between the knees, the barrels bent backward to swing above the ears and on either side of the head. That is why many avid hunters have funny looking ears, but Vic has not been hunting a long enough to become so cauliflowered.

Avids are usually carried home inside hunters' hats as there is neither a legal limit or legal time to shoot avids. Avids are delicious when cooked and should be potted. This has no reflection on the community standing of the hunter.

But Vic O'Neill still is an avid hunter as far as we're concerned.

Another carload Grants Pass bound Friday afternoon was driven by Ed Geary who took his charges to a valley hotel later, whether to get success from freshman chatter or to escape the Greenprints at night, we haven't discovered. Ed's guests were daughter Alice, Diane Oldenburg, Lorolou Holph, Denice Kenyon and Jana Langslet.

Scroptimists are gathering up Christmas gifts, yes, it's almost time for shipment to the sister club at Brighton-Hove, England. The girls overseas are particularly partial to sweets, such as the dried fruits which are so hard to obtain in England, and also the nylon underthings, including hosiery. The makings of a Christmas cake, including the candied fruits, canned cake topping, packaged cake mix, and several cans of spices such as nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves, is the idea of one member, and would go nicely in any overseas package.

Until Thursday, most of the news staff of this paper thought "the grey, green, grey Limpopo river" was a figment of Kipling's brain. Remember in "How the Elephant Got His Trunk," and he is nearly pulled into the grey, green, etc. by the enemy? But in comes an item by one of the churches telling of a missionary here from the Limpopo river in Africa. Which only goes to show—

Mrs. Harry Jackman had little time to spend at her cabin at Lake o' the Woods this summer, so she is taking advantage of the lovely Indian summer weather at the lake. Mrs. Jackman thinks she'll stay until snow flies. Last winter it "flew" in September, but there have been years when driving to the lake at Christmas was delightful.

Mrs. Loren Palmerton and daughter Nadine, (Mrs. Virgil Hanks), will leave this week-end for San Francisco. Nadine has been here for several weeks. The Hanks have just recently purchased a new home in San Francisco and have been busy as bees decorating and moving in.

Klamath Falls students are making names for themselves at colleges around the country. At Oregon State college Rosemary Bugbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hughey, has been named layout editor of the Beaver, OSC yearbook. She is a sophomore.

The cast for the college play, "A Date With Judy," to be presented by students of Armstrong's college on December 9, will be led by Evelyn Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rowland. Evelyn will play the part of "Judy," the starring role.

Three "hometown girls" have been elected officers in their units in Carson Hall dormitory on the University of Oregon campus. Mary Griffiths, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffiths, and Erlene Wheeler have been elected social chairmen, and Donna Worden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Worden, has been elected standards chairman. Mary is a senior majoring in biology, Erlene is a senior in psychology, and Donna is a sophomore majoring in liberal arts.

Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Brown, will desert the compounds of the chemical laboratory at Reed college just long enough to smear the grease paint for his role in the first stage production of the year at Reed college. The part Bob will assume will be Valere, the Judge's secretary, in "The Doctor in Spite of His Wife." He is a junior and is majoring in the field of chemistry.

Along the charm line, Katherine Newman, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Newman, of Fayette, Idaho, formerly of this city, was a finalist for "Betsy Co-ed" contest at the University of Oregon where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. In an interview for the daily Emerald, U. of O. publication, Kathy says she likes football, and even knows the rules; and loves waterskiing, sunbathing and swimming at Lake o' the Woods in the summer.

San Francisco Rites Unite Couple

The two Epperson grandchildren sat in this chair so they could tell about it in future years.
