

Reds Parade Armed Might, Accuse U.S. Of Fomenting War

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (AP)—Picked Soviet soldiers and mechanized mechanized forces and 1,000,000 Soviet workers paraded for hours today through Red square in honor of the Russian revolution. Soviet leaders hailed the 32nd anniversary of the revolution in speeches accusing the United States of fomenting a new world blood bath. The minister of the armed forces, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky, reviewed the march-past, while squadrons of fighters and bombers led by Gen. Vasily Stalin, son of the prime minister, roamed over the square.

More of Same
Vasilevsky made the Red square address. It was similar in tone to the speech last night of Deputy Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov, who asserted that a third world war would prove "the grave of individual capitalist countries."

Vasilevsky also said that the material wealth of the Soviet people is growing, while the capitalist world faces poverty and mass unemployment.

A group of Soviet leaders reviewed the parade from atop the mausoleum where Lenin's body lies in a glass coffin. The group was headed by Deputy Prime Ministers Molotov and Malenkov.

Where's Joe?
'This dispatch, which passed through Moscow censorship, did not say Stalin was present either at the Bolshoi theatre ceremonies last night or at today's parade. Stalin did not attend last year's ceremonies. He was on vacation at the time in the Black sea area.'

Immediately after that parade, a workers' demonstration was held. By U. S. embassy count, more than 1,000,000 persons marched through Red square during the demonstration.

with only the office of third vice president of the student body to be filled. This student body officer is selected by the student body from the members of the freshman class.

This is only a four-day week for KUHS, but Friday a great deal of the student body will probably show up in Bend for the traditional Armistice Day football game between the Bend Lava Bears and the Pelicans. This will be the last conference game for the Pelis and winning the game means KUHS will go on for state football honors.

The band and Pep Peppers will be in Bend in full strength in order to put on part of the halftime show at the game. Members of these two groups will journey to Bend in buses.

The Krater is planning big things for its Christmas edition. The size of the paper has had to be cut down to a four-page paper for financial reasons, but the Christmas edition will be six pages long and the two additional pages will be composed entirely of pictures of KUHS students enjoying the holiday season. These two pages will be lithographed in Eugene, while the rest of the paper is being printed here.

Fish can fast for long periods and should not be fed on journeys taking less than four or five days.

Soapstone is used chiefly in roofing paper, foundry facings, insecticides and as a filler for asphaltic paints.

Despite Scare Signs, We're Doing Better

By BILL JENKINS

DESPITE all the uneasy feelings and scary conversations that keep going around these days, workers in Oregon are making more money than ever before, and the scale is still rising slightly. Of course, it costs more to live now than it did a few years ago, but as long as you make a little more each year and prices level off a bit, then you are doing better. And workers are also putting in a shorter work week than ever before, which has to be considered.

In 1942, which was a peak year for a lot of things, average earnings for about half of Oregon's workers were only $182, while last year that figure had risen to $267. Which means that approximately half of the workers were dragging in better than $250 a month. Time was when that was quite a salary. But the important thing is the fact that the pay scale is holding up. Earnings are beginning to keep up with living costs. If we can get by without another war for a few years more, everyone might be able to afford a few things.

SCOTLAND YARD is losing its glamor fast. First, Roy Rogers plans a Western with a Yard background, and now comes this announcement: "Scotland Yard is recruiting men and women to patrol street crossings near London schools when the children are going to school and leaving... will get white linen coats to wear in the summer and white waterproof coats for winter."

Shatters a cherished boyhood dream in which Scotland Yard people were all super sleuths who could whip from disguise to disguise in no time and always baffled the crook. The least they could do would be to put their school guards in plain clothes—if they must be an adjunct to the Yard.

WITH the first mucky weather of the year in the offing, at least here is a little note from the state highway people: If you can't see clearly at least 500 feet in a fog, then the law requires that you use full headlights (dimmed) and not just parking lights. Even if you don't notice the difference from your seat, says the state, other cars and pedestrians will be able to see your car in time to stop or dodge.

WHILE we're on that subject it is well to remember that 28 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during October in Oregon.

HIGH SCHOOL News and Comments

By Flo Ann Perkins

Sophomores have now joined the Juniors and seniors in electing class officers. Members of the sophomore class voted Friday and the results came out in winners for three of the offices, but the office of vice president of the class was tied by Jack Ayres and Patty Teale, so a run-off election was scheduled for this week. President of the class as decided by the class members will be Paul Jones. Barbara Arnold will assume the secretary's duties and Shannon Oldham was elected yell song leader.

Freshmen held their class meeting last week and nominated officers at that time, so all the class elections will be completed soon.

George Morgan and his CANDY KIDS

Brief Notes: George Morgan has skyrocketed to fame almost overnight. He made a hit on the Grand Ole Opry program and critics hailed him as having "The Sweetest Voice in America." Columbia Records signed him and his first record was a tune that he wrote, "Candy Kisses." Both the song and the record became immediate hits. His next record was "Room Full of Roses" and it is also a best seller. He has two new releases which disc-jockeys predict will be in the two top spots in Western records. They are "Cry Baby Heart" and "I Love Everything About You." He is currently in Hollywood where he is cutting a series of records with Dinah Shore.

Ship Aground, 86 Persons Walk Ashore

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 7 (AP)—Fifty-one passengers and the 35-man crew of the 1134-ton S.S. Chelohain last night walked safely to shore over 500 yards of barnacled ocean bed when the coastal steamer grounded in blinding fog on the beach at the entrance to Vancouver harbor.

Inbound from up-coast Powell river, the 175-foot vessel scraped on onto the beach at low tide. It was the worst fog to hit Vancouver and the lower British Columbia mainland this year. All marine traffic had been halted before the Chelohain attempted to crawl into harbor.

Union Steamships, limited, owners of the Chelohain, were too busy evacuating the passengers and preparing salvage operations to comment on the grounding. Some reports said the ship was holed, taking water and may break up, but these could not be confirmed.

Passengers, carrying their luggage, and some of them toting dogs in ship crating, climbed down Jacob's ladders to the beach and waded across the soggy ocean bed to shore. The tide was about a mile out at the time. From the shore the passengers scaled cliffs leading up to Vancouver's famed Stanley park. Buses took them to a downtown bus depot. Taxis whisked them to homes and hotels from there.
