

Take a Look; Gives You A Lift

By BILL JENKINS

THOSE little flashes of beauty one glimpses on the way to work in the morning can be just as inspiring and appreciated just as much as the awesome wonders of nature that are usually reserved to be looked at on a long vacation. My nomination for the morning glimpse is the lower lake with the early sun turning it into a vari-colored resting place for innumerable ducks.

IN following up a program to which all Oregon AP (Associated Press) members pledged themselves at a recent meeting I have a criticism to level at certain writers. The use of the term "kid road." There is a modern tendency nowadays to refer to these particular areas as "skid row" which is obviously incorrect. The term originated in Seattle, if my memory serves me correctly and was pinned to that area along the waterfront where the loggers gathered to work off steam and do a little strenuous relaxing after winter in the woods. The term comes from the early day log road, made of half buried logs along which the felled trees were skidded to the yarding area. So when you write, or refer to it, please make it "skid road." It's an old Western custom.

DEVOTEES of the early American art of Terpsichore will gather again Friday to go through their strenuous rites. It looks as if square dancing has come to stay—again. At least it makes a nice balance for a world that is becoming more and more shaded by an atomic cloud. You certainly don't have time to worry about international affairs when you're trying to keep up with a good fast caller.

AFTER all the hullabaloo raised about the Christmas decorations in the first place it wouldn't be fair to let down now. Maybe some of you aren't aware of it yet, but the merchants are still doing the maintenance work on those strings and lights and all the other things. No small job, when you consider that every day a few bulbs have to be replaced, wiring repaired, strings retied and other items of upkeep attended to. You can't afford to blow in all your Christmas spirit in one day. It has to be a thing that will carry you over the holiday season.

IN case any of you gave up a trip to Britain because you couldn't get a Rolls Royce for hire you may now stop worrying. On closer inspection of the little magazine I finally found a tiny ad tucked up in a corner that offers Rolls Royce saloons for hire. A pleasant picture, even though it is only a play on words.

THOUGHT for the week: Where does all the waste paper come from that is invariably blowing around on Main street all day Sunday? Certainly makes a messy picture for any passing motorist.

Make a casserole dish of macaroni and sliced frankfurters and canned tomato sauce; add cole slaw, bread and butter, and a ready-prepared dessert or fruit for a quick holiday supper menu.

HIGH SCHOOL News and Comments

With the awarding of the prizes for the best beards in the Whiskerino contest coming up tomorrow night, there's quite a list of boys who might be eligible for the titles to be awarded at the Whiskerino dance after the game with Roseburg tomorrow night. Tom Schubert, Jim Manning, Roy Lundgren, Roger Klahn, Bob Scott, Bob Petzoldt, Davie Todd, Eugene Ross, Don Allen, John Owings, Bill Gordon, Dick Petzoldt and Frank Bridge are all sporting beards that would make any hobo jealous. But after tomorrow night the boys will again be clean-shaven and respectable after three weeks of lengthening whiskers.

Christmas trees, mistletoe, holly and Christmas posters are all beginning to appear in the various rooms at KUHS with each room vying with the others for the prizes of pop and ice cream to the members of the home room judged the best-decorated by a special committee from the student congress. Christmas carols are being played over a loudspeaker system in the main hall at noon and yesterday a group of boys got together during the lunch hour to add their own voices to the carols.

The Pep Peppers, in order to sell the basketball season tickets to the townspeople, are visiting the various noon meetings of the service clubs to sell the cards to the members. Tomorrow is the last day of the sale. The tickets sell for $5, a saving of $1.65 over the regular admission price for the nine games.

Clocks, radios and other small appliances are being brought to the main office to aid in the occupational training of hospitalized veterans. The Exchange club in Klamath Falls is sponsoring the drive, and has enlisted the aid of KUHS.

PETRILLO CHARGED

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP) — Charges that James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL musicians' union, has violated the Taft-Hartley law are being investigated by the regional national labor relations board office. The charge was made by the Boom Electric & Amplifier company, said Ross M. Madden, NLRB regional director.
