

STATE PRISON REFORMS ORDERED

Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

THE youthful Shah of Iran arrives in America for a month's "good will" visit. A few hours after his arrival he is welcomed in Washington at a formal state dinner at which he is greeted by President Truman. In response to the greeting, he says:

"Iran needs American friendship and hopes for EVEN CLOSER CO-OPERATION AND INTENSIFIED HELP in the future."

Just before going to the dinner, he had said to the reporters:

"Iran is interested in the future creation of a Middle Eastern defense pact, like the North Atlantic treaty, but the time is a little too early. OUR COUNTRY'S ECONOMY SHOULD BE STRENGTHENED FIRST."

(Strengthened with an infusion of American cash, I take it.)

PREMIER NEHRU, of India, has been visiting us. He has been frankly and openly interested in what WE can do for India. He has been extremely cagey about what INDIA can do for US.

YOU must have noted, over the years of the recent past, how acutely our friends and recent allies of Western Europe are in WHAT WE CAN DO FOR THEM.

But when we offer a few friendly suggestions as to what THEY CAN DO FOR US—such as cutting out the monkey business of frontiers and differing currencies, getting down to working and producing and trading with each other, etc.—their interest cools noticeably.

THAT suggests a disturbing thought:

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO US AND OUR FRIENDSHIP THROUGHOUT THE WORLD WHEN WE QUIT SHOWERING DOWN LIKE SANTA CLAUS?

THIS, I fear, is the answer:

When we quit PASSING IT OUT to everybody who asks for it, we will be the MOST UNPOPULAR GUY IN THE WORLD.

THAT brings up another thought—not too pleasant:

WHY THIS COLD WAR?

Could it be that Stalin is just shrewd enough to have sized us up as a guy who can be prodded and scared into bankrupting himself in an effort to BUY friends and allies ever the world?

I sometimes wonder.

THERE'S another interesting little tale in the news this morning.

A psychology professor in Los Angeles says he has discovered why radio "give-away" shows are so popular.

IT'S THE CINDERELLA COMPLEX.

IN each contestant's mind, he says, is an underlying desire for recognition, position and ESCAPE FROM THE HUMDRUM OF DAY-TO-DAY EXISTENCE (without work of course.)

He adds:

"The contestant, usually an obscure housewife from Kankakee, Illinois, or some place, visualizes the program's sponsor as a 20th century fairy godmother capable of

Atlantic Scout for Missing B-29

20 Aboard Ditched Superfort

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 17 (AP)—The biggest peacetime air rescue search in history was underway today for a lost B-29 bomber which ran out of fuel and crashed in the sea somewhere near Bermuda yesterday. Twenty U. S. airmen were aboard. None were from the Pacific Northwest.

Nearly 100 air force, navy and coast guard planes from bases all along the Atlantic seaboard criss-crossed above Bermuda's surrounding waters hoping for a sight of the stricken bomber or bobbing liferafts.

Fruitless

First search patrols yesterday afternoon were fruitless.

The last word from the superfortress, whose navigation instruments failed on a flight to England, was a radio message: "Going to ditch in five minutes."

After that message yesterday morning a U. S. coast guard vessel heard weak SOS signals—spurring hopes that the crewmen had taken to rubber life rafts equipped with automatic wireless distress signals.

The plane, part of a B-29 group en route to England from March air base, California, lost its way when its radio navigation equipment failed and it encountered bad weather.

Search Armada

The U. S. air force, navy and coast guard, and the royal navy all joined in the search. Planes came from nine American bases.

The plane, carrying five officers and 15 enlisted men, was commanded by Lieut. Col. John Grable Jr., of March air base.

Union Right, Left Groups Stage Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—A strengthened police guard was posted today at CIO National Maritime union headquarters after an outbreak of near-rioting between left and right-wing factions.

Sixty-five policemen patrolled the scene to prevent possible new disorders of violence.

Two Injured

Two union officials were injured and two persons were arrested yesterday during a 10-hour siege of the union headquarters building by hundreds of milling, shouting seamen.

Long-smouldering tension between left and right elements in the union was cited as the underlying cause of the outburst.

Yule Gifts Appearing in Mail

Among the early signs of Christmas which always start showing up early in November or around Thanksgiving time are brightly wrapped Christmas packages, bearing the "Do not open until Christmas" tags, which begin to filter in among the mail at the post office.

Post office employees report that already Christmas packages have arrived in Klamath Falls in gay, holiday wrappings.

Farm Council Asks Market Plan Switch

PORTLAND, Nov. 17 (AP)—The agriculture cooperative council of Oregon closed its 20th annual meeting yesterday with a call for the government to utilize commercial marketing facilities in the sale of surplus price-supported commodities.

Speakers said this would be better than the existing program whereby the government agencies do their own marketing.

C. A. Curry reported the Monmouth co-op warehouse has reduced its funded debt 20 per cent the past year. This was done by changing the co-op's financing structure, he said.

The 20-year history of the co-operative movement in the nation was outlined by J. H. Heckman, Washington, D. C. He said the public lacks an understanding of the co-op role in the national farm economy.

R. D. Barker, treasurer of the Hood River Apple Growers association, was elected council president.

Storm Winds Batter Guam; Fate Unknown

TOKYO, Nov. 17 (AP)—The air force weather bureau reported winds approaching 145 miles an hour battered the island of Guam late today.

The weather observers said they managed to get a "freak call" through to the island after regular communications went out. They said the connection did not last long enough to get damage reports.

Storm Winds Batter Guam; Fate Unknown

Earlier reports from the island, where hundreds of American servicemen and civilian workers are stationed, said several buildings had been blown down. Winds at that time had not exceeded 90 miles an hour.

The typhoon, one of the worst in years in the Pacific, was centered 45 miles south of Guam and moving west northwest at about 17 miles an hour.

Iran's Shah Seeks More U.S. Military Aid for His Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Shah of Iran said today he "certainly" will propose to President Truman an increase in American military aid to his country.

"Iran is important to the peace of the world and especially to the security of the Middle East," the Shah said in a news conference.

The youthful Shah, who arrived yesterday for a month's good will visit, said also:

$186,477 Suit Against SP Begins

YREKA—Hearing of a $186,477 damage action filed against the Southern Pacific railroad as a result of a fatal crossing accident in Macdoel last year began in Siskiyou county superior court Tuesday and probably will last until late in the week.

Plaintiffs are Mrs. Katherine Harden and her son, Raymond, of Macdoel. The husband and father, Don H. Harden, 34, Macdoel constable, died instantly when a train hit a pickup at the principal Macdoel crossing. A son, Jimmy, 9, died an hour later.

Iran's Shah Seeks More U.S. Military Aid for His Nation

The shah was wearing a blue naval uniform with six gold stripes on the sleeves. He met with reporters just before leaving for a visit to the naval academy at Annapolis.

His plain statement that he wants more military aid for his country was only a little more direct than remarks he had made last night.

The dark-haired young monarch addressed himself directly to President Truman last night at a state dinner which followed by a few hours his arrival from Tehran in Truman's plane, the Independence.

Iran's Shah Seeks More U.S. Military Aid for His Nation

Iran, he said, needs American friendship, and hopes for "even closer cooperation and intensified help in the future."

The shah—His Imperial Majesty Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlavi—made his remarks in response to words of greetings offered by the president.

Iran's Shah Seeks More U.S. Military Aid for His Nation

His oil-rich nation, an uneasy neighbor of Soviet Russia, already is receiving some American assistance. Iran is one of 14 countries sharing in the new U. S. $1,314,010,000 arms-aid program, and its 115,000-man army has American advisers.

President Truman, in a dinner toast to the shah, said that the U. S. and Iran honor their pledges, but that America has been dealing with "a great power that does not believe in keeping its contracts."
