

Bird Shooters Have That Twitch

By BILL JENKINS
THERE'S something about this time of the year that makes a duck hunter turn and toss in his bed, stare intently at nothing and fall to hear remarks addressed to him. Could it be that the season opens tomorrow?

Took off a few minutes (?) early yesterday and drove around through some of the shooting areas. More ducks and more geese than I ever saw in the basin area before. Seems like that same comment was made by lots of people last year and pretty well proved out. Could be that this year the hunting will be even better. If possible. Depends a lot on how the weather acts and whether we get an iron-hard freeze on all the ponds during the second half. Anyway, it'll all be fun for those who like bird shooting.

SUFFER from seasickness? If so, your troubles may be over at last. The army has the situation well in hand. A new drug called dramamine is presently being tested by army troops engaged in a huge war maneuver in the Hawaii area. According to the reports it greatly relieves if not cures most mal-de-mer within a few moments of administration. The army has been traveling on its stomach for years. At last the brass is doing something about it besides talk.

OREGON has scored another step forward with the near completion of the Dorena dam. Dedication ceremonies will be held next Sunday on the Row river near Cottage Grove. The $8,000,000 structure is expected to pay for itself in about 13 years through decreased damage from erosion and land losses. Given sufficient time we might get the flood control situation pretty well in hand. Then we can sit back and wait for Los Angeles to come up for the Columbia river.

THE simple business of installing a traffic light is not always so simple as one might think. The one going in at the Main and Esplanade corner is requiring a good deal of digging, hammering, drilling and general confusion for the sidewalk superintendents. It is always slightly amazing that order can come out of the chaos created in any building project, but it always does.

QUESTION for the day: When does a man cease being broad-minded and become simply thick-headed?

It Pays to Use the Want-Ads.

Baby Stroller Owner Sought

This is "baby stroller week" at the local police department. According to Desk Sergeant Walter Thorne, there is a blue and cream colored baby stroller taking up valuable space in his office and he wishes its owner would claim it.

The stroller fell off a truck passing by the bus depot at 9th and Klamath about 4:30 Wednesday. An officer who was in the vicinity tried to hail the truck driver, but to no avail.

Yesterday, police were asked to locate another stroller, and incidentally a barracks bag containing $1000 worth of clothes, lost by C. L. Clemmer.

So far no trace has been found of the lost articles, or the owner of the blue and cream colored baby stroller.

NOSTALGIA NOTES STILL DESTROYED VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 20 (AP) A 100-gallon still located 22 miles northeast of Woodland, Wash., was destroyed Tuesday night, a federal alcohol tax agent testified in a federal commissioner's hearing yesterday.

C. L. Staley, the agent, said he destroyed the still after arresting Ernest J. Marshall here. Staley filed against Marshall a charge of concealing liquor on which the federal tax had not been paid. He said when he arrested Marshall, a resident of rural Vancouver, he confiscated six gallons of whiskey. Marshall was held to federal court trial under $2500 bail.
