Ancestor Discussion Interests Members

Mrs. William D. Foster was program chairman at the regular meeting of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Monday evening, November 7, in the library room of the Fremont school. "How to Find Your Ancestors" was the subject for the evening, and many helpful bits of information for running down family lines were provided by Mrs. Foster.

Eulalona chapter owns around 115 volumes of genealogies, and in private families are to be found over 100 more family histories, right in this community.

Any prospective member in Klamath county who wishes help in working out a DAR line is asked to telephone Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, 3781, chapter registrar; Mrs. William D. Foster, 3879; Mrs. Claud Davis, 6088; or Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones, 7347. Each one of these women has had several years of experience in genealogical research.

Mrs. Syd Evans, chapter vice regent, presided during the business session. Mrs. Foster reported on the recent state board meeting in Portland which she attended as state historian. Mrs. Archie McKeown, Hood River, state regent of the Oregon DAR, presented some of her Cello Indian friends to the board and asked for assistance from all Oregon members for these unfortunate people. Mrs. McKeown asked that warm clothing be sent, as well as other necessities. The address is Mrs. Flora Thompson, Miller, Ore.

On December 5, the chapter will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg, organizing regent, 219 Pine. Assisting will be Mrs. H. A. Nitschlem and Mrs. Charles R. Walters. Mrs. Thomas will be in charge of the program.
