

Congressman Urges Modernization Of Reclamation Law

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 3 (AP)—Representative Murdock (D-Utah) told the National Reclamation Association today that basic reclamation law must be modernized and kept adequate.

The chairman of the house subcommittee on irrigation and reclamation said HR-1770, which he and several other congressmen introduced, would accomplish this "much needed change."

The association's water users committee, meanwhile, said that while reclamation law needs revision Murdock's bill "is vague in places and not too easy to interpret."

It said that in particular the items of cost made non-reimbursable under the bill need further definition.

Earlier, Association President Harry E. Poik, a Williston, N. D., newspaper publisher, urged that planners "make whatever revisions are necessary in HR-1770 or come up with some proposal which may merit the wholehearted support of water users groups in all states and the united approval of both branches of congress."

Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus commended legislation of the type Murdock proposed, and said it would liberalize reclamation in an orderly way.

Justice Douglas May Break Record

YAKIMA, Nov. 3 (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas laughingly asserted yesterday: "We may go for a new record if this keeps up." The U. S. supreme court jurist referred to a new doctors' report that showed he broke 17 ribs, rather than 13, when his horse fell and rolled on him during a Cascade mountain outing last month.

Douglas still does not know when he will be able to leave the hospital although he occasionally sits up and dons street clothes.

Seattle 'Swipes' Sunshine Title

SEATTLE, Nov. 3 (AP)—The weather bureau has the records to "prove" that Seattle is one of the sunniest spots in the nation. But there's a catch to it.

The bureau's vacuum-included sunshine indicator apparently went on the fritz recently and Climatologist George P. Murphy discovered yesterday it's been registering continuous sunshine—day and night.

BLOWUP 'QUONSET' HUT—This pneumatic Quonset hut, developed for use in Arctic areas, can be inflated with a simple hand pump in three minutes. The defense department, which released this photograph, says the hut is snow, water and draft proof and has air-tight plexiglass windows; it can support about 500 pounds and can withstand winds of 100 miles an hour. The hose at left is an air duct for ventilation.

Hospital Gets 6 New Polio Cases in Week

EUGENE, Nov. 3 (AP)—Six new cases of infantile paralysis were admitted to Sacred Heart hospital last week. However, only two of the afflicted persons resided in Lane county, and the cases which have resulted on the statistical "epidemic" showing here were incurred for the most part outside of the county.

Dr. A. Triolo, county health officer, gave this explanation Wednesday following a statement in Portland by Joseph Keivet, state representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Keivet termed the Lane county polio situation as an "epidemic."

No Epidemic
Although 47 cases have been discovered in the county this year, Dr. Triolo said that the record has not been one of a true epidemic inasmuch as these cases have been spread over a period of at least six months and there has been no concentrated focus of infection.

The foundation uses statistical methods to determine where epidemic aid should be provided by the organization. The disease incident rose in Lane county in October, Dr. Triolo said, and last week the six cases hospitalized here accounted for 40 per cent of all new cases in Oregon through the week.

Ruth Wins Weyerhaeuser Fellowship

Robert H. Ruth has been awarded the $1000 Weyerhaeuser Fellowship in forest management at Oregon State college for the current academic year, according to Paul M. Dunn, dean of the school of forestry.

Ruth, who is the first recipient of the graduate research fellowship, is a 1943 graduate in forestry at Oregon State. He received a commission in the U. S. navy upon graduation and served until 1946 with that branch of the service.

Since 1947 he has been with the department of forest management research in the Pacific Northwest forest experiment station.

The graduate research fellowship was set up by Weyerhaeuser to provide opportunity for capable young men to continue their studies in problems of forest management. A similar fellowship was established at the University of Washington.

Pioneers Destroyed Wealth, Charge

PORTLAND, Nov. 3 (AP)—Hardware and farm implement dealers were told here yesterday that the hardy pioneer wasn't such a blessing as history pictures him.

Speaking on conservation, Thomas Kelly, Milwaukee, Wis., said the pioneers "destroyed more potential wealth than they created." He noted
