Ladies, ladies, ladies! I bow my head in shame. How could I have made such an error to say that Rip Paddock is only five feet, eight inches in height, when he is all of six feet? With, or without shoes. But really, girls, my source of information was authentic. I went so far as to place a long distance call to Cal-Ore to get the information which turned out to be misinformation. To go further with the subject, Rip is leaving for Casper, Wyo., to sing with Al Overend's band. According to information received in the mail today, Rip has had offers from several name bands, but doesn't like to do one-nighters. Incidentally, I too think the lad has a fine voice. I was deeply impressed the one and only time that I heard him sing. Was down to Cal-Ore last week for about thirty minutes and heard him do one song. However, I was more interested in listening to Rip sing than noticing how tall he was. So please pardon my error in "figures."

Well, another popular audience participation comes to the ABC network tomorrow night. "Dr. I. Q." with Lew Valentine as encee will be heard on LW from 9:30 to 10 p.m. With the exception of four years in the service, Valentine has been head man on the candy quiz show since 1939. You know what the pitch is. One of Valentine's stooges says, "I have a lady in the balcony, doctor," or in the loges, main floor, etc., wherever he may be. And then the good doctor fires a question at the contestant for so many silver dollars. The nomination letter, which must not be more than 50 words in length, starts out, "We, the undersigned, propose our fellow member Miss (or Mrs.)," and so forth. For further details of the contest, either phone or come into the news room here and I will let you see the rules. They are too lengthy to print. I was informed of many phone calls last night that the mystery tune is "Chief Hukum." At least so says Walter Winchell. It seems Walter says a lot of papers are putting out a lot of hokum in regards to the tune and advised his listeners not to believe what they read. Didn't get a chance to hear Walter, on Sunday, but I guess he could be, and probably is correct. So, it's worth a chance. Try "Chief Hukum" and see what happens.

And Then They Ate Pork
TUCUMCARI, N. M., Nov. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Jack Latham was startled as she began dressing a chicken—there, poking out of its gullet, was a rattlesnake's tail. Her husband split the fowl open. Just as they suspected, it had swallowed a 13-inch rattler, head first. The Lathams and their four guests ate pork. An inexpensive Want Ad today will mean $ 3 for you tomorrow!
