

Fathers Night Held By Pelican Group

Fathers' night meeting at Pelican Parent-Teacher association was held Friday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. and rooms were open for the parents to visit before the meeting. A half hour business session was held with secretary and treasurer reports read and approved. A motion was carried to have a square dance on December 10, to earn money for the school project.

Mrs. G. M. Vinson and Gerald Clemens appointed more help on the ways and means committee. Mrs. Melvin Woods, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Robert Finton will assist the ways and means. Those appointed to decide on a school project were Mrs. Ray Keller, Mrs. F. B. Samek, Mrs. Ward, Robert Finton, Mr. Robertson and Ira Zirkle.

Mrs. Thompson's room won the membership drive for the year and an award given her pupils. The room count prize went to Mrs. Lois Lind's room.

The next PTA meeting was moved up a week and will be held December 14, so as not to interfere with the Christmas program December 22.

Fathers were entertained with a variety program. Mrs. Sherman Carter played several piano solos and students of the Norma Dean studio presented tap, Hawaiian and sailor numbers. David Peebler gave a demonstration of body building by weight lifting. Sherman Carter sang a solo and the final number was a comedy, "Kids Will Be Kids," by members of the PTA.

First and second grade mothers and teachers served refreshments in the cafeteria. A well planned Thanksgiving decoration was on the tables.

There will be a meeting to discuss the organization of a Parent-Teacher group at Carr school November 30 at 7:30 p.m. All those interested are urged to attend. A social hour after the business session is planned.

Patrons' Benefit, Success

MERRILL—The benefit sale sponsored by the Merrill Parents-Patrons club was a decided financial success with $150.25 net profits received.

The sale was conducted at the meeting Thursday evening, November 17. Potatoes, apples, bacon, beef, eggs, chickens and cakes were some of the items donated. Sixty dollars of the proceeds will be used to purchase record albums for the school music department, and the balance will go into the club's treasury to be used for other needed items for the school.

Mrs. Vera Ochs' fifth grade received a cake for selling the most tickets. Mr. Kamselmyer's seventh grade room won the room count prize, also a cake.

A concentrated drive for membership will be started January 1, and a $5 cash award will be given the room having 100 per cent membership of parents, or if no room has 100 per cent membership the room with the highest percentage will win.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Dan Barry, Mrs. Alfred Carleton, Mrs. Roy Beasley, and Mrs. Don Carson.

Man Fasts 92 Days, Dies

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 25 (AP)—Fercy Coplon, who started what he said would be a 100-day fast on September 25, died early today.

Fercy, a jocular five-by-five who weighed 297 pounds at the start, had gone 92 days without food. His weight had dropped to 245 pounds. He was 53.

Coplon spent most of the fast in a small house atop a 30-foot pole at his home. Last Sunday he came down because of dizziness and said he would finish his 100-day fast in his home.

His dizziness diminished and Fercy was in good spirits yesterday. He lapsed into unconsciousness just before midnight, however, falling to the floor in his bathroom.

Chestnuts, Cold Tablets And Permits

By BILL JENKINS

IN cleaning out a drawer where I store little bits of information that might someday come in handy I found another letter from C. M. Goethe this morning. That letter reminded me of my younger days over in the valley. The letter tells the story of the Indian squaw who long ago learned the trick of leaching out the poisons in the California buckeye and saved her tribe from starvation at the height of a four-year drought period. She figured out a method to bake the nuts then grind them up in a mortar. The resulting meal was then placed in baskets and leached out in a trickling stream to get rid of the poison.

My association with the chestnut didn't have anything to do with leaching, but to my young mind it was more torture. We had a huge old (horse) chestnut tree in the front of the house, and it became my job to rake the leaching things up every fall. Ripping those spiny nuts out of the lawn is a major job requiring plenty of muscle, perseverance and the patience of an Oriental. Maybe the leaching would have been easier. At least you could sit and watch while the water did the work.

THE wave of contentious built up over the new wonder pills, antihistamine tablets, that are supposed to cure the common cold is threatening to swamp the country. You can't find any three top medical men who will agree on the subject. In fact, the only one I can find to quote at the moment is the widely read Paul De Kruif. He says they are good. I just read an article the other night by a medicine whose name I cannot recall who said they weren't worth making up. Any way there are still a lot of people running around with nasty head colds.

A LITTLE squib in the latest issue of News From Norway carries this information: "Arrested by game wardens for illegal moose hunting last week, a Hardanger farmer produced a hunting license granted his family by King Fredrik V in 1755. According to the document, members of the family may claim an open season on moose in perpetuity. Sixteen other local farmers have similar letters, and the case is expected to be fought all the way to the supreme court."

Somewhere among my ancient and dusty letters and papers I seem to remember a certain document from a hardrock member of the Green River tribe giving an equally ancient and dusty kinsman of ours permission to hunt ducks and geese at will in the Western valleys. I must get busy and dig that letter out. Maybe the state game commission can be made to see the light if they are faced with this incontrovertible piece of evidence of the right of man to shoot ducks while they are here and before the

NW Jobless Picture Same

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—A labor department survey disclosed little or no change in the Northwest's unemployment picture between July and the end of September.

Nationally, the survey showed 45 temperature drops down into the minus end of the thermometer.

major areas with decreases in unemployment, 41 of them having declines of 10 per cent or more. In the Northwest, however, the picture was relatively the same. The situation remained worst in the Portland-Vancouver area where the report indicated substantial labor surplus and unemployment from 7 to 11.2 per cent.
