

Two Granges Hold Joint Installation

Joint installation of Midland and Shasta View grange officers was held Thursday at the Shasta View school.

William Howes, Medford, state deputy, was installing officer, and gave an inspirational delivery of the charges to the various officers. Rex High, Poe valley, district grange deputy, was in charge of regalia and floor arrangements, and Lyle Hickman, Midland, past Pomonona master, was the installing marshal. Hickman was assisted by L. W. Barleen, emblem bearer, Marian Lewis, regalia bearer, and Mrs. Alva T. Custer, pianist, all from Shasta.

Crowd
A large delegation of both Midland and Shasta grangers was on hand to witness the ceremonies.

Past Master Fred Lewis, Shasta, was called upon for a review of the past year's accomplishments, and Master Elect Carl Yancey, Shasta, and Frances Flowers, Midland, gave plans and objectives for the coming year.

At the close of the ceremonies, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mrs. Ada Barleen and Mrs. Chloe Pride had charge of table decorations, and Mrs. Alice Hoover, retiring home ec chairman of Shasta, and Mrs. Gertie Huff, Midland, were in charge of refreshments.

Illness Fatal To Pioneer Keno Resident

Death claimed another Klamath county pioneer early today with the passing of Samuel Padgett, 75, for many years a resident and store operator at Keno.

Mr. Padgett died in Klamath Falls following an illness since last May. He was born in Kansas, son of Jacob and Eliza Padgett, and came to Keno with the family at the age of 17 years. His father, Jacob, established the Keno general store which was sold in 1919 to T. J. Prather. The store, started 58 years ago, is still in operation.

Married
Mr. Padgett and Vinna Pratt, a native of Keno, were married there. With their family they moved to Klamath Falls and at that time, Mr. Padgett worked as foreman in the Southern Pacific freight shed. Later the Padgetts moved to Sams valley on Rogue river near Gold Hill, but after several years in the valley returned to Klamath Falls where Mr. Padgett took the night watchman job at Ewauna Box company. He was with that concern until the mill closed last December.

Survivors
Survivors include the wife, Vinna, one daughter, Mrs. Elsie M. Barker of Klamath Falls, four sons, Marion, Victor and Erwin, all of this city, and Arthur of Santa Rosa, Calif. Whitlock's will announce final rites.

4 Fires Do Little Damage

Four blazes kept firemen busy over the week-end in Klamath Falls but none was serious. Little damage was reported.

City firemen answered three of the calls and suburban firemen one. Cold weather was indirectly the cause of fire at Mortarless Cement Block company, 1250 Madison, yesterday afternoon. Suburban firemen answered a call to extinguish a fire after employees had tried to thaw a frozen water pipe and the bottom planking of a large water tank caught fire.

At 7:46 a. m. today, city firemen extinguished a small blaze at 238 Martin caused by a defective flue or stove connection.

Two families, A. D. Alexander and W. R. Connell occupy the dwelling. Firemen report that several months ago they extinguished a fire at this home and repairs had just been completed before this fire. However, little damage was reported from this fire.

At 6:40 p. m. Sunday city firemen were called to Safeway store, 8th and Pine, but the fire was out when they arrived.

Saturday afternoon, firemen extinguished a small blaze in the basement of a home at 1946 Manzanita. The fire was attributed to an overheated furnace. Only small damage was reported.

Paisley Jury Drawn Today

LAKEVIEW—A jury was being drawn here in circuit court this morning to hear the case of Grover Morgan of Paisley, charged with assault while armed with a dangerous weapon.

Morgan has been at liberty under $750 bail following his arrest last June when he allegedly drew a knife on his brother-in-law, Frank Farmer of Paisley, in a Paisley tavern.

Forrest Cooper, Lakeview attorney, represents Morgan.

Inn Heavily Damaged By Blaze

TULELAKE—Flames partially destroyed The Inn, three quarters of a mile south of here at 4 o'clock Sunday morning and firemen were hard pressed in the sub-zero weather to save any portion of the structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel LeBarron, owners of The Inn, narrowly escaped from the building in their night clothes, warned by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Park who operate Park motel next door.

Mrs. Park was awakened and saw flames through her bedroom window. The Tulelake volunteer fire department was called immediately and then the LeBarrons warned. They were asleep on the second floor of the building.

Tough Weather
Firemen said water froze as it hit the building and the fire fighters were literally covered with frozen spray. Volunteers working in relays were warmed and given coffee at the motel nearby during the freezing four-hour period they fought flames.

The kitchen, rear quarters and wall were destroyed, the restaurant and bar badly damaged by heat, smoke and flames. The front and side walls were left standing and damage is expected to exceed $10,000.

The Inn was built in 1941 by William Seigler who later sold to Ray Moresco. A year and a half ago, Moresco sold to the LeBarrons.

Below Zero
The Tulelake volunteer department was able to get water on the building from a nearby drain and they also used the 5000-gallon supply tank at Park's. At the time the fire broke out in the rear of the building, the temperature reading at Tulelake was 5 below zero.

Warren Asks 'Dishonest' Lobby Purge

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 12 (AP)—Governor Warren came before a special session of the California legislature today with a plea to drive "dishonest" lobbyists out of the state capitol.

In stinging terms — and yet with a good word for the majority of legislative advocates — the chief executive outlined steps to outlaw "disreputable" practices and to stamp out "corrupt" lobbying.

Warren elaborated on other issues in his proclamation, calling his eighth special session in seven years. These touched mainly on the changeback from state to county handling of aid to aged and needy blind; funds to help out poor school districts and new provisions to cope with sex crimes.

Girl Lost On Yule Tree Hunt

KELSO, Wash., Dec. 12 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl, lost since yesterday in a rugged, snow-banketed forest near here, was sought amid snow and rain today by her desperate family and a sheriff's posse.

The volunteers who worked vainly through the woods all night pinned their hopes on Ruth Aberle's Girl Scout training, trusting that her knowledge of woodsmanship might have helped her to survive the cold.

Two inches of snow blanketed the rough, heavily-timbered country where the West Kelso girl disappeared from her friends on a Christmas tree hunt yesterday noon.

Brave Mother
Ruth's mother searched the woods last night until she collapsed, exhausted, and was taken to a hospital. Early this morning she slipped out of her bed and went back to the rugged forest to search again.

The father, a brother, and two sisters went doggedly on hunting, along with some 75 volunteers and sheriff's deputies. The army was asked to send men, and helicopter was expected to arrive later.

A light snow fell through the night, but began turning to rain this morning. It was still bitterly cold.

CAVE-IN VICTIM—Rescue workers pull the body of John Cipriani, 30, Monterey, Calif., laborer, to the surface from cave-in where he was killed while working on a sewer construction job at Carmel, Calif. A second man, Carl D. Simon, 25, of Monterey, was also in the cave-in but rescue workers reached him in time to save his life. (AP wirephoto).

Moore Park Rink Ready By Week-end

Ice skating on the Moore park pond will start this week-end, according to Sam Smith, city recreation director.

"Definite opening time will be announced later over the radio and in The Herald and News. The rink has been enlarged, lighting increased and shelter facilities improved for this year," Smith said.

Comforts
A lighted shelter with a heater and hot coffee will be available this year and the lavatories also will be lighted.

On the rink, Smith said, "we now have three 1500 and three 750-watt lights instead of the former two 1500-watt lights."

"In case of snow," Smith said, "Manzanita, Wilford and Washington streets will be guarded against traffic and children may coast on these hills." Parents are asked to keep children off other streets for coasting.

The hillside by Conger school was bladed smooth this year and will be used for coasting.

Warning
Smith warned ice skaters that skating on canals and upper Klamath lake is definitely dangerous. Especially so until colder weather freezes the canals.

"Klamath lake is always dangerous," Smith said. "Because of the hot springs, a warm current is present in the lake and keeps the ice thin." This year an earthquake may have opened more springs and ice formations will be very thin on the lake.

Catastrophes Sweep Country; Many Injured

Illinois was high. Arkansas alone estimated its damage might reach $100,000.

All the tornado dead are in Arkansas and Missouri. The twisters hammered six Arkansas communities yesterday, killed three persons and injured ten. Many escaped the fury by taking shelter in storm cellars. The communities hit were Clinton, Beede, Velvet Ridge, Cross Roads, Providence and Bradford. Two were killed at Cross Roads, one at Providence.

Garland Robbins, 60, of Providence, described the twister as "black as midnight and roaring like hell." His store was destroyed.
