

NW Building Increased Last Month

SEATTLE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Despite a three-quarter million dollar drop in Seattle, building permits in Washington and Oregon for September were almost $2,000,000 above the same month last year.

The September, 1949, total was $20,274,531 as compared with $18,340,708 last September, according to Construction News Bulletin.

Portland's $4,368,225 total gave it top-ranking among the cities for total and amount of gain. The figure was $659,000 over that of a year ago.

King and Pierce county areas outside Seattle and Tacoma accounted for nearly a third of the Washington state total, the report said. Seattle reported permits of $3,002,750.

Oregon Leaders

How About Cast Iron Car Fenders?

By BILL JENKINS
At last! Just what car owners have been waiting for. A new type of cast iron that can be bent and twisted. The manufacturers call it ductile cast iron. Why not make auto fenders out of it and do your share of bashing with much less damage to your own car? With a good stiff cast iron fender you ought to be able to cave in substantial portions of some hapless driver's car and still suffer nothing but a few nicks yourself. And these could be straightened out. After taking a quick look at my car this morning I think someone has already beaten me to the draw. What was once a snappy, pre-war runabout is now reduced to something that looks like a tin can the kids have been playing shinny-stick with. Fenders caved in, grill off center, bumpers all battered up and running boards reduced to splinters. And I know I didn't do it. Someone else did while the old pot was parked. Of course, how they drove over the curb to get at the right side I don't know, but I'll find out someday. Anyway, getting back to the new ductile cast iron, wouldn't it be wonderful to have a car made of it. A regular juggernaut that could withstand a few hours in heavy traffic.

BUILDING in most Northwest cities is up according to the last batch of figures released by the Pacific Northwest Building Data publication. Klamath Falls has jumped from $48,322 in August to $68,043 in September. Rather an encouraging figure, and it looks like it might continue to build up as time goes on. Of course the figures are still behind those of a year and more ago, but then things may be leveling off a bit in everything else. It would seem better to ride along with a steady economy and know just where you stand rather than to ride the fluctuating peak of an inflationary whirl that does nothing but increase the number of bills you carry in your pocket and at the same time boost the prices of everything.

CARD OF THANKS

HIGH SCHOOL News and Comments

By
Flo Ann Perkins

The red and white victory bell at KUHS was rung 39 times this morning for each of the 39 points the Pelicans scored over the Grants Pass Cavemen Friday night. A special assembly was called this morning when school started in celebration of the Pelican victory. The entertainment included making Red Hurd, Herald and News sports editor, chew up and eat a column he wrote early this year in which he more or less stated he didn't think the Pelicans had what it takes.

Since the football team is now hoping to go on up for state football honors, the K club-sponsored whiskerino contest is being postponed. It seems the players don't take to the idea of wearing whiskers while they vie for state championship.

Now that the senior and junior classes have elected their officers for the year, the sophomore class will vote for its president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and yell-song leader this coming Thursday. Nominations were made earlier in a class meeting, but the delay was caused by the necessity for the candidates to pass the eligibility committee. The freshmen still must elect their officers and the student body must elect a third vice president of the student body from the freshmen class.

Whether or not the school will hereafter sponsor the rally squad and the student body elect the members was left up to the students today when the two amendments were put to a student body vote. All the students voted today during home room period.

The night of apooks, witches and jack-o-lanterns comes up tonight when the nation celebrates Halloween, but for KUHS students who want to attend, there will be a free dance at the army to celebrate the occasion. The Teen Age club and the Moose lodge are joint sponsors of the dance which will feature music by Baldy's band. Couples only from the Klamath County high schools will be admitted, but there is no charge for the affair.

The school day was five minutes shorter today since the five-minute afternoon period was eliminated starting today. The new dismissal time will hereafter be 3:45 p. m.

The HISTORY of ELECTRICITY

MAGNETS WERE MADE 350 YEARS AGO BY HAVING A WORKMAN FACE NORTH AND HAMMER HOT STEEL SO THAT IT ELONGATED IN A NORTHERLY DIRECTION

THE ELECTROMAGNET, INVENTED BY JOSEPH HENRY WHILE A PROFESSOR AT PRINCETON IN 1830, IS THE ONLY ELECTRICAL INVENTION THAT TIME HAS NOT CHANGED. THE HUGE INDUSTRIAL MAGNET OF TODAY USES EXACTLY THE SAME PRINCIPLE AS THAT EMPLOYED BY HENRY'S FIRST SUCCESSFUL MODEL.
