

THE MYSTERY OF A COSMETIC BAR stops Dave Underhill dead in his tracks. Virginia Calhoun is demonstrating a blended powder but Dave's still in the dark.

A TRADITIONAL Christmas gift is a matching negligee and gown which Dave thinks would go swell for any of his women folk.

HOW MUCH is what Dave wants to know as he peeks into a model's black velvet evening bag.

Podnah, It's Gonna Be Cold Outside!

By RED HURD

The long winter nights ahead will be cold, podnah!

I can't think of a better evening pastime on a blistery, wintry night than playing cards with a fire crackling in the fireplace.

Probably the best suggestion for a Christmas gift for your friends is the newest card sensation, canasta.

You can purchase the complete set—cards, scoring pads, rules—at several stores in Klamath Falls. The game is catching on—to use a trite expression—like wildfire and if you don't learn canasta well, you just ain't "in the know."

Maybe someone's poker set has served its usefulness and the cards and chips are ragged. Or maybe someone for whom you want to buy a gift hasn't a poker set. You can buy them within an extensive range of prices.

Pinochle, gin rummy, tripoli—just to mention a few—are popular card games.

So, if you're stuck for a gift idea, look over the card games.

Then, if you want to do the job up brown, why not buy a card table for someone and set them up for many evenings of real pleasure?

Holiday Soon For Klamath School Kids

Christmas vacation—the thing that has been in the minds of students ever since school started in September, has been scheduled by all local schools.

December 23 is the last day of school at Klamath Union high school, Sacred Heart Academy, and all county schools. A lot of hurrying around will be done that day by students who have last minute shopping to do.

Kids will be home from all the colleges and universities, too. Finals at several colleges will be over on December 16, and on December 24 at others.

One thing is for sure, students and all of the family will want to be together around the tree on Christmas eve.

Wine High On Christmas List

One of the nicest gifts at Christmastime is a gift of wine.

There is a secret to enjoying wine and here is what the famous Mr. Bib said to us about it: The taste for wine, like the taste for all exotic and delicate flavors and aromas must be cultivated. Hardly anyone likes his first oyster, first taste of caviar, and the first puff of a cigar or swallow of beer is usually a disappointment.

Cultivate your taste for wine by taking it with food. Thirst should be quenched with water. Wine is to be sipped slowly between bites—without letting it get under your tongue—and this last point is one of Mr. Bib's secrets. After a while you will discover a new and pleasant taste sensation, and each successive bite will seem better than the last. By stimulating the taste buds, wine makes good food taste better.

Romance, Silver

There is nothing nicer to give a young girl, especially one with a romantic look in her eye, than a piece of sterling silver. It is quite customary these days to start girls out with a fine pattern when they are even yet too young to know a knife from a cocktail fork.

But as time goes on, they will deeply appreciate a collection of silver which grows more beautiful with the years.

Klamath Falls jewelers have a fine array of silver patterns from which to choose and you can go old fashioned, extremely modern, or stay in the middle of the road and pick out a plain, timeless style and still be safe.
