Wocus

Mrs. Joe Ivin narrowly escaped losing the sight of her right eye, Monday, September 19, when she slipped and fell, striking her forehead just above the eye. She suffered a deep gash when her head struck the point of an up-turned plow shear. It was necessary for the doctor to take eight stitches.

Jimmie, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McClurg, opened the door of the car and fell to the pavement while his mother was driving on East Main Sunday, September 25. The lad suffered only a bad bump at the base of the skull, and is able to play as usual.

New neighbors and home owners in Wocus, are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Petri and infant son, Jim Jr. The Petris purchased the Ray South place, the middle of September. Petri drives a route for Klamath Falls Creamery.

Fifty additional chairs, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howard of the Red Rock chicken inn, were brought to the Gun club last Saturday night to afford seats for the record crowd that gathered there to have questions answered by a representative from the district attorney's office, concerning the zoning of Wocus. The new zoning law, hatched up in 1947, is still wanting a place to be put into practice, for a standing vote of five to one, by Wocus home owners, was made to demonstrate the unpopular effect it had upon those who chose to make a study of its laws.

Ben Goddard of the district attorney's office was there to answer all questions at an invitation of Dorothea Buck, acting chairman of the Wocus community club, as was Frank Z. Howard, county surveyor. This correspondent has been asked to express the appreciation of many home owners, through this column, to both Mr. Goddard and Mr. Howard for their visit to this meeting.

The Phillies expect big things of Del Ennis this season, now that he follows Eddie Walkus and precedes Bill Nicholson in the batting order.

Connecticut Still Cuts Lumber

WINSTED, Conn. (AP)—Far from being a "lost art," lumbering still is carried on in this northwestern Connecticut area.

For the most part, however, it is done on a small business basis. Small crews go into the woods, cut the trees and haul the logs to nearby sawmills. In some instances this "native lumber" is sold in the rough.
