Static By DAVE UNDERHILL. Ho hum! Another jackpot was won on Stop The Music on Sunday. And the name of the tune, as you must now know, was the National Emblem March.

Tough Luck Hunter Just Can't Win BOUND BROOK N. J., Dec. 20 (AP) John Wojnar is a crestfallen hunter today. Wojnar has been hunting deer in season for more than five years. This year he bagged a nine-point buck, and entered it in the 21st annual buck deer contest run by Frank Efinger, owner of a Bound Brook sporting goods store.

Elopment Foiled; Old Madrid Agog MADRID, Spain, Dec. 20 (AP)—A dawn elopement by a duke's daughter who slid down a bedsheet rope to the arms of her handsome bull-fighter friend was frustrated this week-end by an angry papa. But love may win out, after all. The lady is Angelita Perez de Soane, 18-year-old daughter of the duke of Pinhermoso. The duke opposed her marriage to a 24-year-old bullfighter, Luis Miguel Gonzalez, known to bull ring fans as Dominguez. Rescued! Angelita wrote Dominguez a fortnight ago that her ducal papa was about to put her in a convent to block the match. The letter brought Dominguez back from Caracas, Venezuela, bull ring. Early Saturday morning Angelita slid down a sheet from her bedroom. Dominguez left her with some friends who chaperoned her while the suitor futilely tried to get a marriage license. The duke meanwhile spent his Saturday complaining to the police. The officers finally arrested Angelita's hosts for kidnaping. In the stormy scene that followed in Madrid's police headquarters, Angelita insisted she had not been kidnaped, she'd left of her own free will. Dominguez said he regretted the escape. The duke admitted he, too, had acted hastily. Angelita was back home today, but the word went around Madrid's gossiping society circles that the duke probably will permit the match after a little more convincing from Dominguez. Madrid society thinks the nuptials will take place in time to permit the bridegroom to appear in a Quito, Ecuador, bull ring on January 10. The duke should be getting used to bull fighters in the family. Another of his daughters married Torador Domingo Ortega in 1938. The colorful backdrop. The chase sags a bit in the middle, but otherwise it's good out-of-the-rut entertainment.

Static By DAVE UNDERHILL. Ho hum! Another jackpot was won on Stop The Music on Sunday. And the name of the tune, as you must now know, was the National Emblem March. Contrary to belief the martial air was written by Sousa but by E. E. Bagley in 1907. Seems like the new tune is a Scottish air, but my ancestors were Irish and English so I would not rightly know. On "My True Story," KFLW tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., Brenda Partridge shows how far circumstantial evidence can go in convicting an innocent person. Thursday's True Story program is concerned with the happenings of a young woman with old-fashioned ideas who falls in love with a rich playboy. Good listening on LW begins tonight with the Treasure Chest show at 7:30. The Presbyterian church choir will be aired for fifteen minutes starting at eight o'clock. At 8:15 the musical comedy star, Jack Carson will be on LW. A Christmas music program will be aired at 9:30. This information may be a trifle early, but it is about a special Christmas program. So perhaps it isn't too previous after all. An original dramatic presentation of three five minute playettes depicting the three virtues—Faith, Hope and Charity—will highlight the special Christmas offering of ABC's popular teen-age program, Junior Junction. The presentation will be aired on LW at 3 p. m., Saturday December 24. The dramatization will be done especially by teen-agers from the workshop of the Radio Council of the Chicago Board of Education. Also present for the presentation will be the Carl Schurz high school mixed chorus under the direction of Arthur A. Clark. The two hundred and fifty voice chorus will offer such selections as Silent Night, Deck The Halls, and the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah. That's all the radio news for now. Thought I might tell you of a little incident Saturday which gave me quite a kick. Was driving up Main street with Wes Guderian and "Tex" Loehfer, when the fire engines came screaming down in our direction. Being hot on the beat for news we whipped around the block after the engines and wound up at the Elk's club fire. We parked his car in the lot behind the club and we all three went in the back entrance. All the lights were out and there was smoke hanging in the air. But standing there, seemingly nonplussed by all the excitement were about twenty individuals, still sipping on a glass of good cheer. Cod liver oil is often used in tanning leather. Film Fanfare Gene Autry Plans Longest Appearance Tour of U.S. By ROB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20 (AP)—Gene Autry is setting the pace in the trend of having movie stars go out to meet the public. The moneyed cowpoke is planning the longest appearance tour of his career. He has already booked 26 towns for his 1950 winter tour and is negotiating for 34 more. He opens his show in Pueblo, Colo., January 7, kicking along 27 rodeo performers plus Champion and Little Champion, his horses. Autry will continue his weekly radio broadcast along the route. He returns to Columbia studios April 1 to begin his six-picture schedule for 1950. Anna Magnani, the volcanic Italian actress, is expected here any day. She will record dialogue for "Volcano," another film about an eruptive Italian city. Newsmen are hoping she will comment on her onetime director and flame, Roberto Rossellini. John Ireland is going ahead with his role in "One Way Out," despite his suit to break his Columbia contract. He has to perform the part in order to substantiate his case. Poor Lana Turner. She gets blasted when she haunts the night clubs. Now she gets blasted because she stays home. Three trade papers have criticized her remarks to me about staying home and looking at television. They claim she should be going to the movies instead. Maybe they don't understand
