GN Plans Big Improvements

An Associated Press release from New York reports that directors of Great Northern Railway authorized more than $27,000,000 of improvement expenditures for 1950.

However, local GN officials stated that "an unappreciable" amount of this appropriation would be spent in this area.

Southern Pacific officials report that the turnout for last week's safety meeting was very encouraging. In the neighborhood of 250 railway men and their families attended the safety confab in the Legion hall.

Hermie Foster, SP traveling freight and passenger agent, returned to work Monday after a two-week vacation.

Iva Winkleman, roadmaster clerk for Southern Pacific, is in the SP general hospital in San Francisco for major surgery. Miss Winkleman will be relieved by Mrs. Marguerite Dunn.

One of the many railroad men to bag a buck this season was Roadmaster Clerk William Hungate. Hungate dropped a 170-pound three-pointer in Langell valley last Saturday.

The majority of the railway men are back on the job after vacations. Some of them are telling about the "big one" and others just aren't talking.

Al Cotter, clerk in Southern Pacific's freight office, motored to Portland recently to return his mother and father home. Al's father, Bert, is a retired SP conductor.

Fairbanks Bellinger, Southern Pacific, went to Eugene on business last week.

James Farley, who was a car inspector for SP before losing his foot in an accident recently, left Monday for SP's San Francisco hospital.

SP Cashier Andy Sullivan and his wife and Signal Foreman A. V. Kenoyer and wife visited Scott's Bar Sunday. Both men shot colored film of the area during the stay.

Another railroad nimrod to bag a deer recently was Sylvester Unruh, section foreman for SP. Unruh hit the target on a forked horn on Gearhart mountain the opening day of deer season.

Use Nitrogen To Up Yield

Add a 40-pound-to-the-acre application of available nitrogen this fall on alta fescue, chewings fescue, perennial ryegrass and other perennial grasses to be cut for seed, and reap the benefit next year at harvest.

The result of the nitrogen applications will be increased seed yields as well as additional growth yet this fall which will provide more fall pasturing, according to Leroy Warner, OSC extension soil specialist. Stimulated growth will also reduce thinning from winter injury, he adds.

Forty pounds of available nitrogen is contained in 200 pounds of ammonium sulphate, 150 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 250 pounds of 16-20.

Cheap Wheat, Industry Hike, Bureau Told

PENDLETON, Oct. 20 (AP)—If wheat were cheaper, industrial uses for it might be set up in the Pacific northwest.

That was the report of Richard Baum, marketing analyst for the Oregon state wheat commission, to the Pendleton farm bureau Tuesday night.

He said that several milling companies would like to build plants in the northwest to use wheat in manfacturing sugar and food flavoring, and starches for mayonnaise and pie fillers.

The chief obstacle, he said, is that corn, which can be used for the same purpose, is cheaper than wheat.

Many More Homes Mortgage Free

NEW YORK, (AP)—Nearly three out of every five of the nation's home owners have no mortgages on their property, according to a Tile Council of America report. About 64 per cent of small town or rural homes are mortgage-free, says the report which is based on recent government surveys. In metropolitan areas, 44 per cent have no mortgages. The over-all national figure is about 57 per cent.

Today's average mortgage of $3700 is nearly 50 per cent higher than 1940's. But this doesn't mean home owners are more heavily mortgaged than before the war, the council says. The "livability" value of American homes has been increased by such improvements as automatic heating, modernized baths and kitchens, and better insulation.

A television show such as "Stop the Music" requires a cast of 138 persons to put it on the air.

4-H and FFA members, and World War II veterans will be exclusive bidders at a combined auction sale of purebred registered Guernsey heifers, which will be held at 1 p. m, Saturday, October 22, at the Oregon state fair grounds. This sale is sponsored by the Oregon Guernsey Breeders' association, and is the fourth such sale to be held in the state in an effort to make available to the future breeders good foundation animals which they can add to their projects in order to build quality Guernsey herds.

A total of 32 head of heifers, ranging in age from 6 months to 2 year olds, some of which are bred and some of which have already freshened, are to be consigned to the sale. Twenty-four of the heifers will be open to bidding by 4-H and FFA members only, 8 head will be open to bidding World War II veterans only. Lunch will be available at the sale pavilion at noon.

Red Clover Crop Lower

The Red clover seed crop this year is indicated to be 25 per cent smaller than last year and 18 per cent below the 1938-47 average according to the Agricultural Bureau of Economics. The decreased production is due entirely to a reduction in acreage. The national indicated yield is 59 pounds per acre.

A decreased yield is reported both in Washington and Idaho and the Oregon crop snows a slight reduction over a year ago.

The present supply of red clover seed is 13 per cent smaller than in 1948 and 12 per cent below the 5-year average.

Cut Food Bills; Store Vegetables, Fruits at Home; Agent Tells How

Home storage of vegetables and fruits can always be a source of low cost food for the winter months. Cold, well ventilated basements in the home, cellars or storage buildings under barns or out-buildings, or small out-buildings, make excellent storage.

Storage places should be cool and have air circulation, although not in excess so as to be drafty. Air circulation not only changes the air to carry off odors, but also helps to maintain the desired temperature and humidity.

Barrels, crates, boxes and baskets are excellent for storage. They are easily removed for cleaning, which gives them the advantage over built-in bins.

Caution

The county agents office cautions that produce should be handled with all possible care. Bruises and skin breaks will cause rapid breakdown and rotting. One chief difficulty experienced in storage of vegetables, has been that use was made of a place with too high a temperature.

All root crops, onions, cabbage and potatoes should be stored at temperatures below 50 degrees, but not cold enough to freeze. Pumpkins and squash require cold, dry storage, with temperatures held around 50 degrees.

Simple

A simple pile outside of such vegetables as carrots, turnips or potatoes is satisfactory when they are placed in a bed of straw or leaves and covered with the same material. The covering of straw should be at least 3 inches thick, with a thick covering of earth over the whole pile.

A barrel laid on its side and filled with root crops, cabbage heads, etc., is very satisfactory. The barrel should be well insulated outside with a thick layer of thick straw, covered with at least 6 to 8 inches of soil.

Bulletins are available in the county agents office, with complete details on storage of fruits and vegetables for home consumption.

Two Theatre Video Methods Applied

NEW YORK (AP)—Two methods have been developed and applied in theatre screen size projection of television.

One of them, the direct method, contains a special high voltage receiving tube with a reflecting lens system to blow up the image as it travels to a 15 by 20 foot screen or larger. The tube requires 80,000 volts or more to supply the proper light.

The other system, indirect, uses a high speed film process. The received image is photographed on special motion picture film passed immediately through a developer and then into a projector and onto the screen. The elapsed time between received picture and projection has been reduced to 20 seconds.
