

Catholic Daughters Have Holiday Party

The annual Christmas party of the Catholic Daughters of America was held in the KC hall Tuesday evening, December 13, at 8 p. m., and was attended by about eighty in all. During the short business meeting which preceded the social hour it was announced that Marion Howard and Hattie Boyd would be co-chairmen for the card party to be sponsored by Court Klamath on the day that the parish hall is officially opened in January.

Cookbooks will be offered for sale before Christmas, and were suggested as Christmas gifts. Leone Mathis, grand regent, appointed a charitable works committee, and trustees Florence Pickett, Violet Pieser, Mildred Seavey, Hazelie Narey, Rose O'Leary and Ellen Ely will serve on it. This committee will investigate any charitable cases brought before the court for assistance. Several donations to worthy causes were approved at this meeting.

Phyllis Cavanaugh announced the musical program that followed the business session. Several numbers were given by the Girls' Glee club, including the "Whiffenpoof Song," "Holy Night," "Sleighing Song" and "All I Want for Christmas," and taking part were Julianne Murphy, Jackie Joyer, Mary Maugh, Ann Esah, Alice Baker, Shirley Fox, Mary Elliott, Marlene Mingo, Joanna McAuliffe, Betty Noble, Freida Waldron. The accompanists were Susan and Judy Vandenberg.

Donnie Taucher sang "White Christmas," accompanied by Jane Grey, and Diane Oldenberg sang "Gentle Mary," accompanied by Jean Adams. Group singing of "Jingle Bells," with Louise Vaughn at the piano, heralded the appearance of Santa Claus (Agnes Ellis) who with helpers distributed gifts to the members. An amusing feature was a version of musical chairs, in which the girls were passed from hand to hand, and when the music stopped each member had a gift.

Refreshments were served from a prettily decorated table which was covered with a green cloth and centered with large red candles set in masses of holly, pine cones and juniper branches, together with red and gold Christmas ornaments; at one end of the table was a miniature tree in green and at the other end in red.

Mildred Seavey was in charge of the evening's entertainment and she was assisted by Carolyn Whitby, Barbara Peterson, Jean Moore, Marie Nidorf, Phyllis Cavanaugh, Vivien Kierness, June Andrieu, Marie Narey, Lucille Ingles, Frances Drulliner, Lenore Gallagher, Marion Maguire, Matilda Sari, and Mavis Davis.

Friends who gathered for the occasion were Mrs. George Browning, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. Mildred Phippen, Mrs. Wallace Baker, and Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Music Featured
The Mothers club of Sacred Heart academy will hold a Christmas party for the sisters of the academy Sunday in the school auditorium.

Approximately one hundred pupils from the academy will participate in the program which will follow the short business meeting, and special features will be a presentation of the Nutcracker Suite for two pianos, string and vocal solos and the Girls' Glee club. All members of the parish are cordially invited to attend.

Luncheon Guests
Mrs. O. W. Hanson entertained friends on December 8 with luncheon, at the Hanson home, 635 Division.

After Mrs. Hanson served luncheon, guests finished a quilt which will be a gift to Jack Hanson, son of the hostess, who was recently married.

Members of the parish are cordially invited to attend.

Reception Honors Vern Swansen
President Vern Swansen of the Klamath Art association was honored with a reception held in the Art Center, Wednesday evening.

Swansen, who has been working on murals for a private home in Three Rivers, Calif., returns to the south this week to complete his work there. His latest paintings, in art experimentation, are on exhibit in the Art Center.

He spoke to the group of some 50 persons at the reception on exhibits and politics in art. His exhibited pieces he explained were experiments and by-products of his work in California.

"Progress in art" as compared with progress in other phases of modern living was fully discussed by the speaker who said the present trend of experimenting in art coincides with scientific laboratory experiments and will bridge the gap between present day art values and those of the future which may be expected to be as revolutionary as those following the Renaissance period.

Following his informal talk refreshments were served and a musical program featuring instrumental and vocal numbers, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Freeman Yount accompanied Mrs. Jack Knowles on the French horn with some brief selections and Harriette Mueller sang.

Make individual omelets of egg, minced onion, finely diced salami, and salt and pepper; serve between slices of rye bread toast.

TELLING SANTA CLAUS just what she would like in her stocking on Christmas morning is Nancy Jo Houston, 1-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houston of Portland. Mrs. Beryl Houston of this city is paternal grandmother, and Mrs. Edward Larson of Minneapolis, Minn., is maternal grandmother.

will fall the week of Valentine's Day in February, 1950.

To keep sandwiches fresh, wrap them in waxed paper as usual. But this time, run a warm iron along the double edges before you fold the paper over. The wax will melt and the edges will fuse.
