association to whom orchids are due. They attended to publicity, set up the work center, made us feel at home with little comforts such as floor lamps in the lobby and pillows on our beds. The OTI staff was our good hosts. They turned over to us the Oregon Tech guest hall. They fed us wonderfully well at the campus cafeteria. In fact we were OTI students for the month.

To mention names is superfluous, for every person who contributed to the success of the project did so unselfishly with no thought of personal gain.

Local people exceeded their duties by doing innumerable things every day for our comfort and pleasure.

I hope that we may again meet for further enlightenment in cultural fields and in the same pleasant surroundings.

Sincerely yours, MRS. SARA H. WERTZ, Kerby Grade Schools, Josephine County, Oregon.

Springfield Man Killed In Crash

EUGENE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Darrol LeRoy Mart, 28, of Springfield, was killed early today in a head-on collision of his car and a Los Angeles-Seattle freight truck.

Joseph Gray, Eugene, who was riding with Mart, suffered serious head injuries. The accident occurred eight miles east of Goshen on a straight stretch of the new highway.

The truck driver, Fred C. Haas, Centralia, Wash., was not hurt.

Anniversary — In case of inclement weather Sunday, the 50th anniversary party being given for Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eggate will be held at the Clarence Bertrand home, 5100 Bryant. If the weather is fair, the party will be held as planned at the Eggate home, 3949 Shasta way.

Week-end Guest — Ken Dunham of San Francisco arrived by plane today to be a week-end guest of Don Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, 432 North Ninth. Dunham is a news writer with CBS in the bay city, and he and Don were classmates, this summer at Stanford university.

Spud Growers Talk Prices

A meeting of the Potato Growers association was held Friday night at the office of the county agent here to discuss minimum prices for the shipping of potatoes.

Since the meeting was unofficial no definite prices were set, however, a recommendation will be made to the marketing agreement committee which will decide on a minimum price at its meeting next week.

If the marketing agreement price is approved by the secretary of agriculture, it will become operative and will affect Central and Southern Oregon and Northern California.

A minimum price agreement for the shipping of potatoes was in effect last year.

Bridge Blasted To Halt Fire

PASCO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Both ends of the Snake river bridge were blasted with dynamite last night before a fire in the floor planking was brought under control.

Explosive charges were set off at both ends of the ancient, two-lane wooden structure to make a fire break. Firemen estimated near-several winds whipped the blaze over several hundred feet of the bridge roadway.

Pasco Fire Chief L. A. Matthias said he was investigating a report that a motorist discovered the back of his truck afire after crossing the bridge. He said that may have been the cause.

The bridge is between 250 and 300 yards long and about 150 feet high. Army engineers plan to tear it down in the next two years when highway 410 is rerouted around the McNary reservoir, 16 miles away.

Mt. Hood Ski Lift Nears Completion

PORTLAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—By the time the winter ski season comes around the aerial tramway from government camp up the slopes of Mt. Hood will be operating.

Dr. J. Otto George, president of the firm constructing the lift, said 38 cable towers are in place, and the only work that remains is cable-stringing.

107 August Births In Klamath

Driver Fined In Highway Accident Case

A Tulelake farm worker, 25-year-old Veri Thomas Bond, was fined a total of $15 in Chiloquin justice court last night on two charges growing out of an accident at the Chiloquin junction of highway 97 yesterday afternoon.

He pleaded guilty to failure to drive on the right side of the highway and carrying a concealed weapon.

Bond's car was involved in a spectacular accident with an automobile driven by Raymond Gooch, Chiloquin. State police said Bond was traveling north on the highway when his car swerved into the path of the second vehicle, rolled over and slid down the pavement almost 200 feet.

Bond escaped with minor facial cuts and scratches. When police arrived he had gone in to Chiloquin for treatment.

An unlicensed .38 revolver in the glove compartment of the car was the basis of the concealed weapon charge.

Industrial Production Up In August

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Industrial production rose during August for the first time since October, 1948, the president's council of economic advisers said today.

The council said preliminary estimates place the federal reserve board's index of industrial production in August at 109, seven points above the estimated index for July and level with that for June.

The index is based on the 1935-39 average as 100.

Preliminary estimates indicate that industrial production in August fully recovered the four per cent drop in July, which had been due in part to the spreading practice of plant-wide vacations, especially in "non-durables," the council said.

"This was the first rise since October, 1948."

The council's comment and the federal reserve board's estimate of the index were published in "economic indicators," a monthly compilation which the council prepares for the joint congressional economic committee.

Monopoly, Foreign Quotas Squeezing Movie Industry

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ellis Aron, president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers, is a political liberal who as attorney general and governor of Georgia, established a spectacular reputation for trust-busting—by forcing the banks to participate in the motion picture industry.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10 (AP)—The American motion picture industry stands today at the crossroads. It finds itself confronted by many troublesome and baffling problems; but they can and they will be solved and overcome.

The producer is the key man in the industry. When he makes profits from the production of pictures he employs actors, writers, directors, artists, composers, technicians and all those essential workers so necessary to motion picture production. The distributors and exhibitors are dependent upon the producer for finished product.

Today many producers are losing money and are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain financing for motion picture production.

Unfair, discriminatory and unreasonable quotas and restrictions against the foreign exhibition of American-produced motion pictures have steadily mushroomed throughout the world until the important income from the foreign market has been drastically curtailed. The foreign situation calls for aggressive and determined action on the part of our government. All negotiations with the foreign motion picture industry should be handled at government level. The American producers badly need this foreign income.

Our own government needs the invaluable assistance of American motion pictures in the ideological contest now raging with communism. American motion pictures can effectively aid in selling American democracy in the world.

Domestically, monopolistic practices within the industry must be completely destroyed. The recent federal decision by the New York court will go a long way toward bringing about the divestment and the diversification of theater holdings by the major producing companies.

There must also be afforded within the great American motion picture industry competitive opportunities for the independent as well as the major producer. The entire industry ultimately must stand as a unit. All segments within it must prosper if we are to move forward and increase the usefulness of the industry.
