

Democrats Ponder Postmaster Choice In Meeting Tonight

By HALE SCARBOROUGH

Main topic of business to come before the Klamath county democratic organization tonight is selection of the person it will back for appointment as the next Klamath Falls postmaster, the top federal patronage job opening locally.

Appointment will be by President Truman, with confirmation by the senate, but the recommendation of the county democratic central committee is expected to go a long way

Autopsy Set In Woman's Strange Death

LAKEVIEW—Mrs. Cecile Hutson, 48-year-old wife of Carrol Burdett Hutson, 48, cook at Hotel Lakeview, died shortly after 10:30 p.m. last night at the family home, 105 G street, from what appears to be poison.

Sheriff Tom Elliott and District Attorney Robert Welch were making an investigation today following the woman's death and an autopsy was scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday at Crowley-Osteman mortuary.

Tulelake Men Appear On Fight Charges

TULELAKE—Two Tulelake men appeared voluntarily to answer charges of assault and battery against a visitor from Klamath Falls, before Police Judge Victoria Thaler. Both posted $150 bail.

John Thompson and his employer, Robert E. McLeay, both of Tulelake, walked into court late Friday afternoon when they learned warrants were out for their arrest following a fracas at the Sportsman's hotel Wednesday night.

County Tax Bills Mailed

Forty thousand tax bills totaling $3,488,899.56 were dropped into the mail yesterday afternoon and the Klamath county tax office is clearing its decks now to begin collecting.

The bills were mailed out a few days later than usual because of a delay in completing the tax roll.

Lost Hunter Found Safe

John Edward Lawver, 38, of 4835 Homedale, was located yesterday afternoon after two days lost in the woods on a deer hunting trip.

He was unarmed but had lost his way in the Antler springs country at the southeastern corner of Klamath county, the sheriff's office reported.

Plant 'Em, Don't Store 'Em

A story which appeared in Thursday's farm section of The Herald and News might have caused some confusion to gardeners with its incorrect reference to bulbs.

The item stated that daffodils and narcissus should be dug up and stored in the fall. Actually it should have read just the opposite. Fall is the time to plant both daffodil and narcissus bulbs.
