Chiloquin

Captain Gale Rice, who is stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska, has spent the past two weeks visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rice. He made the trip south at this time to try his luck at der hunting (It was good). Rice had earlier this year killed a moose on an Alaskan hunting trip. Mrs. Rice remained in Alaska as did Rice's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Vestal, who has been visiting in Fairbanks since late July.

Hunt Guests

Recent hunting guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parazoo were relatives from Southern. Visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Parazoo and Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Parazoo and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wolff of Medford were recent guests at the Wolff ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren of Redding were Chiloquin visitors a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Potter left on Tuesday for their home in Modesto, Calif. after they and their children, Dennis and Donald Lyle, had visited here for several days. The Potters visited with Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Potter and with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peier and Jayne Flury.

The Potters moved to Modesto last spring and he has been working for the city sanitation department. Since they moved south their older boy, Donald, has been released from Shrine hospital in Portland with his hip deformity nearly corrected and the little five-year-old boy is now attending kindergarten. The younger boy Dennis was hospitalized for several days this summer when he swallowed a piece of lead and came close to losing his life before doctors successfully operated on the three-year-old. It was Dennis's second experience with swallowing unusual objects. Last year he swallowed a pumpe seed and was hospitalized. The Potters left and will be followed in a few days by a shipment of frozen venison, the result of a successful hunt over the weekend.

Doris Ann Diullo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diullo, fell from a high bar at the grade school last Monday and fractured her left arm. Doris Ann, a second grader, is only waiting until she can use the bars again and is hoping for one in her own yard.

The bake sale sponsored last Friday by the Cub Scout mothers was a sellout according to Mrs. Claude Parazoo, chairman of the event. The sale, which was held at the Copco office, will give funds for materials needed by the pack.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCain and son Richard of Tillamook, were week-end visitors in Chiloquin and stayed with McCain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" McCain.

Sprague River had its first snow Thursday night. The ground was covered with a beautiful white blanket. But it had completely disappeared by morning. It also had its disadvantages for Mrs. S. A. Shepherd who slipped and fell on the snow covered walk at her home and broke her glasses causing a deep gash above her left eye. She was rushed to the Klamath Falls hospital where it was treated and found necessary to put in several stitches to close the wound.

Mrs. Dave Wann

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Dave Wann of Grants Pass, Oregon. She is a former resident of Sprague River. Her husband was a partner of the late B. E. Wolford in the Wolford and Wann General store. It was first located in Yanlax later moving to Sprague River where they operated until the store was completely lost by fire in 1938. Mrs. Wann is survived by her husband, a son, Tommy and a daughter Helen. The Wann's eldest son, Dannie, was killed during the war in the Pacific.

Sprague River had a few successful hunters the first few days of the season. Bob and Gladys Passolt, Dean Parks, Betty Moore and W. D. Kelly each brought home a fine buck.
