HIGH SCHOOL News and Comments

By Flo Ann Perkins

By official proclamation of the mayor of Klamath Falls, Robert Thompson, today is official "Beat Medford Day" and every student in high school seemed to be out to beat them in enthusiasm as well as the score at the game tonight.

• • •

Last night's bonfire rally drew a very large crowd and the program included yells and songs and skits. Jim Manning's suggestion that the bonfire rally become a KUHS tradition met with hearty approval. Mayor Thompson, who acted as master of ceremonies, assured the students that as long as he was mayor, KUHS could have the bonfire.

• • •

The most recent example of the students' school spirit was of course the serpentine down Main street this afternoon. The entire student body paraded in single file down the street and various clubs also entered events. The Chess club entered a float with a large coffin symbolizing Medford in front of a scoreboard reading: "Klamath, 99—Medford, 0." Latin club members dressed in togas were led down the street by Caesar himself. Spanish club members however paraded in a Spanish conga line saying, "uno, dos, tres, keek."

• • •

One novel organization entered in the parade is one entirely new to the student body. The group has named itself "The Little Men's Marching and Chowder Society" and it is limited to the present four members—Marvin Nerseth, Angus Stewart, Doug Liechty and John Oliver. Probably the most spectacular thing about the group is the uniforms which include enormous white overalls, black derbys and black umbrellas. In reality these boys are the ones who operate the scoreboard and clock, but they state that their actual purpose is the preservation of marching and the consumption of chowder.

• • •

Handling the halftime narration at Modoc field for each Pelican grid game, Corliss Mayfield has a man-sized job of describing the color at these events. The technique involved in public address requires much more patient work and rehearsal and the techniques differ from the ordinary mike techniques for the radio in that it is a matter of slower tempo and more articulation.

• • •

It was planned yesterday to bring over the Medford student body president, Warren Wendt, in time for the pep assembly and rally today. KUHS Student Body President Wayne Carothers felt such a plan would improve relations between the schools.

Panel Fences To Protect Haystacks

LAKEVIEW—Alfalfa haystacks in areas critically damaged by deer in the winter time are to be protected by panel fencing specially built and loaned to ranchers by the Oregon State Game commission.

William C. Lightfoot, game commission agent in Lake and Klamath counties, said that 800 of these panels had been received here and have been loaned out to ranchers. The stacks in areas which annually suffer heavy damage from marauding deer are protected first.

The panels, eight feet by eight feet square, are built of 1x6 inch material. The game commission had such panels built for use throughout eastern Oregon.

Nominees' Acceptances Due Tuesday

LAKEVIEW—The deadline for filing written acceptances of nominations by those who were nominated for town offices at the recent nominating convention will be Tuesday October 18. On Wednesday of this week nearly all the nominees had filed their acceptance.

The same deadline, October 18, applies to the filing of nominating petitions for any others who wish to be candidates for town offices at the November 8 election. Thirty signatures of qualified voters are required on such petitions.

Court Quitting

Ed Court, present recorder, who was nominated at the convention, said Wednesday that he will not file his acceptance as he wishes to leave the office at the close of the year. He plans to retire and do considerable traveling. The only other nominee who has not filed his acceptance is Clarence Byington, nominee for councilman. Acceptances have been filed by the following: For mayor, Carl Lange and S. H. Sawyer. For recorder, Clarence Fessler. For councilmen, Dr. A. E. Naslund, H. W. Mercer, Homer Powell. For treasurer, Walter Bowne and Ben Wilkerson.

The planting crew will work south of the Owl and on some 2000 acres along the Wilson river highway.

Poultry, Egg Strike Again Postponed

PORTLAND, Oct. 14 (AP)—There will be no strike of AFL egg and poultry workers in Portland at least until Monday.

A previous strike deadline was postponed yesterday, for the third time, in order to conduct a vote on a new contract offer by the Pacific Co-operative Poultry Producers and the Brentwood Egg company. Terms were not disclosed.
