Since the Pep Peppers were required to pay admission to the 20-30 basketball tournament games the club is not attending the games in a group. Extra merits are given those who attend, but unless everyone goes the red and white uniforms cannot be worn.

The band, however, played at the game last night and will play again tomorrow night. A pep band of some type will play tonight.

Both tonight and tomorrow night there will be after-game dances in Pelican court. The dance tonight is sponsored by the junior class and the one tomorrow night by the rally squad. Mike Shade's band has been asked to play for both dances and the admission to each is 35 cents stag, 50 cents couple.

Starting today the class schedules were rearranged so that the activity period falls at the end of the day. In this way everyone in the Christmas production, "The Nutcracker Suite," may practice from 2:55 on.

Pep Peppers, Pelican Service club and the K club are all hard at work selling the basketball season tickets to townspeople for $5 each. The seats are not reserved, but the ticket entitles the holder to all nine home games.

There's just one more week to go now in the K club whistening contest, since the dance ending the affair will be held a week from tonight when the prizes are awarded those with the longest, darkest, reddest and "best effort" beard. Roger Klahn has grown real sideburns and a goatee, although most faces are fairly fuzzy. K club members helped out some the boys having trouble producing whiskers through the use of black theatrical makeup yesterday.

Santa Visits Tulake December 17

TULAKE—The big annual Christmas party and parade for children given by merchants of Tulake with the assistance of the Kiwanis club is planning a return visit of Santa Claus on Saturday, December 17.

This will be the third year that children from all parts of the community have been entertained.

The plans this year follow the same pattern as last year. Children of Tulake, Carr, Winema, Grandview at Newell, Merrill and Malin are urged to "make costumes as they did last Christmas and enter the big parade that will march up Main street during the afternoon.

All those entering are to line up on the vacant lots across from Earl's Market by 1:30 p. m. The parade will start there and end up at the Christmas tree near the bank corner. Prizes will be given to first, second, third and fourth place winners in the following groups: Group 1—children from the first to the fourth grades, inclusive; group 2, boys and girls; group 3, fifth to eighth grades inclusive, boys and girls, separately with prizes to each; group 4, boys and girls grouped.

The big tree to be brought in this week-end by the 20-30 club from Tionesta will be lighted. There will be carols sung around it on the day of the parade.

Several hundred children paraded through town last year to receive prizes for costumes, treats and to help in the caroling.

Macdoel Rabbit Drive Sunday

Final rabbit drive of the season for the Macdoel area is scheduled for Sunday, 10:30 a. m. according to Siskiyou Agriculture Commissioner J. O. McKinney.

The party is to meet at the airport one-fourth of a mile south of Macdoel.

A free lunch is to be served, McKinney said.
