Hall Hotel Building Sale Recalls Stories Of Early Days

Bert Withrow and Allen Sloan housed their Klamath County Abstract company.

When, in order to get the name, the Klamath County bank bought the First National bank, and with the other assets, the building now occupied by The California Power company, that building was about five steps above street level.

Moved

The newcomers lowered the floor in the street level and moved across to the new location. Leslie Rogers was selected as cashier and manager, replacing Alex Martin Jr., who had made connections with the First National Bank of Eugene. A. R. Campbell was appointed assistant cashier, and the old Klamath County bank with its many memories of community development

Czech Traffic School Aids Police

PRAGUE, (AP) — Czechoslovakia pedestrians and drivers who disregard traffic regulations have been ordered to attend special Sunday courses in safety rules.

The order was issued after a "Traffic Safety Week" during which police, assisted by members of the youth front, taught people how to walk or drive over crossings in the cities. The first three days were devoted to warnings but the latter half of the week brought fines to traffic trespassers.

Henceforth a violator gets a ticket ordering him to school.

Earthworms are found all over the world except in frozen regions, dry sandy soils and in certain parts of North American prairies.

Wocus

While on a hunting trip with her sister, Pearl Fairy of Bend, Myrtle Marshall bagged a three-point buck before deer season closed.

Lester Pridemore was proud to bring back a three-point buck Saturday, October 22, when he hunted in the Greenings area.

Howard and Robert McGee each bagged a four-point buck in the hunting area near their Fort Rock ranch. When duck season opened they came down to Wocus to visit their folks over the week-end of October 22, went for a hunt on upper Klamath lake and brought back their limit of ducks.

In the last printing of Wocus news a printing error was made stating Zelma Howard had sold a 1949 Chevrolet to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton before that couple left for an extended visit through the mid-west. The Mortons did not purchase the car from Mrs. Howard. It was obtained from the regular dealer who handles that particular make of car.

However, Mrs. Howard tells of several car salesmen driving out to try to sell her one of their make, on the strength of reading the misprint.

A card received by this correspondent from M. J. Shumate formerly of Wocus, who operated the North Klamath trailer park and a key shop in town, tells of a "slight" accident on the way back to South Carolina where the former Wocus man is now attending medical school at Columbia. He said no member of his family was injured in the accident, and they were able to continue on with out much delay. He also stated—"school is a good deal harder than it was 20 years ago!"

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reichart and young son, were visitors at the Jim Hein home October 22. The Reicharts were next door neighbors of the Helms a little over a year ago, but now live at Lapine.

Fourteen Wocus school children were invited to the birthday anniversary of six-year-old Peggy Jo Buck, October 24. A circus theme planned by Peggy's mother was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. A miniature merry-go-round that played real music furnished entertainment for the youngsters. Place cards were made of cookies and pink animal crackers. Clown's faces painted on up-side down ice cream cones, with paper lace dollies used for the clown's ruff, were served with a blue cake decorated with pink animal crackers.

Mrs. Goodfellow, mother of Mrs. Paul Buck, left for her home at Salem October 26 after having spent the past two months with her daughter.

Among those from Wocus to attend the 13th annual potato festival held at Merrill Saturday were Mrs. Albert Barrett, Mrs. Doll Burgess and daughter Janie, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurd. Hurd appeared on the J. W. Kerns float, which was entered in the parade, and represented a potato field in the process of being harvested. With the men
