Pro Grids in Five-Way Knot

NEW YORK, (AP)—Only the New York Yanks can look upon next Sunday's action in the National conference of the National football league with anything approaching disinterest.

The Yanks are the only team in the division who do not own a share of first place, and further—on what they've shown so far—do not figure to come even close the rest of the season. They've lost three games and won none, while Detroit, the Chicago Bears, Green Bay, Los Angeles and San Francisco all sport identical 2-1 marks for a five-way tie for the lead.

The Lions are in the most advantageous spot to take over, for they face the Yanks Sunday. Los Angeles plays Green Bay and San Francisco visits Chicago for game with the Bears.

The American conference is concerned with no such trouble. All the other five teams must worry about now is how to catch the first-place New York Giants.

Steve Owen's league-leaders—and now the favorites to come out on top—play the second-place Philadelphia Eagles in the top game against Cleveland and the Chicago Cards meet Washington.

Detroit, which has had the tag of dark horse hung on it, lost a good opportunity yesterday when it bowed to Los Angeles, 27-21. Up to yesterday, the Lions had been the only undefeated team in the division, but Bob Waterfield notched 20 points for the winners to crush the Lion hopes.

In other games, the Giants whipped the Chicago Cards, 28-17; the Chicago Bears triumphed over the Yanks, 24-21; San Francisco stopped Pittsburgh, 28-24; Cleveland ripped Wasington, 45-0, and Green Bay thrashed Philadelphia 37-24.

The Giants, behind 17-14 after three periods, had their troubles with the Cards. But after having their air attack bottled up, the new Yorkers resorted the ground, and Eddie Price and Kyle Rote carried the mail over to wrap it up.

The Bears were sailing along experiencing no trouble with the Yanks until the final minutes, when Jimmy Phelan's tailenders went on a binge and scored three times. Bob Celeri, substitute back, passed for one and set up another, but time ran out.

RALLY

San Francisco had to come from behind a 10-7 halftime deficit, with Frankie Albert pitching from all angles, scored three times in the third period to crush the Steelers.

The defending champion Browns, who have had their troubles at times, slaughtered the Redskins, although Washington did not help its own cause. Four of the Redskins fumbles promptly were converted by the Browns, into touchdowns, and one into a field goal.

Taylor Says Beavers Just 'Ran out of Gas'

CORVALLIS, (AP)—Oregon State's Beavers were back home today—talking about the victory that might have been over Southern California Saturday.

The Trojans overcame a 14-0 first quarter Oregon State lead to win, 16-14, on a last period field goal. But the Beavers and their followers never will stop questioning the officials' decision on the play that gave the Trojans their second touchdown.

In the third period, with OSC ahead, 14-6, USC had the ball on the OSC 14-yard line, fourth down and goal to go. Quarterback Frank Gifford faded to pass, then changed his mind and started to run. After it appeared to many press box observers he had crossed the scrimmage line, he stopped and passed into the end zone to a teammate, end Bob Buckley.

ONE BEHIND

Gifford converted, leaving the Trojans one point beind.

Another controversial play set up the winning field goal. OSC fullback Sam Baker stepped back in punt formation on fourth down, with the ball on the Beaver 26. But he decided to run and was nailed down on the 23.

From there, the Trojans moved to the five, where their drive bogged down. Then Gifford went back to boot the winning field goal.

BLAMES HIMSELF

Coach Kip Taylor took the responsibility for Baker's not punting, saying he gave orders from the bench for him to run, instead. But Baker said later: "It was my fault; I should have punted."

Oregon State outplayed the Trojans in the first half and looked like a sure winner after scoring two touchdowns within 53 seconds during the opening period.

A blocked USC punt recovered by the Beavers on the Trojan 32 set up the first one. Oregon State went over in seven plays, aided by an unnecessary roughness penalty which took the ball to the one. From there, Baker bulled over and end Jim Cordial booted the first of two conversions.

A few seconds later, the Beavers recovered a fumble on the USC 11. They scored one play later on a pass from quarterback Jim Morrow to end John Thomas.

NO ALIBIS

Taylor had no excuses for the defeat. He did not mention that the game was played in temperature of nearly 100 degrees. The Beavers' previous contests have been on cool days.

"We just ran out of gas in the second half," Taylor commented. "It is the first time in my three years at Oregon State that we have."

The Beavers suffered no injuries in the gruelling battle and will start work Monday for their game with Washington State here next Saturday.

TIME OUT!

"Here's Coach—I'm glad I didn't make that costly fumble in Saturday's game!"

JACK O'REILLY hopes to keep the upperhand over Glenn Knox Wednesday night when the two meet in a rematch at the armory. This shot from their first match sow Australian O'Reilly trying to twist Knox's head off. O'Reilly clamored for the rematch when Knox was given a doubtful decision in their first meeting.

Hessel Meets Ghost; O'Reilly Faces Knox

Jack O'Reilly has been drilling on foot-racing and climbing in preparation for his rematch with rough Glen Knox at the armory Wednesday.

O'Reilly lost the first match with skin-headed Knox when he didn't make it back in the ring in time when the two fell from business territory in one of the wildest matches ever to show here.

Knox made it back just under the wire—in 19 seconds.

That's the main event, but the semi-windup may steal a big hunk of interest from the feature match.

The semi pairs the 'Loping Ghost against Gordon Hessel. Hessel is still smarting over his defeat to Knox last week when Referee Danno McDonald gave the New Mexico grappler the fast count.

Hessel intends to vent his anger on the masked Ghost, next to Knox the fans' Number One peeve.

The opener shows Swedish Carl Engstrom, from Chicago, against New Zealand's Jack Carter.

Reserved tickets are on sale at Castleberry's drugs.

Davenport OK

PORTLAND (AP)—Dick Davenport, freshman end for Oregon, injured in the game against Washington here Saturday, was released from a hospital yesterday.

Davenport was carried from the field on a stretcher, and internal injuries were feared. Attendants said, however, that examination showed there was none.
