

LEFT: ALL SIGNED UP, so now they're really married. The Rev. F. C. Wissenbach puts "Mr. and Mrs. William Rockwell" on the marriage certificate.
CENTER: GETTING THE BRIDE READY for the big occasion, Barbara Hood's attendants take care of last-minute details.
RIGHT: MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM ROCKWELL toast to their happiness after their wedding last Sunday.

—Guderian.

Barbara Hood and William Rockwell Married in St. Paul's Church

In a setting of white chrysanthemums and daisies, Barbara Jane Hood became the bride of William Rockwell last Sunday at half past 2 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bristow Hood, formerly of Klamath Falls and now living in Redding. Mrs. Marie Rockwell of Berkeley, Calif., is mother of the groom.

The Rev. F. C. Wissenbach read the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin with lace yolk and sleeves. Her veil was of imported illusion net with a crown of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was centered with white orchids, surrounded by stephanotis. She carried an heirloom handkerchief.

Miss Sally Yetter of Rapid City, S. D., was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Eugene Favell (Winifred Lamm) of Lakeview, Mrs. Walter Hanson of Redding, Miss Jean Gavin of Oak Park, Ill., and Miss Janet Watson of Lodi, Calif.

The attendants wore identical gowns of brocaded satin and carried shower bouquets of red roses. The maid of honor wore a crown of red roses and the bridesmaids' crowns were of white roses.

Leo Souza of San Francisco was best man for the groom. Robert Hood, brother of the bride, and Francis Hausman of San Francisco, Norman Stebbins of Oakland, and Owen Stebbins of Eureka, friends of the groom at Stanford university, were ushers.

Mrs. Hood chose a coffee colored lace gown with blue accessories for her daughter's wedding, and wore a purple orchid on her shoulder. The groom's mother wore a gown of royal blue with white accessories and a white orchid.

The reception immediately followed the ceremony in the church parlors, which were decorated with baskets of flowers and leaves. Mrs. F. C. Wissenbach arranged the reception, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Macartney.

Mrs. James Ryan, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Harold Teale cut the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Edward Livingston and Mrs. Warren Noggle poured coffee.

Presiding over the punch bowl were Miss Dorothea Ellingson and Miss Joan Howell. Miss Patricia Teale passed the guest book.

The bride wore a taupe dressmaker suit with black accessories for traveling. The couple will spend several days in Victoria and other spots in Canada and will be at home in Berkeley after October 15.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. George J. Barton and Dorothy Barton, aunt and cousin of the groom, and Mrs. James Ryan, all of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Johnny and Dick Thomas, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Constans, formerly of this city, now of Redding; Jack Martin of San Francisco, John Courley and Chet Baker of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Favell of Lakeview, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hansen of Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. R. Heber Radcliffe of McCloud, formerly of Klamath Falls, and Mrs. William Wasmann (Mary Landry) of Eugene.

NEWCOMERS IN KLAMATH FALLS are Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Johnson and their two boys, Neil Phillip (standing), and Bruce Alan Johnson. Dr. Johnson came from Chicago around the first of August and brought the rest of the family when he found a home. They are living at 1946 Manzanita.

—Guderian.

Sallies... by SALLY

With snow flurries in the air and ice on our steps, we have the feeling that winter is upon us.

However Fred Stemler, 1207 California, begs to differ. He has lilacs blooming in his yard. Last summer a picture of his lilacs, stripped by grasshoppers, was in the paper. Naturally he thought all was lost, but this week—blossoms! He even brought some in to the office to prove it.

When Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Epperson, now home from their trip abroad, were flying the Atlantic in one of those fancy two-deck affairs, they were fellow passengers with Joe E. Brown who was on his way to play the lead in Harvey in London. A few nights after reaching London, the Eppersons attended the show at Prince of Wales theatre in Piccadilly circus.

Brown had visited with the Eppersons and during the play Brown mentioned he was going to visit a night club after the show and referring to a little black book, said he was going to a "Klamath Falls" club. The Eppersons thought this fine international advertising.

They visited their son, Capt. George Epperson and family, including the young twins, Janice and Carolyn, and with them had an enjoyable trip to Paris from London where the army man is stationed.

It's another girl for the Sig Ellingsons of Unity, Ore., formerly of Klamath Falls. The new daughter, their second, was born Tuesday in Tacoma. The name, "Andrea" is under consideration, but hasn't been decided upon yet. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ellingson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steinseifer, now of Tacoma, are grandparents.

Mrs. J. Frank Adams has the hunting bug now, too, since she hauled in her first buck last week-end. She shot the four-pointer in the Swan Lake district, and she says she won't be kept out of the woods from now on.

Late bulletins on the Mac Epleys which we gleaned in a telephone call the other night. They have finally found a house they like, close to a school and in a nice residential district in Long Beach. Mac just finished covering the California state Elks convention but missed the big story at Ontario, where the bus and train crash occurred, by just one hour. He and Jane had been there a short time before on their way home. Sad stuff for a newspaperman. Daughter Alis, who has been with her grandmother in Berkeley waiting for the Epleys to get a house, was to join her parents Thursday.

Esther Lawler, Vivian Owens and Lorraine Johnson left at 1 o'clock by plane Thursday for Bellingham, Wash., where they were to attend the Friday through Sunday Northwest regional conference of Soroptimist clubs. Leaving Thursday on the Daylight for the north were two members of the Venture club, Elaine and Audrey Braatz, who will attend a similar meeting of the Venturists on Saturday and Sunday.

An annual deer hunting party has been under way this week at the Henry Gerber ranch near Bly. The Gerbers entertained her sister and husband, the Henning Jensens from Berkeley. Dr. and Mrs. John

(Continued on Page 8)

TWYLA FERGUSON, GUEST SPEAKER at the League of Women Voters tea last Saturday, confers with League President Mrs. Paul Buck. The clubroom of the city library was decorated for the occasion.

—Guderian.