DOWN AND OUT—Unusual photographic sequence above shows demonstration of a new pilot ejection seat being tested on Navy F3D "Skyknight" jet fighters at El Centro, Calif. Conventional ejection device catapults the pilot straight up from his seat. In the F3D the pilot slides down a chute in the cockpit floor and drops out from the belly of the plane. Pictures, starting at upper left and going down, show pilot's course until he is completely free of ship and is ready to pull ripcord of his parachute. Successful "balouts" of this type have been made at speeds up to 430 miles an hour.

HERO'S HAPPY HOUR—Plucky Mike Rector, who'll be five years old Dec. 23, is a happy hero, because he's going home for Christmas after more than a year of battling the agony of burns over 70 per cent of his body. On Nov. 12, 1948, two boys seized Mike and set fire to his cowboy suit. The doctors shook their heads. Seldom had anyone so badly burned lived. But they didn't give up. Neither did Mike. And now he hopes to leave Casualty Hospital, Washington, D. C., to go home for a few hours and see what Santa brought in response to the letter his sister, Rose, is helping him write.

California Lobbyists' Views Sought

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16 (AP)—A call went out to lobbyists to speak up today and tell California legislators what they think about proposed action to control their vote-getting activities.

The corps of advocates, who have eyed Governor Warren's lobby-curbing program intently but ever so silently, get their chance at a senate rules committee hearing called for 11 a.m. (PST) and thrown open to all comers.

Stalled

On the fifth day of the year-end special session, the bills to stifle corrupt practices in influencing the making of the state's laws have gone exactly nowhere. They remain in assembly and senate committees while members work to soften or clarify restrictions applying mainly to lawyer legislators.

Bills covering other issues of the session—school funds, sex crimes and welfare system revision have fared better.

The assembly education committee approved a $2,500,000 appropriation to help out school districts burdened by boom growth. The California Teachers association declared that unless emergency aid is given many schools will be forced to close before the end of the school year.

Aged Blind

Legislation to continue state handling of aged blind aid until July 1 cleared the assembly social welfare committee. Otherwise administration will revert to the 38 counties in March under the initiative measure adopted by the people last month.

The senate finance committee recommended passage of a bill giving the state $8,200,000 to pay the costs of the security program until July 1.

Finally, the state rules committee agreed on the need for some severe penalties against sex offenders by reporting out, favorably, a series of measures designed to meet the problem.

TULELAKE—Lights are strung, the big Christmas tree is up, carols are being broadcast and everything is ready for the big annual Christmas party for the young fry of the southern section of the Klamath basin tomorrow.

Merchants of Tulelake, assisted by the Kiwanis club, expect to entertain between 800 and 1000 children of grade school age or younger at this third annual Christmas rally.

Children of Tulelake, Carr, Grandview, Winema, Merrill and Malin schools and communities have been invited to costume and participate in the parade that will travel up Main street from Karl's market to the tree.

Prizes

Prizes including bicycles, trikes, electric trains, dolls and lots of other toys will be given for the winning entries.

Last year some 600 children entered.

The youngsters will meet Santa Claus around the lighted tree in front of the Bank of America to receive sacked treats. Winners will be announced and prizes distributed.

Kiwanians and their wives are meeting tonight to sack the treats. Tulelake Boy Scouts have their Christmas trees, offered for sale, near the lighted tree. Prizes are on display in the window of the building next the bank and this corner of town looks like Santa Claus village.

The parade will start promptly at 1:30 p.m.
