"Cream Puffs..."

Let your imagination wander for a moment and pick a seat on the middle stripe on Modoc field ten years from now.

"They'll probably still bill the game as a football. But you won't recognize it."

It will actually be "cream puffs at 10 yards."

And if Joe Fink gets rough and slaps an opponent full in the face at a distance closer than 10 yards, he'll not only be a referee, but probably be punched for the rest of the season.

This squib is sneaking in the back door for a major beef. I refer to one play in particular that the boys in black and white—football officials, that is—called Friday night in the Pelican-Springfield fracas.

The Klamath team had the ball deep in Miller territory and a pass was rifled to a Pel receiver on the three-yard stripe.

Two Springfield tacklers—the "meanies"—piled into the Klamath pass-catcher after he caught the ball. The receiver in turn attempted to lateral to another Pel coming up fast but got off to a sloppy throw.

The officials labeled the tackle on the receiver "unnecessary roughness" and the Pel took over on the one-yard line. They piled over for a score shortly thereafter.

Loyal Pelican rooters raised eyebrows and some of the more emphatic Klamath followers made hand-to-nose gestures which, interpreted, meant clearly "it smacks of an unpleasant odor."

It's too bad gridders can't engage in the good 'ol rock and sock type of football without having their wrists slapped.

The glamour of football is hard, clean tackling and blocking. Otherwise, the proper move would be to make it touch football and thus legitimize it.

Lassen JC Beat Owls 39 to 19

SUSANVILLE, Calif., Oct. 10 (Special)—A sharp Lassen Junior college passing attack and the loss of the first half when his right eye was badly gouged.

Oregon Tech held a brief 13 to 6 lead in the second quarter but the Cougars went ahead 24 to 13 at the half and were never headed.

Ken Miller, halfback, was the stickout player for the Owls, scoring two of the Owl touchdowns, one on a sparkling 97-yard kickoff-return scamper in the second half.

Miller's other score came on a 10-yard end sweep in the first quarter. Chuck Warren added the third score with a 27-yard gallop.

Three of the six Cougar tallies were by the air route. End Roy Franceschini scored two, Ed Gorbet one. Halfback Armado Carraro scored twice and Quarterback Guido Tonin added the sixth.

A safety added two points when Gorbet caught an Owl behind the line and dropped him with a tackle.

Troy, Bears In Top Coast Grid Tangle

USC, California, Bruins Keep Clean Conference Slate

College football in the Far West reaches the midseason mark this week-end with three teams still undefeated in the big championship chase.

The coast conference title fight, with the Rose Bowl nomination as the post-season prize, now looms among Southern California, California and the University of California at Los Angeles. These three have unmarried league records.

One of the favorites may tumble out of contention Saturday when Southern California's Trojans and California's Bears come to grips at Berkeley.

The UCLA Bruins play outside the circuit this week, meeting Santa Clara.

Odds makers rate the USC-California battle as strictly a toss-up. Unbeaten California returns from a sortie to the Midwest where it outscored Wisconsin, 35-20. The Bears put together 41 and 65-yard touchdown drives in the third period to build up a substantial lead.

Southern California played a speedy and favored Ohio State club to a 13-13 tie.

Stanford and Washington, beaten in their initial conference starts last week, will try to beat their way back into contenders' roles Saturday at Seattle. Stanford bowed 7-14 to UCLA and favored Washington came out on the short end of a 7-3 score with Oregon State.

The speedy Stanford squad fumbled a punt to pave the way for the first UCLA touchdown from 13 yards out and the Bruins turned a pass interception into another counter. Statistically, Stanford outscored the Bruins 21 to 1.

Oregon, after walloping Washington State, 21-0, entertains Colorado. It figures to beat the Rocky Mountain entry. Washington State will rate the favorite's spot over Idaho, idle last week.

The Pelicans Friday night took advantage of fumbles, anemic punts and wild, desperation passes to pile up a huge score.

But, with very few exceptions, the Pel offense went geared up high enough to wallop a tough Medford team, the next feature on Modoc field.

My prediction is that Gene Carlson will end the season as the best running back on the squad. Gene reeled off lots of yardage Friday night on pure power, without blocking help.

The Pels met a one-man team Friday night. The one man is Gerald Jenkins but not good enough to carry the load. Springfield was weak offensively, except for an occasional spurt by Jenkins and puny defensiveness.

The Pelican stock remains at the same price after the Miller affair.

The one chance I can see—and this is an outside chance—is for the Pels to repel Jack Morris with a stout line and put together one sustained drive for a score.

The Black Tornados can knock themselves silly in the middle of the Klamath line but can go places on end sweeps.

JVs Wallop Medford, 27-7

The KUHS Jayvees unraveled an accurate aerial game Saturday to blast the Black Tornado Jayvees, 27 to 7, on the Medford field.

Medford didn't score until the final quarter when Connor riced 55 yards on a punt return.

Passes from Bill Toole paved the way for three of the Klamath scores. Toole rifled one to Rod Davis for 24 yards ending on the Medford 7-yard marker. Davis bulled over from there.

A forward-lateral, Toole to West to Davis ended on the Peaplickers' 12. Fullback A. Herrera smashed over a few plays later from the two-yard line. A Toole-to-Buff pass set up a touchdown play on the seven-yard line. Herrera again blasted over the line. Buff scored on 10-yard end sweep for the fourth score.

Dale Carr kicked three of the four points after touchdown.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Frank Parker of Los Angeles won the men's singles championship of the Pan-American tournament defeating Jaroslav Drobny, self-exiled Czech, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Doris Hart, Jacksonville, Fla., won the women's singles, beating Betty Hilton of England, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—When Ebbs field was opened in 1913 with an exhibition game between Brooklyn and the Yankees, one of the young Brooklyn athletes was a Casey Stengel. . . the same Stengel, older and more grizzled, piloted the Yankees to a World Series victory over the Dodgers Friday.

but first he spent some time recalling that opening day and how Brooklyn's undersized park looked then. . . "There was no screen above the right field wall and no bleachers out there in center field. . . they'd put up circus seats on big days, especially when we had our championship team in 1916."

Casey paused when an usher brought a program and asked him to sign it for Connie Mack. . . a writer took advantage to ask: "Could those players hit the kind of pitching Preacher Roe showed yesterday?" . . . that almost stopped Casey. "We weren't hitting him and we have some pretty good hitters. What's DiMaggio if he hasn't been a great hitter for years? . . . I would not say those fellows couldn't hit him; I'm going to a dinner for them tonight. . . we had a pretty darn good club and we got the heck beat out of us in the World Series."

HORNETS DRUB PANTHERS, TROJANS, GRIZZLIES TIE

Malin and Merrill ride atop the county B league although the Mustangs hold the mathematical lead with three wins against no losses. The Huskies have a 2-0 record.

Saturday afternoon the Henley Hornets leaped back into the winning circle, after their surprising loss to Merrill the week before, with a 13 to 6 victory over Chiloquin.

The Hornets held a 7-0 half time lead when Quarterback Dick Adams equaled over from the five-yard line on a sneak play in the second quarter. Dean Wells booted the extra point.

The Panthers closed the gap in the third quarter when they recovered a Hornet fumble on the three-yard line and boomed over for a score. The extra point missed fire.

In the fourth stanza, Wells culminated a 98-yard drive with a four-yard line blast. Just prior to the downfield surge, Delbert Arant, left halfback, raced 97 yards for a score but the play was nullified on a penalty.

Sacred Heart broke a sixteen game losing streak Saturday afternoon when they tied Gilchrist 0-0. The Trojans fell short of victory twice in the closing moments of the game.

A touchdown-bound aerial missed fire when the receiver let the pigskin slip through his fingers and a scoring play was nullified on an offside penalty.

Bronc Rally Beats Pilots

LODI, Calif., Oct. 10 (AP)—A three-touchdown splurge in the second half gave Santa Clara a 26-13 win over a stubborn Portland university eleven yesterday. The Pilots led the Californians 7-6 at halftime.

Portland counted its initial tally in the first period when Halfback John Freeman skirted end for 13 yards. The final counter came in the fourth period with Freeman taking a 36-yard toss from Dale Gier on the 39 and racing over.

Yankees Win Final, 10 to 6

New York, Brooklyn Both Ready to Rest

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—Both the victorious Yankees and defeated Dodgers were relieved when the world series and the 1949 baseball season ended. The Yanks won 10 to 6 yesterday for their fourth and clinching victory.

Brooklyn's National league representatives, who won only the second of the five games, seemed less depressed or surprised than glad it was all over. New York's American league and world champions who, like Brooklyn, had gone through a tough stretch drive in the pennant race, were elated over their success, but ready for a well deserved rest.

Said Casey Stengel, the Yankee skipper: "That last week was tough for both clubs. They had to beat the Phillies; we had the Red Sox. We had just enough to last five games more, that's all."

Casey added, "I never saw a club with greater spirit than this one."

Burt Shotton, the Dodgers manager, said: "They (the Yankees) have got a little bit more what you need in a world series. But we'll be eager when we meet them next fall."

"Sure, we got beat, beaten good, but I'm proud of every one of my boys. We just weren't quite ready for a series of this type."

Joe Page, the Yanks' famous fireman, revealed that he had joined the lengthy list of injured New Yorkers. (The Yankees won their pennant despite 71 different injuries.) Page said he had hurt his left hand Friday and couldn't throw curves yesterday. He pointed to the tendon between his left thumb and index finger of his pitching hand. "It was hurt right there. As a result, I couldn't get off my curves. I only threw one today."

Although Joe DiMaggio finally snapped out of his series slump with a home run, he said he still felt weak from that virus infection and wasn't meeting the ball right. The Yankee clipper also hit two other National league drives that were caught yesterday.

"They weren't well hit balls," Joe remarked. "I still was swinging behind the ball."

Yank Catcher Yogi Berra said his injured, swollen thumb felt worse than ever, then added, "but we won, so what the hell?"

Gerry Coleman, the Yankees' young second baseman, probably got the biggest kick out of being on the winning side. "What a thrill!" he kept repeating, "wasn't it wonderful!"

And the quietest was Pitcher Vic Raschi. Yanks starting pitcher who went out in the seventh inning. He said, "I just got tired and it was darned hot out there." He advised that it was a fast ball which Gil Hodges smashed in the seventh for a three-run homer.

Rex Barney, Brooklyn pitcher knocked out in the third inning. "I felt good and I wasn't nervous. I probably had too much rest since my last start."

Gil Hodges, verifying Raschi's remark that it was a fast ball he hit for his homer, grinned, "it was about time to get a hold of one of them."

Peo Wee Reese, who played well in the series but for a lost Brooklyn cause, gave the opinion that Bobby Brown, Yankee third baseman, was the chief thorn in the Dodgers' side. "He gave us the most trouble in the 1947 series, too," recalled the Dodger shortstop and captain. "He's rough up at that plate."

49ers Blast Browns

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' bubble has burst. In fact, it has exploded.

After a two-year domination of the All-America football conference, during which they were unbeaten through 29 consecutive contests, the Browns finally came apart yesterday, but good.

San Francisco, an arch-enemy, dispelled the illusion of invincibility with a thundering 36-28 route of the Browns, and in doing so also recorded their first victory over the league champions since early 1946.

In handing the Browns their fourth conference loss in almost four years, the rugged 49ers replaced the Clevelanders as league-leaders. The Frisco wrecking crew has a 5-1-0 record; the Browns 4-1-1.

A wild coast gathering of 39,770 saw their "boy"—Frankie Albert—set a conference record for touchdowns. The former Stanford magician flipped five scoring aerials in the thrill-a-minute contest.

The other conference game saw the Los Angeles Dons upset the Buffalo Bills, 42-28. Glenn Dobbs fired the winners' attack with 283 yards passing, good for two touchdowns, and an additional 48 yards ground-wise.

Meanwhile, in the National league, the Los Angeles Rams cracked the Chicago Bears, 31-16, to take over sole leadership in the western division.

Mills Eleven Loses, 33-0

The Conger-Pelican-Fremont team walloped Mills, 33 to 0, Saturday in the first week of grade school grid play on Modoc practice field.

Scott Hartley scored three of the five touchdowns, two of them on long 65 and 70 yard gallops. Bob Abraham added the other two scores.

In the other game on the program, Roosevelt and Fairview-Riverside battled to a 0-0 tie.

Re-Armed, brother of Armed, champion money winning gelding, began his racing career with a victory at Belmont park.

Irish, Tulane Clash In Week's Top Game

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame replaced Army as the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll in 1946 and 1947. Michigan, which beat out Notre Dame in a post-season poll in 1947, was declared the best team in the land last year.

Michigan, which topped the poll last week also, goes against Northwestern's Rose Bowl champions Saturday.

In the first weekly poll of the year Notre Dame was ranked second and Tulane fourth. The two teams clash Saturday.

Two other high-placed eleven bong heads in a game that will vie with the South Bend attraction for attention will be the Ohio State-Minnesota duel at Columbus, O.

These two teams are on the upsurge in the western conference and are battling for the crown and Rose Bowl bid. Minnesota was rated fifth last week and Ohio State eleventh.

Another game pits the eighth and tenth ranked teams—southern California and California—at Berkeley.

Other members of the top ten should have less rugged sailing. Oklahoma, No. 3, plays Kansas. North Carolina, No. 6, takes on Wake Forest. Army, No. 7, takes on Wake Forest. Army, No. 7, takes on Wake Forest.

Southern Methodist, ninth in the list, plays a night game with formidable Rice.

Army's Black Knights of the Hudson turned in one of their greatest triumphs in stunning Michigan, 21-7, before 97,235 at Ann Arbor.

A ten-point underdog, the Cadets smashed for touchdown in the first two periods.

It was Michigan's first defeat in 26 games.

Michigan's foe this week, Northwestern, bowed to Minnesota, 21-7. California remained unbeaten by trouncing Wisconsin, 35-20.

A real contender is Red Sanders' UCLA team, which won its fourth straight game by beating Stanford, 14-7.

Oklahoma continued down its grinding way by whipping a stout Texas eleven, 20-14. North Carolina kept its record intact by downing South Carolina, 28-13.
