Dynamiting Eddie Price

Notre Dame's Loss Is Tulane's Gain

NEW ORLEANS (NEA) — Tulane's four platoons constitute something in the way of a threat to Notre Dame in South Bend, October 15, but the story here is how Edward J. Price narrowly escaped being on the other side.

It took navy red tape, a draft board that wouldn't wait and a sweetheart to keep Eddie Price out of Notre Dame, where he took a physical examination and registered in the naval program.

Price, you see, is the 189-pound package of fullbacking dynamite carrying the mail for Tulane. No ball-carrier with a major college surpassed him in rushing last fall. He averaged 5.7 yards, and catches passes, too. He started this season by blating Alabama.

Tulane men shudder thinking of what would happen to Henry Frnka's lads were Price wearing Kelly green instead of olive.

Frank Leahy and Ed McKeever, then his backfield coach, came to New Orleans to see young Price when he was graduated from New Orleans' Warren Easton high in 1943.

While waiting for his Notre Dame naval program papers to be processed, a long distance call from had been ordered for induction by his mother informed Price that he his draft board.

"Hopping a train home, I explained that I had passed entrance requirements, and was only awaiting orders," related Price.

"'That's fine,' the clerk said, 'we will just go ahead and swear you into the navy, and you can report there when your papers arrive.'

"Notre Dame assured me everything would be all right, that the papers had been forwarded to New Orleans. Navy headquarters there could offer no help.

"The next thing I knew I was on my way to boot training in San Diego."

Four months later Price was in the South Pacific, where he spent 24 months operating an LCVP through landings at Saipan, Leyte, Luzon, Guam and San Antone.

Price has no misgivings over not getting to Notre Dame.

"I don't believe I would have made a good flier. I get dizzy when I climb to the upper tiers of the stadium," he quips.

Returning from the war, his high school sweetheart influenced him to matriculate at Tulane, in his home city. Now Mr. and Mrs. Price have a two-year-old daughter.

The New Orleans Monday Morning Quarterback club's annual scholastic trophy was awarded to the serious, curly-haired, blond, 23-year-old Price last season for having the best scholastic marks among Tulane players. He had better than a B average.

And the hopes of the green wave are riding on just what kind of an average Eddie Price can roll up against Notre Dame.

Willamette, C of I Vie

By The Associated Press

College of Idaho, defending northwest conference football champions and early leader in this season's title chase, gets no breather this week-end.

The Coyotes go up against Willamette's Bearcats at Caldwell Saturday night in the feature game of the league slate. It will be the Oregon team's debut in conference play.

C. of I. took its opener last week from Lewis & Clark, 20-12.

The finalists in the 1904 U. S. amateur golf championship were Dave Egan, who was 20, and Fred Hereshoff, only 16, the loser.

Twinks Win, 6-4

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Hollywood Stars try to even up at home tonight in their final Pacific Coast league Governors Cup playoff series with the San Diego Padres.

Willard Ramsdell pitched the Stars to a 6 to 4 win last night in San Diego, their first in the three games played there. The rest of the best-out-of-seven series will be played here.

Hollywood took a 2-1 lead in the fifth and was never headed. The pennant-winners pounced on losing Pitcher Al Jurisich for three runs in the seventh. George Genovese walked and was doubled in by Gene Handley. Singles by Herb Gorman and Chuck Stevens scored the other two. Handley and Irv Noren each doubled to produce two tallies in the fifth. Ramsdell gave up nine hits.

Orestes Minoso smacked a two-run homer for the losers.

Red Adams (8-8) for the Padres and Glen Moulder (14-9) for the Hollywoods are tonights probable pitchers.

HEADS SACRIFICED FOR CHEST

SEATTLE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Freshman pledges gave their heads for their chest yesterday.

That is to say, they stuck their heads through holes in a large sheet and let University of Washington upperclassmen chuck fresh pies at them for $1 to $2 apiece.

Proceeds go to the campus drive for the community chest.
