The Oregon-Oregon State football game today was the subject of much discussion—and bets, this week.

A raft of rooters—on both sides—went to Eugene for the battle, including the T. F. Farleys, the Lloyd Posts, the Murel Longs, the Darrell Millers, the Gilbert Osborns, the Howard Pernelles, the Jack Crawford, the Bob Kents, the Bob Ellingsons, the Roy Whitlaches, the DeLos Mills, the T. E. Waiters, the Don Andersons, the John Houstons, the T. B. Waiters, the Bob Thompsons, the Lou Serruys, the J. V. Owens and Jean Owens, Earl Kent, Ted Igl, the Kenneth Moores and Tommy Moore, the Howard Strouds, Bert Igl, Jerry Igl and Dick Hilton, the Merle Wests, the Ed Brosterhous' and Barbara Brosterhous.

Hometown girl makes good—Beverly Kohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kohn, formerly of Klamath Falls, won her second tennis trophy in the San Louis Obispo city championship. She won a cup for being in the finals, and now she has the championship trophy.

Jim Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers flew south last week-end for the Oregon-Cal game in Berkeley. He was a guest of Phi Delta Theta on the Cal campus, and visited the Lawton Balmers in Mill Valley. Back to school on Monday, though, as Jim is a student at Southern Oregon college.

Flash—Mrs. Carleton Hadley's wedding dress was a smartly tailored woolen suit of "Barkley Blue,"—light slate blue, they tell me. It featured a nipped-in waist that curved over the hips and was highlighted in front by rhinestone buttons. With it she wore an ice blue satin blouse with a blue chiffon felt cloche hat. White dot skin gloves and black doe skin pumps completed the ensemble.

Women of St. Paul's Episcopal church will again offer their fine, traditional plum puddings at the annual Christmas bazaar scheduled for Saturday, December the third, at the newly enlarged parish hall, Eighth and Jefferson.

There will be loads of holiday food offered including cakes, cookies, jams and jellies, and there will be booths for Christmas cards and wrappings, a fish pond for the children and added entertainment for the young fry during the afternoon.

Tea will be served as well as coffee during the bazaar hours and all women of the town are invited to drop in.

The Bob Lamotts are getting settled in their new home in Walla Walla and have written that they want to express their appreciation for the many friendships they have had in Klamath Falls in the past seven years.

The many social gatherings that marked their departure a few weeks ago were also greatly appreciated. "It fills us with a sense of real satisfaction," as Bob expresses it in his letter. He has taken over the post of Scout executive in Walla Walla.

The makers of Crown Cake Flour have chosen Grace Colvin-Wells of Klamath Falls as their Crown "Cook-of-the-month." In their advertising they include Mrs. Wells' recipe for "Klamath Sunshine and Snow Cake," and it sounds delicious.

Mrs. C. L. Bilow of Monte Sano, Wash. arrived last week to visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henry. Mrs. Bilow and her daughter (Mrs. Henry) spent the week in the bay area with friends and relatives, and returned yesterday. She will stay and have Thanksgiving dinner with the Henrys.

The children of Riverside school received a letter from V. J. G. Stavridi, assistant to Trivie Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, expressing the secretary's thanks for the birthday congratulations that the children sent him a few weeks ago.

He added "As you grow bigger and bigger, please go on taking an interest in us and finding out what we are doing and why."

Miss Harriet Hart of Central Point was a guest at the R. P. Ellington home on Pacific Terrace last week-end, visiting with Dorothy Ellington. Harriet and Dode were roommates at Cal.

The kids away at school are making names for themselves. Cherie Mahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mahan, was honored at Colorado Woman's college where she is a senior, by being selected as one of eight students who were guests of Dr. Hutchinson, college president. Dr. and Mrs. Hutchinson entertained with a dinner on November 13.

Joanne Robinette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Robinette, and Marjann Sexton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Sexton, are two of a drill team composed of 48 University of Oregon students who were featured during halftime of the Homecoming football game today.

From Oregon State comes word that Patricia McMillan, daughter of Mrs. K. I. Bold, and Donna McVey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McVey, were among five finalists in a contest for "Paul's Pin-Up," and were honored at the annual foresters ball, a recent event.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Beck received a congratulatory letter from L. E. Darlington, faculty member at Oregon State college, informing them that their son, Dick Beck, had attained a high scholastic honor, and was initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic honor society for freshmen men.

The requirements for membership include a grade point average of 2.5 or better, and it is the greatest scholastic distinction a freshman can attain, as only about 3 per cent of the men in Dick's class attained the honor for last year's work.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Miss Merlon Albrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albrecht, and Thomas Howard of San Francisco. The rites will be an event of December 4 in the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. Otto Vitus left early this morning for Eugene and will spend some time in Corvallis Sunday, returning home late Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Filcraft were also among those at the Oregon-Oregon State Homecoming game and festivities.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Moty cut their wedding cake after their marriage on October 29, in Bend. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kasper Moty of this city, and the bride is the former Shirley Mae Blakeley of Bend.

George K. Moty Marries Bend Girl

St. Francis Catholic church of Bend was the setting for the wedding of Miss Shirley Mae Blakeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Blakeley of Bend and George K. Moty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kasper Moty of this city, on October 29.

The bride, wearing a white satin gown, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a net yolk, and long sleeves which came to a point over her hands. Her veil of French illusion was gathered into a halo crown with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white shower chrysanthemums centered with a single orchid.

Mrs. Leonard Garrett of Portland who was matron of honor wore a grey-green satin gown with matching mitts, and carried a nosegay of yellow roses edged with yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Blakeley's sisters, Patricia and Carolyn were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of gold colored satin with matching mitts.

Fred Lloyd of San Francisco was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Blakeley, brother of the bride, and Leo Molatore of Eugene.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon-length gown of blue crepe with black accessories. Mrs. Moty chose a gown of winter red worn with black accessories. Both wore gardenia corsages.

After the ceremony, wedding guests attended the reception at the Pine Tavern in Bend.

For going away the bride chose a brown and beige ensemble with brown accessories, and her orchid pinned at her shoulder.

In Bend for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Molatore of Eugene, formerly of Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brink, Mrs. J. T. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moty, Mr. and Mrs. Kasper Moty, and John Novak, all of this city.

The bride is a graduate of Bend high school and was employed in Bend. Mr. Moty is a graduate of Notre Dame, and is manager of Bend Authorized Service. The couple is now at home in Bend.

Announcements Received Here

Announcements were received in Klamath Falls this week of the marriage of Mrs. Clarice E. Roberts and Mr. Henry N. Moe, both of this city.

The wedding was an event of last Tuesday in Lodi, Calif.

After the ceremony the couple began their wedding trip which will take them to the Grand Canyon, Mexico City, and many points of interest in Mexico. On their return they will spend the rest of the winter in San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Moe will be at home, 1321 Pacific Terrace after May first.

Word comes from Patti O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Connor, that she has been made a member of the staff of the college paper "Static." Patti, a graduate of Klamath Union high school is taking her freshman year at St. Mary's in Holy Cross, Indiana where she is studying journalism and art. The first 1949 issue of the paper carries a report written by her on a meeting of the National Students' congress held at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Christmas Seal Sale Under Way

The 1949 Christmas Seals for the prevention and control of tuberculosis are going in the mail this week-end, thanks largely to the efficient and conscientious help given by many volunteers and organizations in the city, according to Mrs. W. A. Shannon, county Seal Sales chairman.

Preliminary work on personal solicitations has been done by the committee headed by Bill McKibbin. Selling special bonds to public-spirited citizens have been Mrs. Bernice Rawlins, Jack Vaughn, Bob Ross, Ray Garrison, Bob Veatch, Jack Insley, W. A. Shannon, J. A. Calhoun and Jerry Olsen.

The Girl Scout organization provided the services of 54 Scouts and Brownies in preparing the letters and enclosures for mailing, and the Camp Fire Girls gave the help of several troops.

Much valuable time was donated by members of the Venture club and Sojourners club, the latter turning over an entire meeting to filling envelopes. The chamber of commerce provided office space for several groups of volunteer workers helping with the same task.

The strong right arms of two United States marines got a good workout in transporting many heavy boxes and bundles of equipment from place to place. Sgt. Daniel Kona and Sgt. R. B. Dinklerberger provided the arms and received the grateful thanks of Mrs. Shannon and the TB office staff.

Mrs. Shannon expressed her gratitude also for the countless hours of work put in by innumerable individual volunteers in typing and
