

PTA Is Interest Of Woman of Week

PTA work is the principle interest of our "Woman of the Week," Mrs. Earl Sheridan.

Mrs. Sheridan is a committee chairman in Summers school PTA. Mrs. Sheridan later became treasurer, eventually vice president, and finally president of the organization.

After that Mrs. Sheridan took the post of president of the County Council of PTA, and now she is regional vice president of Oregon Parents and Patrons Association. Her territory includes Klamath and Lake counties, which entails considerable travel, organizing new units and straightening out problems.

In connection with this position she also makes a trip to Portland once a month to meet with other members of the state board. Our Woman of the Week still spends a lot of time and energy at Shasta school, as she is a member of the school board there, and is publicity chairman of Shasta school PTA.

As if her PTA work isn't enough, Mrs. Sheridan is a section chairman of the county Community Chest campaign now in progress. Mrs. Sheridan's hobby—yes, she has time for a hobby, too—is music. This year she is president of the Presbyterian church choir, and has been organist for Aloha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, for two years.

One-boy is enough to keep mother plenty busy, and Mrs. Sheridan has three, aged four, ten and thirteen. Some husbands might object to all of these outside activities, but Mrs. Sheridan is cooperative and works right along with his wife. She says she couldn't handle it all without his help.

Library Notes

This was Children's National Book Week, so we are going to tell you about some of our new books for young people. Are you interested in making marionettes? We have the book "Marionette Are People" by Edith Thane, that tells you just how to do it.

Another interesting book of facts is "The Story of Our Calendar." It tells you how our calendar started, how it was changed, and about the plans for a new calendar. "The Magic of Oil" by Ray Bether is a story of how and where oil is found and of the hundreds of wonderful and useful things that are made of it. The book is full of interesting pictures.

In "A Summer to Remember" the author, Erna M. Karoly, tells of a summer she spent in Switzerland when she was "ten and a half" years old. She did not like to leave her mother and little brother in Hungary, but the kind people with whom she stayed in Switzerland made it "a summer to be remembered."

Here is another dog story by Thomas C. Hinkle: Vic, a dog of the prairie. "Rose Bowl All-American" by C. Paul Jackson is a good football story telling of two backfield men who played on the University of Michigan and the Christmas game they played at the Rose Bowl in California.

Thanksgiving Dance Planned
The Soroptimist club of Klamath Falls held its regular meeting at the Pelican cafe Thursday noon. As this was the annual Thanksgiving meeting, many of the members had their venture club girls as guests. Pearl Young of the Stockton club was also a guest.

Alice Lamn gave the report of the Christmas boxes sent by the club to the members of the Brighton-Hove club of Sussex, England. Members turning in the $5 made outside their professions were Lucille O'Neill, who did substitute teaching, Rita Whisenant, who sold theatre tickets, and Olive Wilson had a pattern of an apron and took orders for gifts.

The tables were in the Thanksgiving motif with mounds of fruits and vegetables, bright leaves, and candles. Miniature turkeys sat along the table and added an extra holiday touch.

Blanche Lundy told some interesting and little known things about Thanksgiving. Congress made Thanksgiving a national holiday in 1941 and until then it was made a holiday by presidential proclamation.

Maudie Goeller, program chairman, then introduced Miss Harriet Mueller, supervisor of the music in the grade schools and the Rev. David Barnett of the First Presbyterian church. He read the 103rd Psalm, and made an interesting and worthwhile talk upon the psalm.

Mrs. Mueller sang three numbers, "Praise Be To God," "The Birds," and "Honor, Honor." She was accompanied by Eloise McIntyre.

THREE CHARMERS are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Reed of Trenton, New Jersey. Mrs. Reed is the former Joyce Ott of Tulelake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Ott of Tulelake. They are Verna Joy, two years old, Eileen Gale, 10 months, and Phyllis Ann, four years old.

Hawaiian Theme To Dominate Dinner

The banquet room of the Willard hotel will be decorated with an Hawaiian theme Monday evening for the formal dinner sponsored by the international relations group of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Invitations have been sent to all foreign-born residents, and the men's service clubs, to be guests for the dinner.

The special guests from foreign countries will be introduced and each will tell something of his or her country.

In keeping with the theme, Ray Ribak will direct Hawaiian dinner music and the entertainment will also be in the island motif.

Dr. Yeun is guest speaker of the evening. Mrs. Mike Petroff, chairman of dinner arrangements, reports that his topic will be "China Today."

How to Earn Money Subject of Meeting

The Soroptimist club of Klamath Falls met for a regular business meeting at Pelican Cafe Thursday noon. The minutes, treasurer report and the 1949-50 budget were read and approved.

The motion was made and carried that a donation from the club be made to Community Chest due to the club's great interest in the services to youth. It was also passed that the club send one girl to Girl's State which is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

In order for the club to raise money for the spring conference and summer convention the idea that received the most support after interesting discussions, was that each member earn $5 outside of their own profession.

Other members responsible for the success of this meeting were the hostesses, Mrs. John Ashley, Mrs. W. D. Miller and Mrs. Raymond Tice; and the tea committee, Mrs. George Conroy, chairman, Mrs. Robert Paus, Mrs. William Van Buskirk and Mrs. Bert Miller.

Everything from baby sitting to picking ducks for a fee during the second season of duck hunting was proposed.

Each member of the club was asked to write to members of the new Eugene club in the same classification. The names and addresses of the Eugene members will appear in the club paper the "Snooper."

The special award went to Mrs. Ed Bell.

Thanksgiving Theme of Meeting
The Women of the Moose are holding their annual informal Thanksgiving dance at the Moose Hall on Saturday evening, November 19, 1949.

A large crowd is anticipated for an enjoyable evening with music being furnished by the Rhythm Makers.

Louis Pastega, member of the Loyal Order of the Moose, has generously donated the turkey to be given away as a door prize. It is also to be guest night, and members are permitted to bring guests.

Word has been received that Lt. and Mrs. Roland W. Hare of San Diego, Calif. are the parents of a new baby girl, born November 12. Lt. Hare is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hare of this city.

Lillian Otterbein, state president of Eight and Forty, Mildred Cooper, and Mary O'Laughlin left this morning for Springfield, where they attended a department executive meeting. Before the meeting they were treated to a turkey dinner at the Jack Larson home.

Causes of Pound Devaluation Talked

Library club members added to their knowledge of world affairs recently, thanks to the enlightening talk on "The Devaluation of the British Pound, Its Background and Consequences," by Dr. F. Eugene Meider, professor of history and sociology at the Community college and well-known author and authority on domestic economics and labor relations. Dr. Meider has had 16 years of teaching and three years of congressional advising in Washington, D. C.

In his talk at the November 4 club meeting, Dr. Meider clearly explained many of the causes and effects of the recent devaluation of the pound, which he called a "great gamble," but one which was the only action possible in the present state of the world.

In observance of the American Education week just concluded, part of the Library club program was devoted to Mrs. Lena Hackett, director of special education in the city schools who outlined some little-known facts about the outstanding work that is being done in helping handicapped children receive a normal education. Hearing and articulatory aid is given, the maladjusted child is helped and there is a child guidance program for parents and teachers.

Mrs. Hackett praised the work of the library club in giving tonallectomies to needy children. The varied program also included songs by Mary Lou Monroe, a recent graduate of Washington State college, and now instructor in Roosevelt school. Accompanied by Mrs. D. E. Van Vactor, Miss Monroe sang "Without Your Love" by Sandoval, "A Memory" by Rudolf Ganz, and "Adelle's Laughing Song" from "Die Fledermaus" by Strauss.

She was so well received that she consented to do as an encore "I'm in Love with Vienna" by Strauss. An important part of the business meeting was the announcement by Club President Mrs. Dean Osborn that a cooked food sale will be held on December 10 at Carter's grocery and the Pine Street market. All club members are urged to contribute cooked food, and will be contacted later about the details.

The meeting room was decorated with huge arrangements of pyranthia and greens provided by Mrs. W. D. Miller, the tea table with a replica of an old time sailing ship and a scene appropriate for Thanksgiving, done by the tea committee.

Through the courtesy of the Art Center a landscape painted by Rev. F. W. Wissenbach was on exhibit, as was a collection of unique handmade jewelry from Mill Valley, California, created by Milton Calver, silver wire and a few dried seeds.

The rest of the purchase of children's books made by the city library with the money provided from the children's book fund of the Library club was displayed. These books and records previously purchased are all now available for public use from the library.

Other members responsible for the success of this meeting were the hostesses, Mrs. John Ashley, Mrs. W. D. Miller and Mrs. Raymond Tice; and the tea committee, Mrs. George Conroy, chairman, Mrs. Robert Paus, Mrs. William Van Buskirk and Mrs. Bert Miller.
