Weather conditions, although dry, have not been too cold and bad so that all in all the hundreds of hunters in this immediate area are having a grand time.

Oregon deer hunters are marking time more or less impatiently waiting for their turn, like a nervous race horse ready to be turned loose. Opinion is being strongly voiced by the Oregon side for the game commission to arrange to have the two seasons, Oregon and California, open simultaneously, at least on the line. It is suggested that the Oregon commission either set their season up or make arrangements with the California commission to have them delay their opening.

Elliott Preps For Big Fight

The election was assured by the filing of 36,215 names on recall petitions. The last names submitted will not be certified until early next week, but there are so many more than the needed 30,565 that the election was a certainty.

The election, by law, must be held within 25 days after the signatures are certified. The first five days are a "grace period" to allow the threatened public official to resign.

"But of course I won't resign," said the sheriff. He charged that "political conniving" was back of the recall movement, and accused newspapers of taking an unfair advantage of him.
