

Librarian Gives Best Seller List

By ADDIE MAY NIXON Klamath Falls City Librarian Your editor thinks a short book will be enjoyed by The Herald and News readers. Sometimes we will talk about new books and sometimes about older books you may have missed. At times we will devote all our space another time we will review several people in Klamath Falls realize all that is available for them at their city library. We would like this little chat to be a success, so, perhaps some of you have some suggestions you would like to have us try.

Club Members Tell About Old Times

Mrs. C. H. Underwood was hostess to members of the Art Needlework club Wednesday afternoon. Special guests were Mrs. J. A. Kincaid, and Mrs. G. E. Hill, North Bend, mother of the son-in-law of Mrs. Harold M. Brown, club member. Two members of this, the oldest social club in Klamath Falls, were born in Klamath Falls (Linkville then). They are Mrs. Mae Martin Anderson, and Mrs. Elizabeth Martin Ramsby. Their father, the late Thomas Martin owned and operated the first flour mill in the Klamath basin. The mill was located about one-fourth of a mile up the west side of Link river from the Main street bridge now crossing the stream. The family lived near the mill. Snakes and bull frogs also lived there in abundance.

Children of the neighborhood loved to gather with the six Martin children to play their favorite games. One was "butcher shop," played by whacking off the heads of snakes, hanging them up like hologna, and selling them. Tiring of this game the youngsters played "cattle roundup," riding their stick horses as they rounded up the bull frogs into stick or stone corrals. Each player bore the name of a cattleman then famous in the section. Charlie (now Charles Joseph) was "Big Mitch," for Mitchell who was the biggest cattleman of the time. All the small cowboys obeyed "Big Mitch." In case of a disagreement the battle was not with sticks, stones or fists, but the belligerents seized a snake by the tail and lambasted the enemy with it until peace was restored. To borrow the title of the newest book by an Oregon writer, "Them Was The Days."

There are many pictures that are certainly of interest, and amusement for all of us over 30 years of age. Along with really hundreds of pictures, there is a well written text. There are pictures of the "gay nineties" as well as the "wild twenties," and also pictures of women today. BEST SELLERS Fiction O'Hara—A Range to Live. Caldwell—Let Love Come Last. Open House

Mr. and Mrs. M. Stuart Eiden, 802 S. Riverside, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, October 2, with open house from 1 to 5 o'clock. Both have been residents of Klamath Falls for the last 30 years, coming here from Jackson county where they were members of pioneer families.

Silvered baskets filled with choice flowers decorated the rooms. Many flowers were received from out of town friends and relatives. Mrs. Margaret Landis was in charge of the guest book. At the tea table Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg cut the three tiered cake, and Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones poured. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. A. D. Lambert, Mrs. Hilbert Sargent, Mrs. Ralph Guthrie and Mrs. Howard Dunn. Over fifty friends called during the afternoon to offer congratulations and best wishes.

Delphian Meeting

Delta Gamma Chapter of Delphians will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday, October 11, at 9:45 a. m. in the parlors of the First Methodist church, 9th and High.

Mrs. Warren Bennett will be in charge of the program, which will be a discussion of "Women and Jobs." Mrs. Paul Angstead will talk on "Why Do Women Work?" Mrs. Paul Ferris will present "Problems of the Working Girl."

Mrs. Franklin Weaver's topic will be "Problems of the Employed Wife." Mrs. Robert Thompson is to discuss "What about Her Children?" Mrs. Oliver Spiker has been assigned the subject, "Choosing Your Daughter's Work."

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Twyla Ferguson, who will tell something of what she saw of women in employment in Europe, especially in agriculture. Regular meetings dates of this Delphian chapter are the second and fourth Tuesday mornings of each month.

First Meeting

The first formal meeting of the OTI Faculty Women's club will be held in King hall on Tuesday evening, October 11. The meeting will begin at 7:30 and all members and prospective members are urged to attend.

An interesting social hour is promised by Mrs. S. A. Tyler, program chairman. Mrs. L. French, Mrs. Roy Green, and Mrs. F. L. O'Connell will be in charge of refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fey (Charlotte Carter) have found an apartment in San Francisco and are now moving in. They have been living in Burlingame, Calif.

Hostess for the affair were Mrs. Lester Porterfield, Mrs. Paul Sullivan, Mrs. Virgil Schmoee, Mrs. Donald Ralph, Mrs. Lloyd Hankins, Mrs. Donald Rice and Mrs. Olive Fraley.

Special Guest

Queen Mae Moss was the special guest for the Daughters of the Nile no-host luncheon last Wednesday at the Winema hotel.

Because of the resignation of President Ailsa Kuykendall, who is leaving Klamath Falls, election of officers was the principal business of the meeting.

Elected to serve for the remainder of the year were Ruth Holcomb, president; Edna Jones, vice president; and Phyllis May, secretary-treasurer.

October birthdays were honored. Birthday prize was given to Ada Matthews, and special prize was won by Elsie McNea.

Guest From Sweden

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Carlson entertained a group of friends recently at their home, 703 Delta.

The occasion honored Miss Signe Carlson, who returned to her home in Gotoborg, Sweden, after visiting in Klamath Falls for the past five weeks.

Mrs. Carlson served dinner to the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Selstrom, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nancarrov.

Program committee, Mrs. L. H. Stone, chairman; Mrs. Harry Goeller, Mrs. Dickerson, Mrs. Lewis C. Hornby.

Saturday, October 15, a district DAR meeting will be held in the Pelican party room, a luncheon. The district includes Lakeview, Klamath Falls, Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass and Roseburg. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Mrs. Marie Norris D'Albini, Medford, is president.

At the Monday evening meeting Mrs. Irene Foster was in charge of the program hour, her subject "Preliminary to Genealogy Workshop." Mrs. Foster is state historian of the Oregon DAR and has served the chapter several years as registrar and is thoroughly versed in the mechanics of working out ancestral lines through family history. She has an impressive genealogical library of her own and can give help to prospective members who wish to work out their lines. Mrs. Foster displayed a number of publications which are valuable in tracing ancestry. Mrs. Foster was assisted by Mrs. Wattenburg, who read a prepared paper on Scotch-Irish immigrants to America, and by Mrs. Claud Davis and Mrs. Wilbur Jones who each gave impromptu talks on the different avenues of approach for those trying to work out DAR lines.

Assisting hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Charles Griffiths and Eva Burkhalter.

Surprise Party Mr. and Mrs. John Driscoll of Bonanza were honored last Saturday with a surprise party on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Friends gathered at the Driscoll home and served the honor guests with a decorated anniversary cake. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Nelson Wood of Dairy and Mrs. Kathleen Sumill of Klamath Falls. Those who helped the couple celebrate also included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keeny, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wood, Mr. Walter Ritter of Hildebrand, Lila Driscoll, and Jack Driscoll of Bonanza.
