New Pine Creek

The big annual Eastside grange bazaar will be held this Saturday evening, November 26, and everything is all set except some of the contributions for the various booths have not been turned in yet. It was announced by Mrs. Frankie Williams, chairman of the event.

Mrs. Williams urges all grangers who have not yet turned in some items for the harvest table, to do so right away so that each booth will be jammed with pretties and what-nots that will prove irresistible to the patrons and general public which is invited to this big social event.

An added feature of the bazaar this year will be some special numbers put on by the 4H drum and bugle corps of Lakeview. This group is gaining quite a reputation and leave a very favorable impression wherever they show. They demonstrate what a group of youngsters can do under talented leadership.

Mrs. Williams makes this request — that each grange family bring two of either sandwiches, salad or cake so that there will be plenty to eat as a capacity crowd is expected. Dancing will follow immediately after the bazaar, and a midnight supper will be served. Proceeds from the event will go toward the building of the juvenile hall, the construction of which is now in progress.

Mrs. Margaret Carter wishes to thank Mrs. Maude Butler, Mrs. Myrna Barrows and Mrs. Fannie Fisher for helping her with the work on the Community Chest drive.

Tom Lyall of Los Angeles accompanied Miss Eleanor Hamilton, former teacher at the State Line school here, up from Willows, Calif. for a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butler and family and other friends. Lyall is a civil engineer by profession. The couple expects to be married in the "Spring Tra-La" and then Miss Hamilton says she will quit teaching. They expect to make their home in Los Angeles.

Kenneth Butler left Monday for Martinez, Calif., to spend a couple of weeks visiting his sister, Mrs. Joy Mahan and family. He went with Mrs. Dorothy McDonald who was making the trip to Klamath and he was accompanied by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butler. Kenneth will take the train at the Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Butler will return with Mrs. McDonald.

The Home Ec club held their meeting last Thursday in the grange hall where they completed plans for the bazaar. A feature of the meeting was a home demonstration put on by Miss Pearl Ludy of Alturas, the home demonstration agent of Modoc. She demonstrated how to make attractive household utility articles and novelties that can quite appropriately be used for Christmas gifts. No doubt some of her ideas and suggestions will appear among the many articles you will see and have a chance to purchase at the grange bazaar. There was good attendance at the meeting of which Mrs. Ray Bishop and Mrs. Bill Bishop were hostesses. Pineapple pie, ice cream and coffee were served for refreshments.

Th workmen on the juvenile hall were also treated to refreshments, following the meeting. — Yum — Yum!

Mrs. Eugene Barrows returned from Portland last Saturday where she spent a week with her husband who is convalescing in a hospital there. Rev. Barrows is some better but has not as yet been released from medical care.

The grange sponsored card party will be held Thursday Thanksgiving evening and as considerable interest has been shown in these events, a good crowd is expected. Grangers attending the party are expected to furnish the food but non-grange members, (and the public is invited) are not requested to donate any food as they are treated as guests of the grange. However, a charge of 50 cents per plate will be made, the object being to raise a little money for the building program and at the same time have a little fun. There will be prizes. Mr. Paris has made arrangements to have some of his theatrical chairs which are stored at the Kelly Creek school, brought down so there will be plenty of seats and the seats will be covered so as not to molest the ladies hose.

Playing will begin promptly at 8 o'clock it was announced by Mrs. Louise Miller and Mrs. Frankie Williams who are jointly in charge of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Perry and family, accompanied by Richard Robnett, attended the Oregon vs. OSC football game in Eugene last Saturday. A capacity crowd witnessed the homecoming game which turned out to be an upset for Oregon and OSC ran away with the laurels. The Perry family was not able to sit together but sat singly scattered over various parts of the arena. The game was made more interesting as Leona Robnett is a member of the Oregon drill team which paraded between halves.

Free House But With A Joker

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, Eng. Nov. 26 (AP)—In 1578, Queen Elizabeth slept there. It has 60 rooms. It has 366 windows. It's free.

But 30-year-old Lord Rothschild can't even give Rushbrooke Hall away.

The hall is an ancient mansion, an ancestral relic of the famous banking family. What with taxes and upkeep, the present owner has no use for it.

First he tried to give it to the county council for a farm institute. They said no thanks, bit too big.

Then he offered it to the Thirpoe Rural council to use as they pleased. Yesterday they, too, turned it down.

"Take five tons of coal a day to heat it, explained Chairman P. S. Beaufort.

"I shall have to start thinking again," said Rothschild.

Southern Forest Fires Raging

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 26 (AP)—Fire fighters, handicapped by a shortage of manpower and equipment, today battled the state's worst epidemic of forest fires in years.

Blazes were reported in 15 counties, most of them in Eastern Mississippi.

John Smith, forest fire control chief, blamed the fires on the lack of a general rain for nearly a month, and carelessness on the part of hunters and smoking motorists.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-seven words were responsible for the most famous backfield in football history.

... And tomorrow the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame, the "Seven Mules" and their substitutes will gather at South Bend for a 25th reunion that is a tribute to the chilled sportswriter who typed those words. ... It was Grantland Rice who sat in an open air press box after Notre Dame's thrilling 1924 victory over Army and wrote: "Outlined against a blue-gray October sky, the Four Horsemen rode again."

... And George Strickler later concocted the idea of photographing Strickler, Layden, Crowley and Miller, in full football regalia, astride a quartet of swaybacked livery stable nags. ... Rice's 37-word lead and Strickler's picture assured athletic immortality for those four players. ... They'd be called "corny" now and probably wouldn't get by an eagle-eyed sports editor, but maybe those enthusiasts were right and the blasé moderns are wrong.

... Those Notre Dame players deserved all the publicity they received, and most of them have been as successful since graduation as they were at football.

Clem Crowe, coach of the Buffalo Bills who was a reserve end at Notre Dame in 1924, received a questionnaire in connection with the silver anniversary of the "Four Horsemen" ... When he came to question six, concerning club affiliations, he wrote: "None—see number nine." ... No. 9 asked about children and Clem listed the names of his ten.

Travis Tidwell, the Auburn star who is finally having a good season after two years of broken-leg troubles, has had inquiries from four National football league clubs and one, Baltimore, in the All-America conference. ... He tells them all he's interested in pro football. ... Siena College, one of the so-called little schools, is sending a delegation of at least 1000 rosters to the Garden when its basketball team plays Manhattan next week. ... The captains and playing-manager of the Western Michigan "alumni" team that will play the varsity on "Buck Road Night" tomorrow are Wayne Terwilliger, the Cubs' second baseman, and Ray Louthan, a pitcher who belongs to the Giants. ... They'll both graduate from Western Michigan after this semester.

They're telling this one in Texas on Blair Cherry, whose Longhorns have lost two one-point decisions this season and one by two points. ... Seems Blair and a doctor crony went deer hunting, just to get Cherry's mind off his troubles. ... They have a standing bet on which one bags a buck with the greatest number of points on its horns. ... So when the Doc brought in his prize, it was a seven-pointer. ... and Cherry, no matter how often he counted, couldn't make it more than six.
