The following is a list of 4-H club members of Malin who took prizes at the state fair. Kathleen Wilson and Ilyis Smalley—champion livestock demonstrations. Pat Tucker and Edmona King—third canning judging contest. Barbara Cornett—red ribbon canning. Sharon Scott—red ribbon canning. This list of winners was released by Francis A. Skinner, county extension agent.

Surfacing of the highway at the west entrance to Malin will be completed the early part of next week. The highway has been widened to a 4-lane thoroughfare in front of the Malin park grounds. The lanes are divided by an island which will be landscaped early next spring. The high curve at the entrance of the town has been cut down two feet and the highway widened several feet. The job is being done by the J. M. Conley Construction company.

The Malin Brownies held their first meeting of the year at the Malin park building and elected officers for the year. The following girls were elected, Joan Freitag, president; Nancy DeMerritt, vice president; Joyce Taylor, treasurer; Betty Rogers, secretary; Ninabelle Price, flag bearer; Marie McAuliffe, Karen Wolfe and Naomi Griffith, guards; Joan Brown, song leader; Norma Micha, promise leader; Donna Fields, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. John Freitag gave a talk on the program planned for the year. Nineteen girls with their leaders were present for the meeting.

The community extends its sympathy to Mrs. William Cline whose husband passed away recently. Mr. Cline was a native of Quincy, Ill., and was aged 87 years. Mr. and Mrs. Cline have lived in Malin many years and have made many friends during the years.

From Klamath's Finest Dairies come Crater Lake's FINE MILK!

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Masten, with Stanley, Jr., are shown in the lovely living room of their Lost River Valley dairy ranch where Mr. Masten's father farmed before him. Stanley, Jr., is Henley 4-H leader. Upper insert is "Gerry," youngest of the family, pianist and 4-H clubber. Portraits of several lovely sisters are about the room. Below, a fine herd, a big, red dairy barn, and a mountain of hay means good production through winter.
