Lions Plan Big New City On Empty Illinois Prairie

CHICAGO, (NEA)—Twenty-seven miles south of Chicago's Loop, a new city is about to be born. Surveying has already begun on "Liondom," a multi-million-dollar project of the International Association of Lions Clubs. Three to four hundred acres of now-vacant prairie will soon sprout forth homes, shops, office buildings, a parking lot and even a cemetery. Silver-haired Melvin Jones, founder and secretary-general of the organization, says the project "isn't any vision or dream city. It got out of the dream stage long ago and was always more than a gleam in the architect's eye. It's going up—and soon." Lions International headquarters will remain in downtown Chicago, but the new site will include space for additional offices and storage facilities, a post office and library, motels for visitors, a hotel with banquet rooms, hospitals, schools, colleges, churches, a printing plant and an old people's home. The envisioned cemetery will be known as the "Garden of Memories." The project grew out of a need for expansion of present headquarters and to provide for member Lions visiting the Chicago area. The Lions' new center now employs more than 225 persons, many of whom are expected to make their homes in Liondom. Jones has announced that 1000 of the 7454 clubs in 26 countries are raising $1000 each to help build the model town. Realizing that America's population is growing at the rate of a million, publicity director of the Lions, International conclude that it would be up to employers and groups like their own to provide housing for employees and members. Low-cost housing is one of the principal goals. Homes in the $10,000 class are under discussion.

although no specific plans for homes have so far been adopted. William Bird, publicity director of the Lions, says that building will probably start next year. The Lions will hold their 1950 convention in Chicago and the directors intend to have something concrete to show conventioners, he says. Already more than $500,000 has been spent for land, and more may be bought. Additional millions will be required for actual building. Negotiations for the property so far acquired were carried on in secret so the price of the land would not skyrocket. At least $38,000 was voluntarily contributed soon after announcement of the Liondom project. The tract for the new city lies along the Illinois Central suburban tracks, with a switchback and a station at which all I. C. trains stop. The Loop is 47 minutes away by rail. For commuters, a 400-car parking lot by the station will provide the finishing touch.

Rabbits Plague New Yorkers

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the increasing number of people in the New York metropolitan area, small game still is available not many miles from the downtown skyscraper area. Particularly is this true with rabbits, who seem to delight in making home gardens an important source of their food supply.
