Dead Walked Out

Lazarus had been dead four days when Jesus met Martha, the dead man's sister. Jesus tells Martha—He that believes in Me, though he were dead in the grave, yet shall he live. And he of mine who yet lives, when I return to raise up the saved shall never go into the grave. BIBLE—John 11th and 1st Thess 4:13-17.

Jesus next went to the dead man's tomb and had them roll away the stone. Then with a shout—LAZARUS COME FORTH. Lazarus, who had been dead and in decay, came forth wrapped head and foot in grave clothes with his face wrapped in a napkin.—BIBLE.

And just so, Jesus would raise you up. YOUR PART—Stand on it that Christ died for all your sins. Feelings and good works forget. Believe God. It is Christ's death for your sins that counts. Nothing else. Then live by the Bible and look to Christ for the power. Yes, live by power from on high.

New Pine Creek

Many local persons are looking forward to the big fireman's ball at Davis Creek this Saturday night, September 17, sponsored by members of the new Four Corner's fire district. The purpose of the dance is to help raise money to pay for the ire house they have been constructing at the Willow Ranch cross roads. Everyon should feel an interest in these affairs put on by the initiative of a few who are responsible for the general good. By the way—you might just have a bang up good time right along with it. So be there with bells on and be sure to ring 'em and don't forget that when that siren blows it can sound awful sweet!

Papal Decoration For Hearst

CASTLE GANDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 19 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has granted a papal decoration to William Randolph Hearst, U. S. newspaper publisher.

The kind of decoration was not disclosed.

The decoration was granted upon the request of Bishop A. J. Willinger of Monterey-Fresno, Calif., in recognition of Hearst's contribution to the restoration of the old mission churches of California, along the Pacific coast.

15,000 See Salem Show

MEDFORD, Sept. 19 (AP)—An air show staged here yesterday by air force and national guard air units from Oregon and California drew a crowd of 15,000 to the municipal airport.

Airmen of company B, Salem national guard, staged a mock battle in which they were credited with capturing the field. Jet fighters from California were a part of the spectacular maneuvers of military aircraft.

Speakers included Gov. McKay and Seely Hall, a vice president of United Airlines who was the company's first Medford branch manager.

Chamber of commerce officials reported a plan to extend the airport and purchase acres in the Camp White grounds.

BOY DIDN'T LIKE NEW SCHOOL

GREAT BEND, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP) A 14-year-old farm boy killed himself because he didn't like the city school to which his parents sent him, reports Coroner Kenneth Bush.

Bush said the boy, Henry Wolfe, died Friday of a gunshot wound in the head.

The boy's parents, Bush said, transferred him from a rural school here to a junior high school in nearby Binghamton, N. Y.
