

Week's Woman's Interests Varied

A zest for living has given this Woman of the Week—Twyla Ferguson—a wide range of experiences which has caused her to be the envy of a great many of her many, many friends.

Mrs. Ferguson lists her main interest as the Klamath chapter of the League of Women Voters, but friends contributed many others with special stress on the interest in people.

Coming here in 1918, Mrs. Ferguson has been closely aligned with affairs of the town. She became interested in the League of Women Voters on its organization here a number of years ago and has been

Library Notes

Imagine the chagrin of seventeen-year-old Barbara on discovering that her new and brightest flame is "simply bats on your Jane Austen" to the extent that her novels are his favorite bedside books and he took them to the jungles of Burma! In her despair she comes to her older friend with the query: "What is it about Jane Austen?"

"More about Jane Austen?" is an attempt to answer this question, by G. B. Stern and Sheila Kaye-Smith, who have already one book about Jane to their credit. These two shrewd and lively writers take turns with the chapters in order to canvass every aspect of Jane Austen not exhausted in the previous book. They show how she pictures the eighteenth century as ours; how most of her beauties are blonds but she loves the brunettes best; what a delightful human comedy she makes of ailments and invalids and obliging apothecaries; what a sense of reality she gives to love affairs and village doings and family pleasures and problems; to parties and balls, excursions in city and country, to London and Bath; to life which is commonplace and every-day and yet not insignificant. For special interest read the chapter in which various characters in the novels are imagined "as they may have been" seven years after the end of the story.

What is it about Jane Austen? There must be something, for writers keep writing books about her. "Parson Austen's Daughter" by Helen Ashton is a thorough, novelistic biography, painstakingly woven from the Austen letters and from research into the history and life of the period.

The personality of Jane manages to escape being submerged amid the wealth of data about the Austens and the Napoleonic era, and the closing scene is a really moving representation of the too early death of one whose range was narrow yet wide, and whose art was so simple as to be baffling.

Fall Wedding At Lutheran Church

In a ceremony of November 27, Miss Lorraine Jane Lean became the bride of G. Ray Taylor at the Klamath Lutheran church of this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lean of Kindred, North Dakota, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Addie Taylor of Brogan, Ore.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Irvin Tweet at 2:00. Preceding the ceremony, Russell Toyonen sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Dennison.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Sigurd Dahler, was in traditional white satin with a fine tulle veil. Sleeves of her frock were long and pointed at the wrist. Rosebuds and an orchid formed her bouquet. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Musical Program Heard By Mothers

On Thursday evening December 1 the Mothers club of Sacred Heart academy met in the school auditorium at 7:30 with Marion Howard presiding.

The meeting was preceded by a very beautiful musical program under the direction of Sister Faustina. Donald Toucher sang two solos, "Trail's End" and "Evening Prayer" accompanied on the piano by Jane Grey, Vicky Roman and Shirley Heidenreich gave a piano duet "Spring Song" and there were two vocal solos by Jerry Igl "Sheep and Lambs" and "The Lost Chord," accompanied on the piano by Susan "Prelude" and the Mandralic Singers in their red and white robes sang "Prayer" and "The Whiffenpoof Song." In the chorus were Mary Elliott, Jackie Joyer, Mary Mauch, Marlene Mingo, Shirley Fee, Julianne Murphy, Susan Vandenberg, Joanna McAuliffe, Ann Egan, Alice Baker, Betty Noble and Freida Waldron, and their accompanist was Judy Vandenberg.

During the business session it was announced that the Christmas party for the Sisters of the academy would be held on Sunday December 18 at 1 p. m. and will be followed by a social hour and tea. Frances Druller is program chairman and Ellen Ely refreshments chairman.

Some time in January the Mothers club will sponsor a rummage sale and the chairman will be Nellie Murphy. The club will also hold a cooked food sale when the new parish hall is opened in January, and the chairman of this will be Agnes Ellis.

Bonnie Vandenberg will head the committee to select a gift for the new hall and Mrs. L. Roman was appointed group leader for the second grade Blue Bird group. Mr. Padgett spoke on medical re-imbursment insurance for children on school playgrounds and those engaged in class work except athletic activities and refreshments were then served by Mrs. Stang and Mrs. Durrell.

Chiloquin High Alumni Gather

CHILOQUIN — A specialist in diseases of infants and children, Dr. Don B. Rice of Klamath Falls, was voted the outstanding alumnus of Chiloquin high school at a recent alumni party held at the school gymnasium. The thirty-eight graduates who attended the somewhat impromptu affair in company with their guests, decided to make it an annual party to be held Thanksgiving week-end on either Friday or Saturday night.

Norma Lee Glenzer was hostess for the evening and a fellow classmate of hers, Bill Floyd, was master of ceremonies for the first half of the program and Jack Jones for the latter part. An amateur show drew both laughs and applause. Elda DeBorillo, soprano, took first place with the song "Alice Blue Gown," but two groups ran a close second and third. The three troubadors, Jack Jones with the guitar, Rose Marie Floyd and Remo Minato, sang two numbers, and a chorus line consisting of Kenneth Luderman, Wilfred Lousley, Dr. Don Rice, Forest Freid, Loyal Heath and Bob Hall which was coached by Mrs. Gerry Wolff were the runners up.

Jim Wampler and Bill Pohll taught several square dances and called them for the group.

Mrs. Lou Kellison was given a special rosette cap award during the evening. Several alumni sold of whereabouts of classmates today and the remainder of the evening was spent between the dance floor and refreshments.

The first graduating class at CHS was in 1927 and classes have ranged from 1 to 24 members. The three attending alumni from the class of 1946, for example, made up 50 per cent of its enrollment of six graduates. Alumni attended from each class between 1923 and 1949 with the exception of '41 and '43.

Pinocle Party

The Home Economics club of the Shasta View grade sponsored a pinocle party last Saturday at the Shasta school gym. Mrs. Alice Hoover and Mrs. Ada Barleen acted as co-hostess. Fifty guests were present, and twelve tables of pinocle were in play during the evening.

High scores for women went to Mrs. Dacie Hoover, and Mrs. Louise Kiser; high for men to Dr. Alva T. Custer and Mr. Louis Lowe; and special prizes to Mrs. Bess Thomas and Mrs. Chloe Pride.

Pie and coffee were served at the close of the evening.

MRS. NORVAL E. MCGREGOR was Miss Marilyn McLellan before her wedding on Thanksgiving Day in Great Falls, Mont. Mrs. McGregor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McLellan, formerly of this city. —Harrington studio—Great Falls.

Great Falls Rites Solemnized On Thanksgiving Day

On Thanksgiving Day in the First Methodist church of Great Falls, Mont., Miss Marilyn McLellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McLellan, formerly of this city, became the bride of Mr. Norval E. McGregor, son of Russell McGregor of West Fargo.

The bride was gowned in French imported silk eyelet marquisette, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, bustle back, and train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a heart-shaped hair edged with lily of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses, centered with a single white orchid.

After a reception in the church the couple left for a wedding trip in North Dakota and Minnesota. They are now at home in Great Falls.

The bride attended junior high and high school in Klamath Falls, and College of Great Falls.

White Shrine

On Tuesday evening December 6 the White Shrine of Jerusalem held a meeting in the Masonic temple with Blanche Barker, worthy high priestess, presiding. After lodge Nina Currier, chairman, assisted by Minnie Grizzle, May Hurndon and Clara Sherman presented a delightful program. Harriet Mueller sang two solos; accompanied by Beatrice Dennison. Blanche Marks gave scripture readings of the birth of Christ.

There were readings by Jim Hunter, Larry Barker and Rosella Richardson, all suited to the Christmas season, and Maurice Sherman as Santa Claus then distributed gifts from the beautifully decorated tree, presented for the occasion by Vera Clemens.

Refreshments were served by Clairalice Epperson, Esther Inman Edna Jones, Helen Spiker and Ethel Henry. Christmas greenery was used for the general decoration of the hall and the table was centered with a small Christmas tree. Group singing of Christmas carols closed the very enjoyable evening.

CHAPLAIN H. BROOKS of San Pedro, California to the ladies!

By Louise Reinhart

Klamath Falls, Dec. 10—This is THE time of year for parties, parties, and more parties. There are thirty-three women's clubs in our town, and I think each one is having a Christmas party with gift exchange. Our dollar department is just the place to shop for the most acceptable gifts you can imagine for the person whose name you drew. And you get your S. & H. Green stamps besides. Many of the articles in this department are very specially priced, giving you more than ever for your money.

And since it is party time, consider the dish problem, and look at the many lovely patterns we have in open stock china. The glasses on our high quality dinnerware are fired at a much higher temperature than the clay body, resulting in a finish that defies knife scratches, fading, or wearing off. This is an important feature to know when selecting china.

In our special-gift-for-the-special-person department, we can show you handsome diamond watches, diamond and stone or fraternal rings, sterling silver compacts, lighters, and cigarette cases, sterling flatware, tea sets, and innumerable other special ideas to give your SOMEONE a real thrill this Christmas.

Our gift wrapping is, as usual, a little unusual, and no gift is too small or inexpensive for this service. THE BOSSMAN says don't forget to mention our men's gift section, and our layaway plan, which will enable your BOSSMAN to select your gift, have us wrap it beautifully, and tuck it away so you won't suspect, until the proper moment. We will be sure to give him the S. & H. Green Stamps, too, at Reinhart's, 819 Main St.
