Fall Colors Are Subdued

It's corduroy and wool jersey for the younger set this fall—and a happy match it will be too. Both materials are extremely easy to maintain and are comfortable school and business tops.

Corduroy jumpers are augmenting the traditional style of skirt and jacket this fall and will be worn with sweaters and wool jersey blouses. Corduroy in the headlines this fall will have both a wide and narrow wale.

In the jersey department a series of dresses is being shown this fall with neutral backgrounds and bold, broad stripes. Two piece wool jersey dresses, and mix-and-match skirt and blouses are much in demand. The wise miss has sensed the value of a grey, black or brown jersey skirt with which many different jersey blouses may be worn in perfect harmony.

The blouses this fall are particularly outstanding—any style is available—turtle necks, small collars, and round necks in slip on and button fashions.

Another fashion note this fall is suede shoes, hats, bags, and jackets are all on the market in profusion. The new colors in suede fit right in to the trend for subdued, yet cheerful theme.

Guild Meet

TULELAKE, Sept. 12—A business meeting, jam-packed with interest, was attended Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 12 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ryckman by members of the Guild of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church.

Plans for the annual rummage sale held during the potato harvest season were made. Dates set were Friday, Sept. 30 and Saturday, Oct. 1. The sale will be in the room next to the Bank of America. Anyone having rummage is asked to take it to the church annex.

It was announced that landscaping of the church grounds will get under way this fall. An underground sprinkling system will be installed in the patio, paid for by the Mariners club.

Anyone having extra spring flowering bulbs to donate is asked to call Mrs. Tom Newton, Mrs. Eldon Larson or Mrs. Leon Street.

The Guild will prepare dinner for the Tulelake assembly, Order of the Rainbow on September 1, when an out-of-town visiting officer and members of the Malin and Alturas assemblies will be here.

Patsy Terry, who was a delegate from Stanford University to the Institute of International Relations in New York recently, spoke on her observance of the progress being made on world problems and the interesting dignitaries, including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Ralph Bunche whom she met.

Peggy, who accompanied her twin sister, spoke on the side trips the two took to interesting points in the east. The girls were guests at International House at Columbia University.

The next guild session will be a program meeting, September 21, with Mrs. G. W. Osborne, Mrs. Samuel Anderson and Mrs. George Fischer, hostesses.

for future review by the club. Also, of interest to the members was "Bread and Butter" hobbies, and many homemade objects will be displayed at their next meeting, September 24.

BACK TO SCHOOL in corduroy is one of the trends this fall, and weskit, two-piece dresses are proving popular. This version has a full, gored skirt, topped by a high-necked, double-breasted weskit and buttons shaped like little gilt coolie hats. —John Enstead, Los Angeles.

COOKIES FOR THE SCHOOL LUNCH—Teen-agers as well as the nursery school set welcome cookies in their school lunch boxes.

School Lunch Plan Important

Whether it's the School Lunch Program, or the home prepared lunch box program—cookies add appetite appeal (plus nutrition) to the midday meal.

They contain first-class nutrients, are easy to make and keep well. Teen-agers can either help in making them or learn to make them, themselves.

The school lunch (at school cafeteria or in lunch box) should follow this basic pattern: half pint milk (as is, or as chocolate milk or cocoa made with milk), a protein food (fish, eggs, cheese, meat, poultry or peanut butter), whole grain or enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine (in a lunch box, the protein and bread and also vegetables can be combined into sandwiches) a fruit or vegetable or both.

FRUITED TOASTAROONS

For School Lunch Box
(Makes about 40 cookies)

Five cups cornflakes, 1 can (14 or 15 ounces) sweetened condensed milk, 1/2 cup seedless raisins.

Mix raisins with cornflakes before adding condensed milk. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet; flatten slightly, shaping edges with spoon. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes, or until done. Cool a few minutes. Then hold pan over very low flame for a few seconds and remove cookies with a knife or spatula.

COCONUT DATE KISSES

For School Lunch Box
(Makes 2 1/2 dozen kisses)

Two egg whites, dash of salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut, 1 cup finely chopped dates. Beat egg whites with salt until foamy throughout; add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks.

Fold in coconut and chopped date mixture. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until delicately browned.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast — Baked apples, oatmeal, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

School Lunch Box—Chopped egg and bacon sandwiches with crisp lettuce and mayonnaise on whole wheat bread, raw carrot sticks, whole peach or apple, coconut date cookies, milk (tea for adults).

Dinner—Pan-broiled chopped meat, mashed potatoes, buttered quick green cabbage, sliced tomatoes and sweet onions, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, prepared chocolate pudding, coffee, milk.

From Klamath's FINEST DAIRIES...

Come Crater Lake's Fine Milks!

At the foot of Miller Hill, between Klamath Falls and Midland, is the modern dairy ranch of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Abbott. Mr. Abbott is at the right in the picture, while Mrs. Abbott is at the extreme left. Seated between them are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith who operate the ranch for the Abbotts. Smith's son and daughter, Gerald and Jo Ann, are active in 4-H work. Below, the herd loafs and eats in the evening after milking time.
