

Gale Page Show Here Rescheduled

A new date for the presentation of the Gale Page Productions show, recently postponed, was discussed by members of the 20-30 club Tuesday night.

Tentatively, the new date is Monday night, October 10 in the Mills school auditorium. The show was previously set for September 14.

Tickets are available at the Good Year Tire company, Auld Appliance, Waggoner Drug and from any club member.

Negro Convicted By Negro Jury

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 14 (AP)—The first all-Negro jury ever to try a member of its own race here yesterday convicted George Adams of voluntary manslaughter.

A three-year sentence was recommended for the Negro defendant. Adams was charged with fatally shooting a white man, Ransom Maddox, a World War II veteran.

Adams claimed self defense in the shooting last April 4 in which Maddox's brother, Mitchell Maddox, was wounded.

Mrs. Lawler Going To Annual Meet

Mrs. Vincent Lawler, district president of the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults, will leave Wednesday night for Portland to attend a two-day annual board meeting of the organization.

The board will meet Thursday and Friday at the Portland hotel and Mrs. Lawler will preside at the Thursday afternoon session the theme of which will be "National Movement for the Handicapped."

The Optimist club of Klamath Falls, of which Mrs. Lawler is president, has as one of its projects the support of the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

No Transcriptions For Bob Hope

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Bob Hope must make his radio broadcasts in person.

So held a superior court judge yesterday in confirming the decision of an arbitrator. Recently the comedian and his sponsors, Lever Bros. company, disagreed on the issue. Hope wanted to make some transcription shows.

Under an eight-year pact signed September 30, 1946, Hope gets $20,000 a program the first two years, $22,500 per show the next three years and $25,000 the final three.

KF's Young GOPs Plan 2-Day Meet

A week-end of political activity is being planned by the Klamath Falls Young Republican club, highlighted by a report of congressional work from Lowell Stockman, U. S. representative from this district.

Events of the two-day GOP session, Saturday and Sunday, will be held at the Willard hotel.

A luncheon Saturday noon will be sponsored by the Klamath chapter, Oregon Council of Republican Women. The state president of that organization, Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, and Mrs. Freda Peterson, state central committee vice chairman, will be the leading speakers at the luncheon.

Young Republicans will meet at 6:15 and GOP precinct committee men and women will convene at the same time.

Public Meeting
Principal feature of Saturday's program will be a public meeting that night, with Representative Stockman giving his report on congressional activity this term. A member of the state legislature is also expected to be on hand to give an account of state legislative work.

Their talks will be followed by a question-and-answer period to give persons attending the meeting a chance to quiz the lawmakers on current issues.

Sunday's activities will be devoted to Young GOP state and national affairs.

The week-end will make first activity of the republican party organization here since the elections last November.

Pioneer State Woman 103, Health Good

PORTLAND, Sept. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Melissa Hogan chalked another year—her 103rd—off the calendar today. There won't be any celebration, although her health is considered good.

She is one of the few remaining Oregon residents who crossed the country to Oregon in the pioneer era. She came with her family when only nine years of age.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Some Diseases Injure Bones

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Some people are more likely to break their bones than others. Of course, this is sometimes caused by clumsiness or to a rather vague condition which is called "accident proneness." In other cases, however, there is something in the bones themselves which makes them more easily breakable.

Any disease which weakens the bone structure will lead to easier breaking. This includes various kinds of tumors of the bone and such diseases as osteomyelitis, which is an infection of the bony tissue. Many of these diseases of bone can be treated very satisfactorily by modern methods of surgery.

In addition to strictly bone diseases of such kinds, there are some rather rare conditions which attack the bone and which may make them brittle and easy to break. One of these is known as osteitis fibrosa cystica. This condition can be either localized to a single bone or it can involve a number of different ones.

It causes the calcium which makes bone hard to be withdrawn and the development of a cyst or sac-like area in areas. Wherever such sac-like areas are located, the bone is naturally less strong and resistant to strain than normal bone would be.

These are a few of the conditions which are sometimes called brittle bones; anyone who sustains a broken bone from what appears to be only a minor injury should have a thorough examination in order to make sure that some general disease or disease of the bones is not responsible. Many of these can be cured but in a few cases there is nothing which can be done to lessen the likelihood of new bone fractures except great care in avoiding injury.

The Doctor Answers
QUESTION: Several people I know use five drops of oil of wintergreen on a spoonful of sugar twice a day for arthritis and claim it helps them. What do you think?
ANSWER: Oil of wintergreen is related to aspirin and both are helpful in some forms of rheumatic fever. It may make the pain of arthritis slightly less but I doubt that it would help much in any other way.

Reading Reference Program At KUHS
The English department at Klamath Union high school has launched a reading reference program which will facilitate students' reading requirements and make it possible to keep the reading lists up to date.

A new card filing system, prepared and supervised by Ruth Van Hoesen, KUHS instructor, lists the selected books under two categories—authors and titles. The lists have been placed in the school library, and county and city libraries.

The new system will replace mimeographed reference lists used by the students for the required supplementary English reading.

DR. HARRY OLINGER
SALEM, Sept. 14 (AP)—Dr. Harry H. Olinger, 72, dentist and civic leader here for many years, died yesterday.

Boys Involved In Chiloquin Store Theft

Five Indian boys, ranging in age from 14 to 18, were involved in the theft Tuesday morning of about $1000 worth of merchandise from Roy Oltzger's store in Chiloquin.

The boys were apprehended by Chiloquin police and held in custody there until 12:10 a. m. today when they were brought to the Klamath county jail to be turned over to the United States marshal.

Booked here are Ben Mitchell and Harold Hill, both 18, and three teen-agers.

The burglary took place in the early hours of Tuesday and was discovered when store employes Glen Kitcher and Orville Mendenhall came to work.

Police Chief Archie Huff said the youngsters apparently had made three trips in to the store, carrying out guns, clothing, dry goods, ammunition and food. Most of the loot was found cached in the brush two and a half miles southwest of town, packed in potato sacks.

The boys were apprehended shortly before noon yesterday. They allegedly had entered the store building by breaking in the back door with an axe.
